

IS A BAD MAN WITH A GUN.

How Bert DeShazo Tricked Two Policemen Last Night.

TOOK THEM BY SURPRISE.

Drew a Dangerous Revolver and Told Them Not To, and They Didn't Then Run Away.

"Don't you try to take me, or I'll blow you — head off!"

The words were hissed out by Bert De Shazo, whom Officers Gillespie and Roberts attempted to arrest last night as he was leaving a house on North Temple and Seventh West.

Simultaneous with the words an ugly looking revolver was thrust within two inches of Gillespie's face. The hand that held the weapon trembled not, and in De Shazo's eyes was a wicked gleam that told more forcibly than words that the man meant murder if the officers made further efforts to take him into custody.

With the weapon still pointed at the officers, De Shazo coolly backed away until he saw that Roberts was between him and Gillespie, and then suddenly he sprang into the darkness and escaped. Roberts whipped out his revolver and fired a shot into the air but it only had the effect of increasing the fellow's speed, and he made good his escape.

All night long, and all day, the police have been searching for him, and they are confident their efforts in that direction will be crowned with success. If they come upon him he will either surrender quietly or there will be trouble, for the limbs of the law have had their fighting blood aroused and they mean to land their man.

Probably no man with whom the police of this city have had to do will give them so much trouble as has De Shazo. Innumerable times he has been arrested for offenses ranging from vagrancy and petit larceny to burglary, and on nearly every occasion he has escaped punishment through the intervention of influential relatives and friends on their journey to California.

JOSEPH MONSON NEARLY KILLED.

Ex-State Senator Receives Severe Electric Shock.

THOUGHT HE WAS DEAD.

Was Measuring Building With Metallic Tape When It Blew Against Wire Carrying 5,000 Volts.

[Special to the "News."] Logan, March 7.—Ex-State Senator Joseph Monson had a very narrow escape from death by electricity today. At 12 o'clock, in company with Charles Martineau, he was making some measurements on the Consolidated Wagon & Machine company's building on Center street. Mr. Monson was standing on top of the building, each holding the opposite end of a cloth and metallic tape measure. The tape blew against a wire, 30 feet from the ground, carrying 5,000 volts of electricity. Mr. Martineau felt the shock and shouted "Look out! you'll get a shock." Just as Mr. Monson was about to move the wires apart, a lifeless figure, Carter, who was standing nearby, seized the prostrate man and was severely shocked in the arms, and Martineau jerked the tape from Monson's hand, avoiding a shock by holding something in his hand that was a short circuit. The iron bar was carried inside. Drs. Parkinson and Croxall were summoned and every effort made to resuscitate him. It was three or four minutes before he displayed any sign of life, and 20 minutes before he regained consciousness. In three-quarters of an hour after the accident, however, he was able to walk to physicians' where he is now under treatment.

Monson complains of a great numbness of feeling but has comparatively little pain. The physicians believe that he will soon recover.

Monson was taken to Salt Lake on the regular train, and was found that serious complications may result. The electrician of the Hercules company estimates that he received 500 volts or less. No blame attaches to any person or company as a result of the accident. Mr. Monson was feeling pretty good when he left Logan.

AMUSEMENTS.

TRAINMEN TAKE ACTION.

Appoint Committee to Find Out Who Had Been Leaking.

At the regular meeting of the Wathatche Lodge 388 Brothertown of Railroad Trainmen held last night, A. W. Lynn, T. E. Yone and E. E. Weston were appointed a committee to investigate the house where the trainmen's union, which when the tariff had doubled, the gathering was slim, and while the absence of the regular gallery habitués had a perceptible effect in the warmth of the demonstrations, there was undoubted relief in the stillness which pervaded the house and the trainmen with whom every detail was followed.

This afternoon the committee called on the manager of the hotel that the statement which appeared Wednesday night were unauthorized and not the sentiments of the lodge as a body. They stated that any differences between the employees and officials that might occur could be satisfactorily adjusted without undue publicity.

SAN PEDRO MAPS.

Another Twenty-Mile Section of the Route Filed Here.

Engineer McCarthy of the San Pedro road filed a map of number 25-mile section of the increased route of the Clark road through Juab county yesterday afternoon. The definite location is the result of the survey which was commenced January 15 and finished February 4. The survey adopted practically paralleled the Oregon Short Line road and starts from an initial point near Moenaville, approximately at a point about five miles north and three miles west of Leamington.

The technical description of the route is as follows:

From the initial point in the northwest quarter of section 23, township 11, south range 3 west, Salt Lake base and Meridian Juab county, from which a road goes up a side hill of section 25 bears N 72 degrees 29 minutes, 30 seconds west 2560 feet, thence in a southwest direction on surveyed land a length of 0.44 miles to a point in the north line of section 1, township 13 south, range 1 west, from which a stone at the northeast corner of said section 1 bears east 100.90 feet, north 89 degrees 20 minutes, 40 seconds west, thence continuing in a northwesterly direction on surveyed land a length of 11.54 miles to Terminus Point in the southeast quarter of section 19, township 14 south, range 1 west from which a stone at the southeast corner of said section 19 bears S 82 degrees 53 minutes E 232.00 feet, a total length of 26 miles.

HEAVY TRAVEL.

Colonists are Flocking from the East To Idaho Points.

The Oregon Short Line is doing a rushing business in passenger traffic, especially in Idaho. The Pocatello Advance has the following to say regarding the sequel to the putting on of the homeseekers rates this month:

"No. 5 the morning westbound train, went out with 15 coaches and the evening westbound train with 15 coaches and scarcely standing room. No. 1, came in last night with the regular number of coaches crowded to the doors, but when she got to Pocatello she had to provide for 17 passengers brought along. No. 10 had so many most of whom had come over the Rio Grande Western. Four extra coaches were attached and then there was no vacant room to accommodate the people."

J. C. STUBBS WILL CHANGE QUARTERS.

Traffic Director Harriman Lines to Move to New York.

BEN CAMPBELL IN CHICAGO.

Reason of the Change is That Messrs. Stubbs and Harriman Can Hold Daily Conferences.

Following the resignation of Edwin Harriman as assistant general traffic manager of the Southern Pacific with headquarters in New York and the abolition of the office comes the word that J. C. Stubbs will henceforth make his headquarters in New York while Ben Campbell recently appointed assistant traffic director of the Southern Pacific, will remain in Mr. Stubbs old headquarters in Chicago and bear the brunt of the work. The idea of the change is that Mr. Stubbs and Mr. Harriman will then be in a position to hold daily conferences if necessary. At present Mr. Stubbs is with Mr. Harriman on his trip to Mexico and on the return will be in the charge with him. It is said, as soon as the tour of inspection is complete.

This will have the effect of putting a quietus on the pronounced rumors which were prevalent in Chicago and New York last December to the effect that T. M. Schumacher was going to New York. No application has been made to the railroad management of the O. R. & N. at Portland will be made, it is understood, until April. The gossip says that when it is made, however, the lot will fall to an independent railroad.

LABOR CIRCLES AGITATED.

Federation Will Have Some Hard Nuts To Crack.

The condition of affairs in the Utah Federation of Labor is quite complicated, and at the meeting this evening the leaders of the federation will have to play the rôle of peacemakers which may be difficult. The action of the respondents will overrule the application for the amount and ordered the discharge and cancellation of the trust deed.

An appeal was taken from that decision of the Supreme court and Justice Hatchett delivered the opinion, which is to the effect that the appellants, Mr. H. M. Desky and Justice Baskin, holding that there was no reversible error, and affirming the decision.

Justice Baskin delivered the opinion of the Supreme court today in the case of John Harter and wife vs. A. S. D. Fitzpatrick and his brother, W. H. Fitzpatrick, the well known railroad contractors of Beatrice, Neb., in town today looking into prospective contracts on the Oregon Short Line.

"Happy Cal" Wagner, the former ministerial artist, and now representing a large eastern road, is a guest at the Kenyon. Cal signed his name on the hotel register "H. C. W. Denver," as he did not want the fact that he was in town to be known. He said he would fill out the name just before he would leave. Cal is a great favorite in railroad circles.

Eggs are today selling for 20 cents, as the Utah hens are now beginning to do their duty.

Two church building committees are deep in the depths of uncertainty in the matter of selection of plans submitted to them for new houses of worship, the First Presbyterian church and the Forest Dell ward methodists. In each case there are four sets of plans, the trouble is that while each set is intrinsically different from every other, all possess merits which make it hard to size them all up comparatively in a short time.

The trustees of Gordon Academy received this morning from Worcester, Mass., a check for $2,830 from the Childs Symmes estate of Lancashire, Eng. This is a $3,000 legacy left the academy, minus the 5 per cent which "Gove" gave to the trustees. The trustees' assessments on all legacies sent out of the estate are there a slight string on the state, in that it is subject to a $100 bequest, in that during the life of an owner, the money will be used towards the maintenance of the academy corporation on H street, and the annuity will be paid out of the rental proceeds.
