

CHARLES B. WAITE

CHIEF IN CHARGE

Former Justice of Territorial Supreme Court of Utah Succumbs to Pneumonia.

WELL KNOWN IN EARLY 60'S.

Was Requested to Resign His Office And Retired from This Territory in 1864.

Chicago, March 25.—Charles B. Waite, 85 years old, for more than 65 years a resident of Chicago, court associate of Abraham Lincoln, territorial judge in Utah for years, and an author and linguist of distinction is dead here of pneumonia.

Mr. Waite's greatest fame came to him through his book, "A History of the Christian Religion in the First Two Centuries."

This work has run through six editions in America and has been translated into French and German for use in the universities of those countries. It was also translated into Norwegian by Bjorne Bjornsen. Among other works of Judge Waite are, "Herbert Spencer and His Critics," and "The Comparative Study of Ten Languages." He could read that number of languages and spoke five fluently.

Mr. Waite was married in 1858 to Catherine Von Vlakenberg, who survives him. Five children also survive. They are, Mrs. Jessie Wright, Washington, D. C.; Dr. L. D. Waite, Chicago; Mrs. Mary Thornton, Chicago; C. L. Waite, Denver, and Joseph Waite, Chicago.

Charles B. Waite's activities in Utah first assumed prominent proportion in 1862, when Governor Stephen S. Harding had lately assumed office under the president's appointment. At that time Justice Waite, with Justice Thomas J. Drake and Chief Justice Kinney composed the territorial supreme court. Mr. Justice Waite arrived in Utah, July 11, 1862, and on July 24, of the same year, took a part in the celebration held by the members of the church. At that time, Justice Waite, with Justice Thomas J. Drake and Chief Justice Kinney composed the territorial supreme court. Mr. Justice Waite arrived in Utah, July 11, 1862, and on July 24, of the same year, took a part in the celebration held by the members of the church. At that time, Justice Waite, with Justice Thomas J. Drake and Chief Justice Kinney composed the territorial supreme court.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

So temperate did the attitude of the justice become, that during the legislative session of 1863-1864, which opened in December of the first mentioned year, he was requested to resign his office, in resolution adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution also asked that the resignation be requested of the justice. Mr. Justice Waite, in reply, said that he was not prepared to resign his office, and that he would continue to serve the people of the territory. He was marked by manifestations of his ill-will.

THE ALMOST

CAME BLOWS

Byrd of Mississippi and Fordney Of Michigan While Latter Was Speaking on Tariff.

MR. HUMPHREYS ON LUMBER.

Washington Representative Took Issue With Payne as to Number of Orientals in Mills.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—Through a misunderstanding Representative Byrd of Mississippi and Representative Fordney of Michigan almost came to blows on the floor of the house today while the latter was making a speech on the tariff.

When the tariff bill was laid before the house today, Mr. Humphreys of Washington, took issue with some statements made by Mr. Payne in his opening speech regarding the number of orientals engaged in the lumber mills in British Columbia. Mr. Payne had said that he thought there were never orientals working there than in the state of Washington. That statement was erroneous, he said. He declared that over 50 per cent of the men engaged in the lumber and shingle mills of British Columbia were orientals, and were paid lower wages than American mill laborers and that therefore the cost of production was less.

Out of the 15,000 men employed in the shingle mills of Washington, Mr. Humphreys said there were but 10,000 men. He also said that of the 10,000 men employed in the lumber and shingle industry of that state there were but 1,500 orientals.

Mr. Humphreys in pleading for an increased duty on shingles, warned the Republicans that they could not escape their responsibility as far as the problem of oriental labor was concerned.

"Now," he said, "we have an opportunity to see whether or not we are going back on what we have said about protecting the labor of this country from the ruinous competition of foreign countries."

While the Payne bill, he said, has protected the industries of New England, Pennsylvania and New York and they were not in question, but in Washington the conditions were exactly the reverse.

"Our mills are closing," he said, "and they are being thrown out of employment."

He recounted the benefits derived under the Dingley bill and inquired how, as a Republican and a protectionist, could he go back to his constituents and say that the Payne bill was better than the Dingley bill.

On the authority of Mr. Fordney of Michigan, the Washington member said that the witnesses before the committee on ways and means, who testified under oath, were men, who were not in the lumber trade, but who were in the timber, while those who asked for the retention of the Dingley duty were men interested in timber in the United States.

"We ought not to hesitate long when the question is presented," he said, "for whom we shall legislate."

RENEWED VIGOR IN

CONSERVING RESOURCES

Washington, March 25.—The work of conserving the nation's natural resources will be continued with renewed vigor, notwithstanding the fact that Congress adopted an amendment to the civil service cutting off the appropriation of the national conservation commission.

Through private contributions, national headquarters with Thomas R. Phipps, secretary in charge of the joint committee on conservation representing the states and nation, have been established here for carrying forward the work of the conservation commission.

President Taft intends to ask Congress for an appropriation for the work of the commission.

MODEST SUMMER COAT.

New York, March 25.—Two hundred old merchants tailors on their way to their various homes today after attending the American style and fashion show which closed last night. Lectures on summer styles were an important part of the closing sessions.

The model summer coat, said a lecturer, is not a coat with no lining except the pockets. Each pocket hangs loose on the inside of the coat and we do not ask our heavy-weight customers to encase themselves in a wadding as we used to do. While the dressmakers are tempting fate by putting 600 practical buttons on a single gown, we are reducing the number of buttons that we wear on our coats. Here are handsome summer coats with buttons that do not button at all. In the old days men were so crazy about style that they were willing to wear the so-called Prince Albert coats that buttoned like a vice. For this year we make clothing that is easy to get into, easy to wear and easy to get out of.

KING PETER WILL ASSENT

TO GEORGIA'S RESIGNATION

Belgrade, March 25.—As soon as Crown Prince George informs his father, King Peter, that in his wish to retain his right of succession to the Serbian throne the king will assent and will ask parliament to sanction a proclamation declaring his second son, Alexander, to be heir to the throne.

NOTE TO BE BURIED

WITH MRS. LORILLARD

Washington, March 25.—Nothing so sensational as the suicide here yesterday by asphyxiation of Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Jr., the wife of the tobacco magnate, has occurred in the national capital for years. The prominence of the family and the mystery surrounding the tragic affair lend peculiar interest to the case.

Coroner Nevitt said today that he had the sealed envelope which Mrs. Lorillard left pinned to her clothing and read:

"To be buried with me unopened," as well as another envelope which was left in the room, containing a note, but he says he will not make public the contents of either because he has been requested not to do so.

Papal arrangements have not been completed. Interment will be at Arlington, N. Y.

MRS. BOYLE LIKES

PROVIN QUARTERS

Woman Who Planned Willie Whitla's Capture Says, "Really, it Is Pleasant Here."

HER FATHER GRIEF STRICKEN

He Is William McDermott, a Retired Member of the Chicago Fire Department.

Pittsburg, March 25.—A conference is being held here by Chief of Police Sean of Sharon and Sheriff Chase of Mercer county as to the next move to be made in the Willie Whitla kidnapping case. James Boyle and his wife, the abductors, who were brought to the Allegheny county jail from Cleveland, Ohio, last evening, enjoyed a good night's rest. Mrs. Boyle seemed greatly pleased with her headquarters and said this morning:

"Really, it is pleasant here."

Boyle, too, apparently rested well last night and was refreshed this morning. Unlike his vivacious wife, however, Boyle's demeanor is morose.

According to reports today the prisoners will be taken to Mercer county this afternoon.

For the purpose of averting any unpleasantness the Boyles will not be taken to Sharon but will go direct to the jail at Mercer, Pa. It is said this morning that the abductors were brought to this city last night and that the trip to Mercer could be made in daylight. It is intimated that the officers feared attempted violence at Sharon or Mercer should the prisoners arrive at night.

Chicago, March 25.—That William McDermott, a retired member of the Chicago fire department is the father of "Mrs. James H. Boyle," who with her husband is charged with the kidnapping of Willie Whitla, was confirmed by the grief-stricken father today.

Anna McDermott, according to her father, was one of the prettiest, one of the brightest children in the neighborhood when a child. She was given credit for advancement in school and moral training, but as she approached womanhood she fell into company of which the old fireman did not approve. Questions were frequent, and about three years ago Anna eloped. Since that time her history has been a blank to her Chicago kin. Even the name of the man with whom she met her fortune was unknown to them.

Mr. McDermott has two other daughters who are married.

Chicago, March 25.—Mr. McDermott said today:

"She has left the path of rectitude and brought disgrace upon us. I shall do nothing for her."

It was not only at the McDermott home that "Mrs. Boyle" was recognized. Her identification as Anna McDermott was illuminating to followers of pugilism. After she left school, she was left home as she worked as a stenographer for "Doc" Messinger, known for years as a fight promoter. Among her friends of that day were Howard Carr, better known as "Kid" McCoy, and a fight promoter. After she left Messinger's employ, however, she was heard of infrequently.

According to the statement of the father she eloped after a second son of his was discovered in this city, and at Finsawa academy near Madison, Wis. During the three years the girl had been away from home only one communication had been received. A year ago she called her father up on the telephone and said:

"I have been married to a New York millionaire, papa."

Recognizing the voice Mr. McDermott hesitated the receiver and said he did not wish to hear anything more from her.

One of "Mrs. Boyle's" sisters is Mrs. J. J. Obermeyer of Indiana. The other is Mrs. O. B. Halligan of Princeton, Ind.

A POKER GAME.

Man Had Too Many Aces and Got Two Bullets.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 25.—A poker game at Clairton, a few miles from here, broke up about midnight after a second ace of diamonds was discovered in the deck. Peter Marsh, who held the two aces of hearts and an ace of clubs, in the McKeesport hospital with two bullet holes in his lungs. It is now known that there were seven others in the room at the time this hand was held and six of them were hurt by the bullets. The man who is said to have done the shooting, on having his lack of luck, escaped.

ONEILIN M. CARTER VERY ILL.

Chicago, March 25.—Oberlin M. Carter, former captain of the United States army, is seriously ill of pneumonia at his home in Chicago. Mr. Carter recently contracted a severe cold and symptoms of pneumonia developed soon after.

DUKE OF THE ABRUZZI

SAILS FOR BAMBAY

Marsellus, March 25.—The Duke of the Abruzzi left here today on the steamer Oceanic for Bombay, whence he will proceed to the Himalaya mountains.

GOVERNOR NAMES MEN

SENATE TURNED DOWN

Candland and Thain for Land Board And Alexander and Jensen to Optometry Board.

In two special proclamations issued today, Governor William Spry appointed two of the members of the state land board commission and the two members of the optometry board whom the legislature refused to confirm.

Governor Spry says he has confidence in the honesty and integrity of W. H. Candland of Mt. Pleasant and W. H. Thain of Logan, and for this reason he appoints them again as state land commissioners. Further he states that if senators agreed to confirm the appointments before the legislature adjourned.

Governor Spry appointed T. J. Alexander and H. O. Jensen, both of Salt Lake on the state board of optometry. For this reason he re-appoints them.

THE

Saturday News

TOMORROW

Will contain among other features, the first of an illustrated series of

A SALT LAKER ABROAD.

Other timely topics will include: Million Dollar Pease Garden Hobby of London's Pease-Lover, Illustrated, War on the English "Work-shy," Doomed Henceforth to Toil, Illustrated. Kipling says he would like to kill the man who wrote "The Absent-Minded Beggar," American Women to Churn King Edward Back to Health, New Zealand and the Latter-Day Work Among the Maoris, Illustrated. Frank G. Carpenter writes an interesting illustrated article on Young Japan. The Army and the New Secretary of War, Illustrated. London Dramatic Letter, etc.

HELEN GLADYS

EMERY'S ROMANCE

Anew She Is Proving That the Course of True Love Did Never Yet Run Smooth.

WILL WED JAPANESE LOVER.

Large Crowd at Portland Depot Disappointed in Not Being Able to Give Them Warm Reception.

Portland, Ore., March 25.—Helen Gladys Emery, youngest daughter of Archbishop John Emery of the diocese of California who is to marry Gungiro Aoki, a Japanese and former servant in her father's home, slipped into Portland very quietly this morning with her mother and a friend who met them at Salem. Aoki was not with them.

Consistent of the bitter feeling which the proposed marriage of the Japanese and white woman had aroused in this city and of the possibility of a warm reception being accorded them at the union depot a friend of the Emerys went to Salem last night and awaited the arrival of the train this morning.

Enroute to the city the friend explained the situation and on his advice they left the train before it reached the union depot, going to a more or less obscure hotel where they had breakfast. Immediately after breakfast they went for an automobile ride and arrived at the union depot just in time to hurry aboard the Northern Pacific train for Tacoma, where it is presumed they will meet the Japanese lover of Miss Emery.

Mrs. Emery states positively that the ceremony will occur, that nothing now need interfere with the marriage of her daughter to her former servant. Whether the ceremony will occur in Tacoma or in some nearby town has not been determined. The wishes of the bride are now in Tacoma, will govern the matter.

It was a good thing for the Emerys that they did not leave the train at the union depot. A large crowd of people was on hand to receive them, and as it was generally supposed that the Japanese bride was coming, the crowd was very large. The bride and her mother, however, were not recognized by the crowd. The crowd could not understand the situation and it was some time before the bride was recognized by the crowd. The bride and her mother, however, were not recognized by the crowd. The crowd could not understand the situation and it was some time before the bride was recognized by the crowd.

LUCKY FOR EMERY.

Washington, March 25.—A fruitful source of the spread of tuberculosis among the students at the various Indian schools is the careless use by them of handkerchiefs in the service bands. It has been learned through an investigation by the bureau of Indian affairs that the students of these schools are using handkerchiefs from one to another. Orders have been issued that the use of these instruments be discontinued and that they have been thoroughly disinfected.

HARRIMAN CHANGES PLANS.

San Francisco, March 25.—E. H. Harriman and Louis Hill, president of the great Northern railway, who left for Europe on an early hour this morning for Del Monte, changed their plans enroute and decided not to make a stop there, but to proceed north to Burlington without delay. The party is due at Burlington shortly before noon.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

New York, March 25.—If statistics of New York charity organizations may be taken as an indication that business conditions are becoming rapidly better with a consequent decrease of any army of the unemployed and a betterment of the condition of the poor. According to the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, proposals for work or other aid have fallen off 50 per cent during the last month. But a single applicant presented himself yesterday afternoon, while six weeks ago the office of the bureau was literally jammed with unemployed.

A KIDNAPING SCARE.

New York, March 25.—A letter from supposed kidnappers in which the White Kidnapping Company had been secured by the family of 4-year-old Tony Rodes, who mysteriously disappeared from in front of his home in Seventy-seventh street on February 12. This is the letter, which arrived yesterday:

"Just because you have that foolish, stubborn character and offered $50 for your boy, you will never see him again. Think a little of that kidnapping in Sharon. After this you will hear from us."

COL. ALONZO RIDLEY DEAD.

Tempe, Ariz., March 25.—Col. Alonzo Ridley is dead here, aged 82 years. He was one of the earliest settlers of Arizona. He fought through the Civil war and attained the rank of colonel in the Confederate army. He refused to sign a parole and went to Mexico and fought with Maximilian. He was one of the best known characters in the southwest.

NEW MAN RECEIVES

"INFAR ANIMUS"

Wants to Know Why Fight Is Being Made on Him in School Board.

WHY SON'S NAME IS CHANGED

Hounded by Collection Agencies He Did It in Self Protection—Wants Facts Known.

"I do not know why this fight is being made on me," said William J. Newman today, speaking of the newspaper reports connecting his name with alleged irregularities in the payrolls of the public schools. Mr. Newman is a member of the board of education from the Third municipal ward, and has served several consecutive terms, having each time been returned with little opposition.

"The animus back of the whole affair is entirely unwarranted and manifestly unjust," continued Mr. Newman. "I knew that one of my sons, and one only, was working for the superintendent of construction under an assumed name, or rather using but part of his own name. David Crockett, the son of my wife, was working with me. The reason for this was as follows: A certain collecting agency of this city secured a default judgment against him, irregularly secured in Murray. The boy had been in the city for some time, but was not in a position to carry the case to the higher courts. The agency hounded him constantly, and succeeded in driving him from several homes. Finally, he was driven to work with his brother on school buildings, and to avoid having his wages attached the money was drawn as 'Theo. Newman & Bro.' When I learned of this state of affairs I told my son that such a procedure would not do, and that it was not right. He reminded me of the fact that he was doing it only to protect himself from being robbed, and he said that therefore he would draw the money from his name and be known on the payroll as David Crockett. I neither advised nor acquiesced in the arrangement, simply telling him that he would have to stand upon his own responsibility."

WHAT HE TOLD SUPERINTENDENT.

"I want to say that I knew absolutely nothing of any other use of name working for the board under assumed names. I knew that some of them at times worked for the board. I suggested to the superintendent that it was extremely difficult for the construction department to obtain workmen when urgently needed. On several such occasions my boys have been importuned to again go to work on school buildings. I decided it was to avoid criticism that might follow that their real names were not given. It seems that there has been no charge made that their work was not satisfactory nor that they did not earn their money. The whole matter, however, was something with which I had nothing to do, and, furthermore, was beyond my knowledge. Some of the boys are married and have families. I naturally accepted work where it was offered them. I have had and have still nothing to conceal, and I have acted honestly and conscientiously in all my dealings. It has been discovered that these instruments are fertile harboring places for tuberculosis bacilli and the disease is spread by the students passing the handkerchiefs from one to another. Orders have been issued that the use of these instruments be discontinued and that they have been thoroughly disinfected."

FRUITFUL SOURCE OF

SPREAD OF TUBERCULOSIS

Washington, March 25.—A fruitful source of the spread of tuberculosis among the students at the various Indian schools is the careless use by them of handkerchiefs in the service bands. It has been learned through an investigation by the bureau of Indian affairs that the students of these schools are using handkerchiefs from one to another. Orders have been issued that the use of these instruments be discontinued and that they have been thoroughly disinfected.

HARRIMAN CHANGES PLANS.

San Francisco, March 25.—E. H. Harriman and Louis Hill, president of the great Northern railway, who left for Europe on an early hour this morning for Del Monte, changed their plans enroute and decided not to make a stop there, but to proceed north to Burlington without delay. The party is due at Burlington shortly before noon.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

New York, March 25.—If statistics of New York charity organizations may be taken as an indication that business conditions are becoming rapidly better with a consequent decrease of any army of the unemployed and a betterment of the condition of the poor. According to the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, proposals for work or other aid have fallen off 50 per cent during the last month. But a single applicant presented himself yesterday afternoon, while six weeks ago the office of the bureau was literally jammed with unemployed.

A KIDNAPING SCARE.

New York, March 25.—A letter from supposed kidnappers in which the White Kidnapping Company had been secured by the family of 4-year-old Tony Rodes, who mysteriously disappeared from in front of his home in Seventy-seventh street on February 12. This is the letter, which arrived yesterday:

"Just because you have that foolish, stubborn character and offered $50 for your boy, you will never see him again. Think a little of that kidnapping in Sharon. After this you will hear from us."

COL. ALONZO RIDLEY DEAD.

Tempe, Ariz., March 25.—Col. Alonzo Ridley is dead here, aged 82 years. He was one of the earliest settlers of Arizona. He fought through the Civil war and attained the rank of colonel in the Confederate army. He refused to sign a parole and went to Mexico and fought with Maximilian. He was one of the best known characters in the southwest.

MAN GOVERNSORS

MAY BE PRESENT

Col. F. M. Sterrett Receives Assurances in Reply to Grand Army Invitations.

MORE RESERVATIONS ASKED

Connecticut, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania Send Request For Accommodations.

In response to invitations sent out asking them to be present on the occasion of the great parade of Civil war veterans at the forty-third annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in this city April 2, a number of governors of different states have written Col. Sterrett advising him that they would do everything possible to so arrange their affairs that they might be able to be in Salt Lake at the time named. Letters of this character were received this morning from Gov. Burke of North Dakota, Acting Gov. M. E. Hays of Washington, Gov. Edwin L. Norris of Montana, Gov. B. B. Brooks of Wyoming, and Gov. Ashton C. Shallenbough of Nebraska.

Replying to these favorable expressions, Col. Sterrett intimated a few lines, thanking the various executives and assuring them that their presence in this city on the occasion named, when President Taft and Commander-in-Chief Nevin would review the parade, would be much appreciated.

Since this morning received requests for reservations for 11 rooms at the Wilson hotel from Philip S. Chase, commander of the department of Connecticut; four rooms are asked for at the Golden by Frank Batley of the department of New Hampshire, and for several more rooms at the Wilson from Charles A. Sydnal, commander of the department of Pennsylvania.

These are but a few of the many requests asked for already, and each request is being attended to in the order in which it is received.

RICHFIELD CO. CIL

BANISHES SALOONS

On and After April 1 There Will Be No Liquor Sold in Sevier County Seat.

(Special to the "News.")

Richfield, March 25.—The feelings of the members of the Richfield city council regarding prohibition were expressed very forcibly at a meeting last evening, when two applications for licenses were presented. The council discussed pro and con but when the matter was presented for vote, the majority of the council voted no license. Accordingly, on the 26th of March, the city of Richfield will be "dry" on and after April 1.

PROHIBITION DEBATE.

Milwaukee to Be Scene of Oratorical Contest This Evening.

(Special to the "News.")

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—The first of a series of three national debates on the prohibition question will take place in Milwaukee this evening, between Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee and Prof. Samuel A. Dickie of Albion, Mich. Prof. Dickie will argue that prohibition is a social evil and that it is necessary to take the negative side and try to show that prohibition is wrong. Later on another debate on the same subject between the same men will probably be held in Chicago, and the third one will probably be held in St. Louis. The cities of the south, but the places for the next two debates have not yet been decided.

In the three debates, which are to be held, Prof. Dickie will act as the representative of the National Prohibition party. He is president of the Albion college in Michigan and is said to be the most eloquent debater in the country. Mayor Rose recently visited in the Model League in Louisville. It was during this address that he challenged the National Prohibition party to select a representative to debate with him on the prohibition question. On his return home, the prohibitionists promptly sent him a letter naming him whether the newspapers had correctly quoted him or not. Mayor Rose was immediately chosen, and the three debates were arranged.

The discussions are attracting a great deal of attention, not only in prohibition circles, but among those who are opposed to prohibition. There are probably no two men in the country who are better qualified to debate the subject than Mayor Rose and Dickie. One of the local judges will probably be asked to preside at the meeting and act as moderator.

BOOTHS NEARLY ALL TAKEN.

Promoters of Prosperity Fair Feel That Success Is Assured.

A meeting of the Manufacturers' association was held last evening at the office of the company, at which arrangements for the forthcoming industrial fair were discussed.

It was reported that five new members had joined during the week. They are, Tribune-Reporter Printing company, Jensen Grocery company, W. L. Wertheimer company, and E. E. Knitting Works.

The following members were elected, to fill for the first vacancy on the board: J. A. Hyde of the Nephthys paper company, J. E. Jensen of the Jensen Grocery company, H. L. Harrington of the Utah Canning company, and H. E. Jones of the Model Knitting Works.

The places, which are many and valuable, will be placed in the show windows of Z. C. M. L. Auerbach and Keith O'Brien's early next week. The fair will be open to the public on Saturday, over which the money at the fair are feeling jubilant, as its success is now assured.

ILLINOIS BANK ROBBED.

Edinburgh, Ill., March 25.—The bank of Watson, Ill., a small village south of Havana, was robbed early today. Particulars are lacking.

The robbers secured $5,000 in cash and about $5,000 worth of valuable papers. Blood money have been placed on the trail of the robbers.

While escaping the son shot at Press Neville, a clerk, at James Linde, neither was wounded.

STATE GUARANTEE KILLED.

Des Moines, Ia., March 25.—A Iowa legislator, who voted against the Iowa bank deposit bill by a vote of 30 to 42. It provided for an absolute guarantee by the state.

GREAT MURDER

MYSTERY SOLVED

Jessie Lee Overton Culbertson's Life Was Not Taken by a Murderer but by Herself.

HER ANTECEDENTS UNKNOWN.

Her Husband Is Seeking Them—Circumstances of Her Death in Keeping With Her Character.

Vincennes, Ind., March 25.—Jessie Lee Overton Culbertson's life ended in tragedy as it had been for years. The bride of three months, thought to have been murdered, was a suicide. The police are now convinced and those who had known her intimately assert the mysterious circumstances attending her taking off were in keeping with her character.

Her husband today is seeking her antecedents. He has telephoned to doctors with whom Mrs. Culbertson had been associated as a nurse and to her personal friends asking for information concerning her family.