

THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

Is Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Primary associations of Pioneer will give a dancing party in the state hall tonight, to which the people of the state generally are invited.

Miss Belle Kearney will lecture this evening, in the Phillips Congregational church on Egypt through which she traveled not long ago.

The Young Women's Christian association committee of organization is meeting this afternoon, in the D. F.
Walker building for the purpose of pushing the work.

The new book entitled "The Japan-Russian War," has been received by the distributor of the "News" and all Daily subscribers entitled to it can obtain it by calling at the business office.

A pile of gravel was left in the road way at Second East and Fifth South streets last night, without any warning lights, and a delivery wagon was broken thereby and the horse slightly hurt.

The 96 normals of the University of Utah will give a grand ball in the museum building, this evening, with these chaperones: Prof. and Mrs. Willard M. Stewart, President and Mrs. Kingsbury, Prof. and Mrs. McElhiney.

Brigham Carter of Nephi, has filed application with the state engineer for three second feet of water from the Duchess river in Wasatch county with a diverting channel 6,000 feet long, which will irrigate 150 acres.

President H. O. Haveney of the American Sugar Refining company, will arrive in Ogden tomorrow morning, and Messrs. Cutler and Eccles will meet him and proceed to visit the Idaho factories, returning south on Sunday or Monday.

James Carr of Bingham, aged 20, was picked up last night, in the Short Line yards where he had fallen in attempting to board the northbound passenger train. His foot was found to be crushed, and he was removed to St.
Mark's hospital where the injured member was amputated.

The board of public works yesterday afternoon awarded the contract for furnishing steel and iron, other than reinforcements for the Big Cottonwood culvert to Silver Bros. Iron Works company upon its bid of $1,580. The supplies consist of manhole coverings and other steel and iron work. Only one bid was received on the supplies.

J. H. Nelson, driver of a Parisian Dye works wagon, drove in front of a streetcar on Second South street near Dubel avenue last evening, and presently described the segment of a circle in the air, landing on his head. He escaped with a bruise on the head. Nelson failed to look to one side to see if any car was approaching, "took chances" and the chance took him.

While the attendance was not large at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the millers at the Commercial club, there were enough to give some idea of the general opinion of the situation. The likelihood of success in perfecting the proposed organization of a stock company taking in the county mills, and as far as could be ascertained the opinion was favorable to the scheme. The matter will continue to be agitated.

There are four sizes of boxes in the new postoffice, instead of two as at present in the old office, and as the manufacturers followed the regular government plan instead of the special plan obtaining in this city, the new boxes do not correspond in size with those in the present office. This has occasioned some confusion, but the acting postmaster is in correspondence with Washington, and it is believed that the situation can be straightened out satisfactorily.

State Supt. of Schools Nelson has received a letter from Prof. L. A. Ostel, who has changed the educational exhibit at Portland, in which an explanation is made in regard to the awards given to Utah schools at the Lewis and Clark exposition. A part of the letter follows: "I have the honor to inform you that the State of Utah has received eight gold medals (highest award), nine silver medals, eight bronze medals, and honorable mention in five other cases.
We have fared well in competition with other States. The three state schools, Ogden and Salt Lake 'drew' gold medals."

The father of Charles W. Foy who died yesterday, at the L. D. S. hospital, wires from Oregon that he would be in the city on Saturday. The old gentleman was under the impression that his son had died 10 years ago, as a body in the Portland morgue was identified by him at that time as his son, and no word had been received from the son in all this time. However descriptions in the dispatches indicate that a mistake had been made, and the father concludes this may be his son after all.
The deceased named his mother as beneficiary of his life insurance in his will, and was much distressed on his dying bed when he learned that his parents doubted his identity.

There will be a "Lilliputian wedding" this evening, in the First Presbyterian church. The bride party will include Misses Katherine Swenzy, Agnes Caffey, Ruth Farnsworth, Evelyn Francis, Priscilla Storch, Jean Hutchinson, Alma McDonald, Ned Critchlow, Donald McMillan, William Igleheart, Jr., Harold McMillan, Donald Coray, Ross Hutchinson, George Igleheart, John Coffey, Andrew Coffey, Bogus Hiegins. The wedding service, which will be held in church, will be read by William Igleheart, Jr., at 8:15 o'clock.
Music for the event will be furnished by a full orchestra and a reception in the church parlors will follow the ceremony. Principals, attendants and ushers will be attired in full evening dress.

TRUANT OFFICERS WILL GET BUSY.

Propose to Round Up Delinquents And Compel Them to Attend School.

MOVE TO ENFORCE THE LAW

Children From 8 to 16 Years of Age Should be Present Thirty Weeks In the Year.

The school officials and the truant officers will the latter part of next week commence a general round-up of children in the city of school age who are not attending school and the compulsory attendance law will be strictly enforced. It is expected that at least 200 children will thus be placed in school at once who are at present working in the large department stores of the city.
An effort will be made to compel every boy and girl in this city between the ages of 8 and 16 years to attend school at least 90 out of the 36 weeks in this school year.

Amendments were made by the last Legislature to the compulsory attendance law. The age limits are now from 8 to 16 years instead of from 8 to 14 as the former law read, and it now compels the attendance of children between those ages at least 30 weeks in this school year instead of 20. As there are only 36 weeks in a school year it will be seen that very little can be done the first six weeks towards enforcing the compulsory attendance law, but those who are not in school at the end of that time can be compelled to go the rest of the year, as they are not exempt at all after six weeks.

The enforcement of the law means that a number of merchants in the city will be obliged to release a large number of boys and girls now working for them and secure other persons to fill their places. Under the juvenile court law any person who employs or causes the employment of a child or non-attendance of a child at school may be adjudged guilty of contributing to the delinquency of such child. This applies not only to the parents of a child who permit it to remain away from school, but also to any person who contributes to its transiency by giving the child employment and thus keeping it away from school.
It will be seen, therefore, that merchants who employ children of school age and keep them away from school may be brought before the juvenile court and charged with contributing to the delinquency of the children and punished accordingly.

It is the intention of the school officials to give the merchants due notice so that they may secure additional help and release the children before they are brought before the juvenile court. It is also their intention to enforce the law and thus increase the attendance in the schools of the city.
