Funeral of Mrs. Jennina Freeman In Congregational Church Sunday—Junction City News Briefs.

Ogden, Sept. 8.—Commencing this morning Supt. Joseph W. Bailey of the Ogden Rapid Transit company begins the running of the electric cars to North Ogden, the electric line having been fully completed to that point. The line will be completed by the end of this week to the Utah Hot Springs, increasing the electric lines of the company about seven miles.

It is the intention of the management to make the cars to North Ogden a through service starting from the Brown hotel corner, and making the run to the city limits and thence to North Ogden without change. By this means the company will be able to give good quick service to the residents of that part of the county.

STUDENT AID IN INDUSTRIES.

B. Y. U. Faculty Inaugurates New Department—Forest Land Regulations. Special Correspondence.

Provo, Sept. 8.—The Brigham Young University faculty has under way the inauguration of a project that will ultimately prove of great help to the industrial and domestic progress of Provo and Utah county. It is to furnish student aid in the direction of all kinds of mechanical arts and industries—in other words all kinds of help both in labor and construction can be given. From a trades and labor standpoint it will be conceded that the university is a professional work to receive less remuneration than professional tested work. Hundreds of young men and women will have the opportunity to continue or enter school through doing some of this work even during the spare hours of the school day and especially on Saturdays.

Farmers will have the advantage of obtaining vigorous young men to assist in the harvest of their grains, potatoes, beets, etc. Help in general chore and corral work can be obtained and the cleaning of young dairy herds and houses can be arranged for, also odd jobs, such as fall gardening, planting, pruning, budding. In many instances people have fruit and vegetable crops to get up. In all cases this work can be more fully accomplished with student help.

Young men and women will do work of various kinds for their board and lodging. If you are willing to have your plans used for practice, you can have your work done for its use. Now is the time when men must attend to their soil tax assessment. If it is impossible for them to do their own labor, young men are ready with shovels and picks.

In many instances, assistance is acceptable in the bottling of fruit, pickling, making, and in other lines that come under the head of domestic science. A girl could come to you with new ideas in pickle making for instance, and at a nominal price you could be taught as well as assisted in the labor. You can get a young woman who is advanced in the domestic art to help you a day or more with your fall pickling, general sewing, or quilt-making.

People who have not permanent help in the house often wish for some assistance on Saturdays. Girls who are doing their own laundry and who will be glad of such work. Again, when social or religious duties call parents from home in the evening, the school girls in a trustworthy person with whom to leave the children.

Plans are being arranged in the various departments of the arts and trades school to have classes meet on Saturdays when special business will be to do practical work along the line of their instruction. This will include various lines of woodwork, horse-shoeing, house-painting and graining, sign-painting, showcard writing, and window trimming, artistic arrangement work and decorating, fresco painting, kalsomining and whitewashing. This work will be done under professional guidance, which insures its efficiency. At any time after school begins, by visiting, you may see the kind of work that these departments offer.

It may be that we have not mentioned the special kind of work that you wish done but by addressing any member of the committee, you may obtain the information and most likely the help required.

J. M. Nielson, proprietor of the Queen City livery stable, sold his livery plant to William Allied of Spring City.

Zoram Christensen and family and George Larsen and wife have gone to Holbrook, Arizona, where they intend to reside. Mr. Christensen has bought a large ranch there which he intends to work.

BEST GROWING CONTRACTS.

The contracts for acreage for the proposed sugar factory are printed and canvassers are at work receiving signatures for the same. The contract is made with the growers by J. M. Boyd, F. C. Jensen, James Larsen, Peter Sundwall, C. W. Sorenson, Joseph L. Jolley, C. J. Christensen, Andrew Anderson, Simon T. Beck and Thomas D. Rees, as trustees for those who contemplate the erection of the proposed factory.

The grower agrees to plant the sub-scribed acreage for five consecutive years; the seed, preparation of soil and harvesting arrangements are about the same as in other sugar company contracts. The price paid for factory delivery is $4.75 and $4.50 for collecting station delivery $4.50 and $4.25. Dumping stations will be erected where 400 acres of beets are grown tributary to any station. Delivery tests are about as usual; in case of shortage of ears beets may be piled at stations.

The factory, if erected, is to be incorporated according to law with the stock divided into an equal number of shares of preferred stock, common stock and grower's stock. The preferred stock shall be paid a stated annual rate of interest not exceeding 7 per cent. The balance of the net profits shall be paid and distributed to the common stock and the growers' stock as follows:

Each beet grower who produces and furnishes to the company not less than 15 tons of beets shall be entitled to participate in the division of said net profits in the proportion of 150 tons of beets to one share of grower's stock. "It is further provided that in the event a factory cannot be assured by February, 1908, for the handling of the beets in the year 1908 the said party of the first part shall not be required to plant said acreage and this contract shall be null and void."

JURY LIST FOR SEPTEMBER.

Iron County Business—Oil Boom—Fair for Sept. 25.

Special Correspondence.

Parowan, Iron Co., Sept. 6.—Word has been received from George Rasmusen, who has been on a mission in Virginia and has been in the hospital suffering with typhoid fever, that he would be able to start home about the 6th inst.

JURY LIST.

The list of jurors drawn for the September term of court which will commence Sept. 18, follows:
John Horsley, and Thomas Robinson of Paragonah; George F. Taylor, Freeman W. Pondleton, Orson O. Orin, Joseph R. Mortensen, Joseph F. Holyak, E. A. Whitney, William G. Ward, James S. Green and George A. Love of Parawan; Robert F. Bullock, Daniel Haigh, T. J. Jones, Julius T. Rosenburg, Thomas Corlett, C. C. Bladen, Randle W. Lunt, Robert W. Bullock, William A. Schoppmann, Frank Ashcraft and Daniel S. Pondleton of Cedar City; William T. Stapley, Joseph Reeves, William Ford, and James L. Davies of Kanarra; G. F. Ruse of Stetson; William Lund of Modena; and Herbert White of Summit.

IRON COUNTY BUSINESS.

The county commissioners met on the 3rd and transacted the routine business.

George D. Morris was appointed justice of the peace for the Parawan precinct in place of Hans J. Mortensen, resigned.

The claims allowed were nearly all for work done on the road in repairing washouts caused by the recent heavy rains in the canyons. Chairman Hendrickson and Clerk Morris were appointed a committee to arrange for installing the electric lights in the court house.

COUNTY FAIR.

The fair committee and sub-committee are busy making preparations for the county fair to be held here about the 25th inst, and it is their desire to make this one of the best ever held in the county.

OIL BOOM.

The oil boom continues to grow. The county recorder's office is still besieged by location notices waiting to be recorded. The fees for last month were $242.80, the largest amount ever taken in one month. $152 of this amount was for location notices.

Threshing has commenced and grain cutting is still in progress. Crops are exceptionally good excepting fruit, which is almost a failure, and corn and potatoes will be light. Prices on all commodities are higher than for years; native lumber is selling for $20 per thousand; fruit is selling five cents per pound for Dixie fruit, but to offset this there is work on all hands at good wages and not an idle man to be found who wants work.

PAYETTE, IDAHO.

SUGAR HARVEST BEGINS.

Lighter Yield of Beets Than Last Season—Boring for Oil.

Special Correspondence.

Payette, Ida., Sept. 6.—Harvesting of sugar beets in the Payette valley began today. The first beets dug are being hauled to the dumps Durham, Buckingham, Fruitland and Payette. Hauling to other dumps will be begun Monday. From the beginning 600 tons of beets a day will be loaded on the cars. With the remodeled beet dumps unloading will be much easier than before.

It is not expected that the yield will be as large this year as it was last. This is because of the poor growing season. Last year was almost ideal for raising sugar beets. Rains came at the right time and all nature favored the crop. This year was not nearly so favorable. With the increased acreage, however, it is expected that the National factory will have all the beets it can handle.

BORING FOR OIL.

C. W. Taylor, manager of the Oregon Oil & Gas company, which is boring for oil on a strip of land south of the Radio factory, states that water largely polluted with oil, has been struck at a depth of about 90 feet. Gas has also been encountered. He says that the oil is seepage, but is an encouraging indication that a strong flow will be struck at a greater depth. A new 74-foot standard derrick has been built during the last week, as the single pole derrick first installed proved to be incapable of the work. It is expected that work will be pushed without interruption.

DISCOVERS RARE FOSSILS.

Museum of Wyoming University Enriched by Prof. W. H. Reed. Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 7.—Some valuable additions to fossil knowledge have been made by Prof. W. H. Reed, paleontologist of the University of Wyoming, who has just completed extensive research in the "Hell's Half Acre" district of Natrona county, 15 miles south-southwest of Casper. One of the largest fossils unearthed by Prof. Reed is a perfect skull of a cat titanothereum, an animal which became extinct possibly a million years before many of the oldest known fossils were even dreamed of. The Hell's Half Acre also yielded to Prof. Reed a perfect skeleton of a dog of the algonquian tertiary period. This animal was no larger than the average dog of modern times, but was equipped with a much more formidable array of teeth, indicating that it was a ferocious flesh eater. Prof. Reed's most important find is the complete skeleton of a horse no larger than a fox. Every bone of this skeleton is present, and it indicates beyond doubt that the equine race originated in Wyoming. Special Correspondence.

Evanston, Wyo., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Anna E. Bruce and daughter, Anna, of Snake, Utah county, Wyo., who have been confined in the county jail here for some time past, charged with poisoning James Bruce, husband and father of the deceased, were released on bail of $10,000 each. BURIAL OF A PIONEER.

Christopher Jacobs Laid to Rest in Arizona Strip.

Special Correspondence.

Fredonia, Ariz., Sept. 5.—The "Arizona strip" was with a dusk of the evening of Aug. 13, followed by furnishing a temporary resting place for the earthly remains of one of the noble pioneers of Utah, Christopher Jacobs.

When he died Mr. Jacobs was 58 years, 6 months and 3 days old, having been born Feb. 10, 1849, in Norway, from where he emigrated to America at the age of 10 years with his widowed mother.

About 12 years later the gospel found this young man and his mother willing disciples, and they gathered with the saints in Illinois. He was acquainted with the Prophet Joseph and shared in the troubles of Nauvoo. He came to the valley with Charles C. Smith, Oct. 1, 1847, and was ever virtually a pioneer, being among the first to settle Utah county, Cedar city, Tooeville, Panguitch, where he lost his wife, Mary Dodge Jacobs, some 19 years ago. Since losing his wife, Mr. Jacobs has lived with his children, becoming blind and helpless over a year before his death. He was a faithful, honest Latter-day Saint, sacrificing self interests to obey counsel and do good to his fellow man.

He was left an orphan while young but stayed with the body of the Church and came to Utah among the first companies that crossed the plains. He married the daughter of Axel Horn. They lived in Springville, Utah county. He also helped settle up Cache county and later Lake valleys, coming to Arizona in 1880, being among the first settlers of St. David and later to the Alta valley where he has resided ever since. A little over a year ago, Aug. 26, he buried his wife, a loss from which he never recovered.
