

BANK DEPOSITS AND CLEARINGS.

Both Show Notable and Substantial Increase Over Similar Comparative Periods.

QUIET WEEK IN REAL ESTATE.

But Determination to Raise Publicity Fund Causes Stirring Interest—General Review of Local Trade.

The storms of the week have kept quiet certain lines of business and trade, but do not appear to have had much effect on some others, unless it be to stimulate them. February has gone, the third and last of the winter months, with a great record of fog, snow and unpleasant weather. March has been ushered in with a grand climatic demonstration continuing, with emphasis, the February record. But the sun is now so high that, while the nights may be cold, the days are seeing old Sol exert more and more power, and better weather will be the natural sequence in the no distant future. The fall of snow in the mountains has been very heavy—unusually so, all the agricultural interests are rejoicing at the certainty of plenty of water during the coming season.

The local money markets have been very quiet this week, with scarcely a ripple to ripple the calm and placid surface of banking transactions. However, deposits appear to be on the climb, and if the condition of all the banks in this respect is the same as one notable institution, confidence in them must be healthy and strong. In this particular instance the Zion's Savings Bank and Trust company deposits for the week were just $19,200 more than the deposits for the corresponding week of the year previous, which is encouraging. The bank clearings for the week have continued away ahead of those of the same week in 1905, the increase for yesterday alone being $540,000. The first of the month came at the middle of the week, so that the bank clerks worked through to midnight Wednesday.

REAL ESTATE PUBLICITY FUND.

This has been an off week in real estate operations—on account of the storm and impassable condition of the roads outside of the business district. So the real estate dealers have put in their spare time overhauling their offices, looking up new prospects, laying wires for future operations, and talking over plans. They held a meeting Wednesday night, at which it was proposed to raise $12,000 with which to properly advertise the town. The real estate men are determined that Salt Lake shall no longer be regarded by the general public as a "curio center" merely. There are other things here besides curios, and which are worthy of more serious consideration. The association has been meeting every two weeks for lunch at the commercial club, but these meetings will be supplemented by evening business meetings twice a month at headquarters. The real estate men who occupied the basement of the Walker bank have moved out into other quarters, as the premises are being expensively fitted up for cafe purposes.

DRY GOODS TRADE.

The dry goods trade reports a favorable week, some dealers reporting 20 per cent better business, not only for the week, but for the month of February just passed. Women are buying for spring, in readiness to appear in vernal attire with the advent of genial weather. Ready made dresses are proving popular. Salesmen say that the demand for summer fabrics is all-ready so strong that some lines will soon be out of stock. Preferences are running to white and black effects, but delicate colors and tints will be popular. Batistes, lawns, mullies and mixtures of silk are in steady demand and shirt waists are much called for. Sleeves are to be short this season both in shirt and other kinds of waists. The millinery madames are back to the great eastern centers with all the notions regarding the latest in their line, and the results of their inspections are now appearing in the glass show cases. Hats seem to be more startling than ever, though there is to be a preference in sailor styles, and they are very jaunty looking. In colors, the hats are all that might be desired.

CLOTHING BUSINESS.

The clothing trade reports business nearly 20 per cent better in retail lines, during the entire month, as well as for the week just past. Winter stocks are pretty well cleaned up, and the market is waiting only for warmer weather to begin buying spring suits. The wholesale trade loaded up for spring delivery some time ago, and will soon be considering next fall's trade.

WITH SHOE MEN.

The shoe trade is reported 15 per cent better than a year ago, except in the case of stiff as well as rubber goods soaring high in prices. Dealers report that the big packing houses have bought control of the leather trust, and will hereafter do their own tanning, regulating also prices to suit themselves, so that the dear public must pay just what the packing barons see fit to charge. The weather has proven a great benefit to the shoe dealers, especially in sale of rubbers.

THE HARDWARE LINES.

The hardware men report trade steady, but with the promised big spring opening delayed by the tempestuous weather. Until this is over the trade will remain quiet. Dealers say there will be an immense call for builders' hardware as soon as pleasant weather arrives.

The grocery trade is about as usual, but the wholesalers report a heavy trade—about 5 per cent better than last year. Shipments of groceries to construction and mining camps have been quite extensive of late.

REMODELING CHURCHES.

The finishing of interior work around town is being hurried up. The remodeling of the old First Presbyterian church has been completed, and the premises are now ready for business and lodging purposes. The First Methodist church interior is now through with the plasterers, and the carpenters and the painters will shortly begin finishing. The new First Presbyterian church will be ready for the seats the middle of the month, and the congregation can occupy the new auditorium on Easter Sunday.
