

How we ever got him to the foot of the shaft I never could tell.

I have some faint recollection of hearing a cheer, and seeing the dim light of the chill December day; but the only thing which made any impression upon me was a voice which seemed to be that of Mary Andrews.

And it's not much more that I can recollect, only of being in a wild, feverish state, wandering through dark passages, with fire burning my head, and coal falling always, and ready to crush me; and then I seemed to wake from a dead sleep, and to lie, thinking in a weak, troubled way about getting up.

It was a month, though, before I could do that, and there was a tender one to help me, and a soft cheek ready to be laid to mine; for in those long, weary hours of sickness Mary had been by my side to cheer me back to health, and I learned that I was loved.

It is vain to trust in wrong; as much of evil so much of loss; is the formula of human history.—Theodore Parker.

A girl and a boy went in bathing at Newport. While in the water he proposed marriage, and just at that moment a wave came that doubled him up. When the waters receded she said "Yes." Then there came another wave that used her in the same manner.

When a life insurance agent tackles a Terre Haute man, the latter strikes a position and says: "My life is as a withered tree, not worth insuring." An amateur dramatic association, with "Pizarro" as the opening play, accounts for it.

Seeing upon his wife's shoulder a large shawl-pin, Mr. D— said—"In the military, eh, got to be a captain?"

She instantly remarked, pointing to a third baby in her lap—"No, recruiting sergeant in the third infant-ry."

Since an Iowa judge decided that the Sunday liquor laws bind only the people whose creed recognizes the Christian Sabbath, the Seventh-day Baptist churches in that State are said to be overwhelmed with converts.

There is a man in Portland, Me., who supports his family in handsome style by simply tying an able-bodied cat by the tail to a clothes line every night; and then going out in the morning to collect the soap, shaving-cups, brushes, etc., thrown into the yard by angry boarders in adjoining houses.

A grave-digger, walking in the streets of a small Connecticut town, the other day, chanced to turn, and noticed two doctors walking behind him. He stopped till they passed, and then walked on behind them.

"And why is this?" said they. "I know my place in this procession," said he.

"How dismal you look!" said a bucket to his companion, as they were going to the well.

"Ah!" replied the other, "I was reflecting on the uselessness of our being filled; for, let us go away ever so full, we always come back empty."

"Dear me! How strange to look at it in that way," said the other bucket. "Now I enjoy the thought that, however empty we come, we always go away full. Only look at it in that light, and you'll be as cheerful as I am."

From Athol, Massachusetts, we hear of a good Methodist parson, somewhat eccentric, and an excellent singer. Sunday after Sunday his rich voice came from the pulpit "with the spirit and the understanding." Not so at the other end of the church, where, with abundance of spirit, there was a lamentable lack of the other virtue. In fact, the singing was simply execrable. The good brother could finally endure it no longer, and exclaimed:

"Brothers and sisters, I wish those of you who can't sing would wait until you get to the celestial regions before you try."

The hint was a success.

"What is cerebro spinal meningitis?" is a question which has long puzzled the physicians and the public. A New York physician has answered it so clearly that hereafter there can be no excuse for ignorance of its character or proper treatment. He says it is not "a simple or idiopathic inflammation of the membranes of the brain or spinal cord, nor of typhus fever, nor of pernicious paludal fever, but a substantive disorder, consistent with itself in all material points, with constant symptoms produced by a constant cause, and is entitled to be described and regarded as a distinct disease, whose proper nosological place is among general diseases born of an external morbid poison." Eureka!
