THE NOTTINGHAM CONFERENCE RE-UNION.

The committee of arrangements met yesterday afternoon and unanimously decided to meet for one day's enjoyment at Fuller's Hill Gardens on Monday, August 10th, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all the saints from that district of country, which includes Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Leicestershire. With a view of meeting the wishes and circumstances of all, the following terms were unanimously decided upon:—

1. Those who prefer taking their own picnic can do so, and by paying 10 cents entrance fee they will be entitled to the usual privileges of the Gardens and also to lemonade and refreshments for all the guests, and music for a dance in the evening.

2. For those who do not wish to take picnic, a very good day, arrangements have been made with the proprietor of the Gardens, so that a good substantial tea meal, which we have no doubt will give thorough satisfaction. The tickets will set at 5 o'clock p. m. Tickets for this meal 50 cents each. Ladies carrying lemonade, music, and all the privileges of the garden. Children under 14 years will be admitted for 25 cents each.

It is a well known fact that many of the saints, however well acquainted they may have been in the Old Country with each other, on arriving here in Zion, scatter in all directions and settle down wherever the prospect seems bright. As a consequence, a hundred of instances, old friends and acquaintances become comparatively lost and forgotten to one another. The reunion now contemplated is intended to bring them together again, and to give them an opportunity of seeing each other, and of renewing their friendship towards each other.

The railroad companies having offered a half rate fare to all who wish to attend the memorial services of the late General Grant, the committee decided to take this opportunity, and on Saturday, August 10th, the committee have made arrangements with the C. & N. P. Railroad Company for the tickets of those who wish to attend the reunion to hold good until Tuesday, August 12th.

The reunion, however, will not have either presided over the Nottingham Conference, or of faithfully labored in the ministry there, was naturally feel a warm and affectionate interest towards those whom they have been the happy instruments under God of bringing to a knowledge of the gospel, and who have been so long have fed and sheltered them while laboring in their midst. A most cordial invitation is extended to all such.

A gathering together of such a group cannot fail of accomplishing the happiest results. We have no doubt, therefore, that the reunion committee will find all diligence in making the affair well known in all several localities, so that all who can may have an opportunity of seeing each other. And from all those who are unable, through distance or circumstances, to be present, a few lines of correspondence, expressive of their feelings will be thankfully received and read to those who attend the reunion. Address: George Stringfellow 125 E. 6th South Street.

Refreshments may be purchased at the Gardens. Tickets for "tea meal" may be had from any of the invitation committee, and they will be glad to supply you with a ticket.

The gardens will be open by 10 a. m., and reserved for the Nottingham Conference reunion guests exclusively on Monday, August 10th.

For the benefit of persons who are not able to leave home on Friday, and are anxious to attend the reunion, arrangements have been made with the railroad companies that they may come at half rates from as far north as O. G. and from the south by the U. C. on Sunday night, by presenting invitation cards, which will be furnished by the invitation committee on application.

GEORGE STRINGFELLOW, GEORGE GUDDARD, GEORGE GUDDARD, NELSON A. EMERY, JOSEPH BELL, D. C. DUBNA, Committee.

The Memorial Services.—Last evening the Grant memorial committee held a meeting at which matters relative to the services were discussed. It being stated that orders had been issued that all the troops should be on their parade grounds at a certain hour, and that such action would prevent General McCook and his command from participating with the citizens and G. A. R. at Liberty Park, General McCook was authorized to send the following telegram:—

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, July 31, 1885. To the Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

Strictly confiding General Sheridan's order of July 28d, relating to the order of the day to be observed on the day of the Grant observance, General McCook feels that he has no right to join with his command the procession and solemn exercises of the day with the citizens, and as it is prior to the order he proposed to do. Will you kindly inform him in such restriction was intended. Respectfully, P. E. CONNOR, Marshal of the Day.

In the event of an unfavorable answer being received, Gen. Connor was empowered to ask the special permission of the Secretary of War for Gen. McCook to take part.

The report of the committee on programme and order of exercises was read, and some slight alterations made, one being the substitution of Hon. John T. Caine for an address, in place of Prof. T. B. Lewis, after which the programme was adopted.

An estimate was made, placing the expense attending the services, at about $200,000, and the committee adjourned subject to call of the chairman.

A telegram was received from Washington stating that the orders of the military must be obeyed, and that General McCook and his command cannot take part with the citizens.

Lost in the Hills.—On Wednesday last a gentleman named Beck, about 80 years of age, who lives at Butlerville, near the mouth of Big Cottonwood Canon, went out for a walk along the hill near the house, and lost his way.

Search was instituted by his family and friends, and continued until yesterday morning, when the missing man returned himself, in a very weak condition. He had wandered around among the hills for two days and two nights, and had several times heard his searching call on him, but was too weak to make his answer heard, and too exhausted to go to the place whence the sound proceeded, and continued walking as his failing strength would permit, until finally he came in sight of his home.

City Directory.—"Croft's Salt Lake City Directory for 1885-86" is now out of the press, and is being delivered to subscribers. This book is in fact the only exclusive city directory published here since 1869, and contains 7,100 names, nearly 1,000 more than the last directory. In addition to a very complete directory of the city, the book contains a large amount of information pertaining to the city government, post office, fire department, amusements, cemeteries, hospitals, educational institutions, churches, meeting houses, schools, libraries, water works, and other public buildings, etc. There is also a list of the officers and men of the Sixth Infantry, stationed at Fort Douglas, and a business directory of Salt Lake. Price $2.50.

Dan's Sully's Corner Grocery.—This domestic comedy, as played by Mr. Sully 150 nights in New York City, will be produced at the Salt Lake Theatre on Tuesday evening for the first time here. The box office opens on Monday morning for the sale of reserved seats. See advertisement in another column.

A ROW.—Last evening a telephone message was received at the City Hall stating that a row had taken place between two families in the 10th ward, Coon and Leslie, and that the noise could be heard at the depot, two and a half blocks distant. The officers found the parties, placing two of them, David Coon and Thomas Leslie, under arrest, the former for battery and the latter for disturbing the peace. The fuss commenced by Leslie going to his door at about half-past nine and calling to Lina Coon, who was in the open air singing "A good song, but kind of monotonous," and telling her to stop, as his children could not go to sleep. Sharp words followed, in which the girl's mother, Mrs. Coon, joined. David Coon then made his appearance, and charged Leslie with insulting his mother and sister, and the two men began a rough and tumble fight, during which Mrs. Coon secured a rod from a wagon and beat Leslie over the head, the neighborhood meanwhile being aroused by the yells and shouts of the combatants, male and female. Coon was arraigned before Justice Speirs, and pleaded guilty to battery but claimed he was justified. The case of Leslie was being examined when we went to press.

TRIP IN THE MOUNTAINS.—Dr. J. R. Paik and Professors J. B. Toronto, Orson Howard and J. H. Paul returned on Thursday evening from a most interesting and enjoyable trip of three weeks' duration to the distant mountains. They followed the route Weber until near the head of the stream, a distance of 50 miles from here, where they left their two wagons and traveled thence on horseback and with pack animals in a south westerly direction. They arrived at Reed's Peak, or Mt. Agassiz, one of the highest mountain peaks in the Territory. Around the base of this mountain they found a series of lakes, from which the Weber, Timpanogas, Dahe and Bear rivers take their rise, and a great many other lakes in the vicinity that have no outlet. It is a most romantic country, well-timbered and abounding in such game as deer, elk and prairie chickens. One of the objects of this trip was to botanize that region, and they did pretty thoroughly clear to the top of Mount Agassiz, bringing back with them a fine collection of the flora of the country.

Killing of Thomas Smith.—We published a few days since an account of a terrible tragedy which occurred on Tuesday morning last in the hills near Burnt Fork in Wyoming Territory. The following additional particulars appear:—

It appears that Thomas Smith, who was working in the hills getting out timber, accused a man by the name of John King of stealing an axe, some tools, and some other articles, and the latter was apparently dropped. This was on Monday, the 27th ult.

On Tuesday morning, just at sunrise, while Smith was in the act of preparing his breakfast, he was shot by King, who was a long rifle shot, and he was fired, two of which took effect, one entering just below the right shoulder blade and lodging somewhere in his body, the other entered the body about three inches from the spinal column.

A little above the hip, and coming out on the left side, near the lower part of the abdomen. A young man by the name of Lars Anderson, who was a little distant from Smith, also received a shot in the upper part of his thigh, resulting in a bad flesh wound. This is supposed to have been an accidental shot as it is not believed that King designed to shoot Anderson. Anderson, though severely wounded, made out to camp a distance of four miles and got some assistance to look after the matter.

In the meantime Smith had dragged himself fully two miles from the scene of the homicide. Here he was met by his wife and others, and though everything was done that could be expected in about two hours afterwards. He was conveyed to the hospital, and given minute instructions in relation to several matters, among which was how his body should be clothed for burial.

A coroner's inquest was held, and a verdict rendered according to the facts as stated above. A posse of men, accompanied by some Indians, started in pursuit of the murderer, who had left for parts unknown. Smith's body was brought to his old home at Union Ward in this country, and the funeral services were held in the meeting house there yesterday, after which the interment was made in the South Cottonwood cemetery.

Believes a wife (an adopted daughter) of Bishop (Isabel Phillips) and five small children. The deceased bore the reputation of being an honorable, honest, young man, and a peaceable citizen, which makes his sad ending all the more strange.

Young Anderson remained behind in the care of a doctor, and it is confidently expected that he will soon recover from his wound.
