LOCAL BRIEFS.

This was pay day of Fort Douglas and the members of the two remaining companies were accordingly busy.

The City Mattress Factory company has written to Secretary Davis of D. A. & M. society asking for permission to display its goods at the fall fair.

The pleasure seeking people of Salt Lake City will no doubt be pleased to learn that the great lake of Calvary Park is still open for swimming and boat sport. A beautiful electric fountain will be placed in the center of the lake.

The people who travel about First South and East Temple streets are a group of men quickly poised to make repairs on the much damaged pavement at that point. Culmer and Bates are doing the work.

The board of education will tonight, without fail, it is said, elect a superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the removal of Mr. Miller. It is further stated that an outside candidate will be chosen and that Prof. Coker will be the man.

The general service over the remains of Thomas J. P. D. John, ex-president of the De Paul university, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Morton was one of the old timers in Salt Lake, and in his 67th year was buried in his home in Farmers ward last Saturday.

In a few brief words the retiring chief thanked the donors and then the men broke ranks.

CHIEF HILTON IS NOW IN CHARGE

Installs Himself at the Head of the Police Department.

MAKES A TALK TO THE MEN.

Chief Pratt Presented With a Gold Watch Guard and Locket—Also Makes a speech.

Chief Hilton met with his men yesterday afternoon on the occasion of his taking the reins of office relinquished by Chief Pratt in the morning.

The new chief gave his men an insight into his future policy with regard to the force and also told them just what was expected of them, emphasizing the fact that above all things there must be mutual trust among the members of the force.

He also made a talk to the men on the part of Chief Hilton who proceeded to instruct them as to their duty towards the public whose servants they were. He went on to state, "You have a right to consideration at your hands, but you should never allow yourself to be taken in making an arrest or to be forced to do so by anyone other than your superior officer." He also told them that each constable should be absolute proof and not based on what he may have said or believed. My command with the police force in the past has been to do our duty to the best of our ability, and if we work together we should and must harmony will prevail throughout.

When the new chief had concluded his remarks ex-chief Pratt appeared upon the scene and saluted the favor of his former chief, and the two men with whom he has been associated in the past, Mr. Pratt in a few words paid a glowing tribute to the personnel of the force, and the chief himself, everything taken into consideration, he said, had never blamed him in his selection.

Deek Sergeant Livingston stepped forward and presented a small parcel, in a token gift spirit, presented the outline gold watch, chain and pocket, a piece of art set in semi-precious stone, and a certificate of appreciation. "Presented to Prof. Arthur Pratt by the Salt Lake police force," April 1, 1900.

It was said, he was a little nervous from the members of the force at the moment of their esteem and respect, but the speaker was one of the first to accept the gift in that hand, and said, "I hope the influence of this will be felt in the future."

In a few brief words the retiring chief thanked the donors and then the men broke ranks.
