formity with the peace meetings which were being held in all parts of the United States. He said: "The or-ganizations of our Church can well afford to devote one meeting to the consideration of this subject as a mani-festation of our willingness and abili-ty to unite with our fellows in the gaining of peace. The Latter-day Saints want peace. We are the her-alds of peace and we hope for the time when the nations shall beat their swords into plow shares and pruning hooks as spoken of by the ancient prophet. Therefore when this subject is to be considered we stand identified with it." He said he did not, how-ever, agree with the acclamations for peace which were without reason but helieved that peace would come when the nations dealt justly with each oth-er-when laws would all be just and there would be sufficient power behind the laws to put them in force. He paid a high compliment to the women of the land for baying insti-gated the peace movement and re-minded them that it was to a woman, Mary, after His resurrection. He gave the first great message of peace when he referred to His disciples as His brethren, thereby teaching the broth-erhood of man.

Steel rail mills have all the orders they can attend to until late in the year, but the Japanese agents said they must have the rails, and placed their order, though they paid the highest export price in many years. One car company received an order for 1,000 freight car trucks, the bodies of which will be built in Dainy. Over $2,000,000 have been spent with American locomotive building companies, and almost every steamship from Pacific ports has one or more locomotives bave been sold to the South Manchurian railroad. Japanese agents here indicate that $5,000,000 will have to be spent for rails in this country before the rail-road in Manchuria is completed.
