CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y

By reason of its central position, close relation to principal lines East of Chicago and continuous lines at terminal points West, Northwest and Southwest—is the only true middle link in the transcontinental system which invites and facilitates travel and traffic in either direction between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The Rock Island main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, St. Joseph, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns and villages.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees Speed, Comfort and Safety to those who travel over it. Its roadbed is thoroughly ballasted. Its track is of heavy steel. Its bridges are solid structures of stone and iron. Its rolling stock is perfect as human skill can make it. It has all the safety appliances that mechanical genius has invented and experience proved valuable. Its practical operation is conservative and methodical—its discipline strict and exacting. The luxury of its passenger accommodations is unequaled in the West—unsurpassed in the world.

ALL EXPRESS TRAINS between Chicago and the Missouri River consist of comfortable DAY COACHES, magnificent PULLMAN PALACE PARLOR and SLEEPING CARS, elegant DINING CARS providing excellent meals, and—between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison and Kansas City—restful RECLINING CHAIR CARS.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE,

Is the direct, favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Over this route solid Fast Express Trains run daily to the summer resorts, picturesque localities and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. The rich wheat fields and grazing lands of Interior Dakota are reached via Watertown.

A short desirable route, via Seneca and Kankakee, offers superior inducements to travelers between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul and intermediate points.

All classes of patrons, especially families, ladies and children, receive from officials and employes of Rock Island trains protection, respectful courtesy and kindly attention.

EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, March 22, 1887.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Religious services in the Tabernacle, Sunday, March 20, 1887, commenced at 2 p.m., President Angus M. Cannon presiding.

The choir and congregation sang:

We thank Thee, O God, for a Prophet
To guide us in these latter days.

Prayer was offered by Elder Geo. C. Lambert.

The choir sang:

Sweetly may the blessed Spirit
In each faithful bosom shine.

The Bishopric of the Fourth Ward officiated in the administration of the Sacrament.

Elder N. L. Nelson addressed the meeting. He related a dream that Joseph Smith, Sen., had in which he was asked to walk through a buttress of solid rock and found that by taking the first step the way was opened before him, and he was able to accomplish the object. He had taken the first step in coming to meeting, and he depended upon the faith of the congregation to enable him to continue to the edification of his hearers. He realized that the man who stood before his brethren and sisters, needed their faith and prayers; felt that he was occupying a trying position, because if he spoke his own opinions, and led any one astray he would have to be held accountable therefor; often wondered what would be the result if Paul the Apostle were to come before a sectarian congregation and preach as he did while in the flesh, as to the necessity of Apostles, Prophets, and the various other officers in the Church, and the existence of the ordinances and gifts that characterized the Church of Christ anciently, a belief in which had now almost died out among professing Christians. He would doubtless be received as the humblest Latter-day Saint Elder is received when he advances the same doctrine. Yet professing believers in the Bible have before them: "Though we or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed."

The Latter-day Saints had many accusations to face, but the latest charge against them was that of disloyalty. A paragraph he had read in a newspaper complained that the Latter-day Saints claimed that God was going to set up His kingdom upon the earth and that Christ was coming to reign among them as his people. This was doubtless considered as an evidence of their disloyalty, and yet professing Christians all the world over pray: "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven."

In meeting this charge of disloyalty, it would be well to go back and consider the teachings of history. Here the speaker quoted from Job 38:

Then the Lord answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,

Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?

Gird up now thy loins like a man; for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me.

Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding.

It was evident from this that Job had a pre-existence, at least that part of him did which was eternal, i.e. his spirit. Not only did he, but also all his brethren and sisters have a definite existence before this world was called into being. This was further proven by the 6th and 7th verses of the same chapter:

Or who laid the corner stone thereof, when the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

This passage tells us why we pray "Our Father who art in heaven," and throws new light on Paul's exposition of the relationship of our earthly and our heavenly parentage:

Furthermore, we have had fathers of the flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence:

Shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits and live? (Hebrews 12, 9.)

From these passages we gather that not only did our spirits pre exist, but they were possessed of intelligence, as is evident from the fact that they shouted for joy when a new planet was to be created. Their shouting also implies that they knew it was being created for them, that they might take upon them their second estate and go onward in the scale of progression. The fact that spirits, during pre-existence, possessed intelligence, and also a free agency, is further proven by the 12th chapter of Revelations, where an account is given of a great war between the spirits of heaven. That there was a war proved a cause. Whatever this may have been, it was in such a shape that it could be reasoned about. That spirits took sides proves at once on their part intelligence, free agency, and a susceptibility to false as well as to true argument; in short, every general law obtaining there law now governed the same intelligences here. Our Savior had said: "Be ye perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect." In this single text was found the object of the plan of salvation. Man possessed in embryo, every attribute that his heavenly Father possessed in perfection. He was endowed with them at His spiritual birth in heaven, and there He began their cultivation. But they could never be perfected without the experience to be gained in a mortal probation. It was not said of our Savior that de was "the brightness of His Father's glory, the express image of His person" until after He was resurrected, and Paul tells us that He learned obedience and was made perfect through suffering. In like manner all the experiences placed in the pathway of our spirits in their varied existence from spiritual birth to our final resurrection and exaltation, were for the purpose of bringing these attributes into active exercise that thereby they might grow toward perfection. Did we not pass through the sufferings of this life, we should have no contract whereby to know what eternal bliss was. Persecution was as necessary as any other principle of of the Gospel, for without it the attributes of love, charity and long-suffering, so perfect in our Heavenly Father, would not be properly developed in us His children.

The Almighty, then, had an object in creating this planet. That object was seen in the use to which it was being put, i.e., the education of His children. As God made this planet, and also all the intelligences dwelling upon it, man, in a true sense, could be disloyal only to Him. However, at no time in the world's history had there been but few who were loyal to the King of Kings. But the Lord, through his long suffering and love for his children here upon the earth, had permitted them to remain in a state of rebellion, and even enjoined his faithful subjects to obey those laws that were framed in justice. Such was the case in this day; in order that He might accomplish the work preparatory to the ushering in of the Millenium, he had inspired men to write a constitution so broad that in no principle yet to be revealed for their guidance need they go contrary thereto. It was only by declaring that a portion of our religion is not religion, that law-makers could with even the shadow of justice withdraw from us the protection of that safeguard of liberty.

But the time was now rapidly approaching, when the King of Kings will come with power and great glory, and then the Church, which now bears rule only in spiritual things, will also rule in temporal things, and those who remain faithful will be kings and priests unto the Most High.

If he, as a Latter-day Saint, were branded a traitor because he dared to believe and obey the Savior's command: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God," he felt not to retaliate but to pity his maligners, knowing that for them the time would too speedily come when it would be found who were the truly disloyal.

The choir sang an anthem.

Benediction was offered by Elder Wm. Jeffs.

The telegraph lines and the railways have made it almost impossible to get a revolution fairly started in that country. The minister of war is at all times in communication with the most distant points of the republic. Everywhere go the wires, and when a revolt breaks out the swift locomotives are ready to transport regiments of troops to points 1,200 or even 1,500 miles distant in two days over hot plains, where six years ago it took weeks and months.
