ON THE RAILWAY QUESTION.

New Rate Law Has Only Increased The Revenue of the Roads-Still Favors Government Ownership.

Norfolk, Va., May 20 .- The anniversary of the passage by the Virginia house of burgesses on May 30, 1765, of Patrick Henry's famous, resolution condemning the British stamp act, was celebrated as Patrick Henry day at the January as Fairles Henry day at the January exposition today with William J. Bryan as the central fig-ure of attraction. Mr. Bryan delivered an address in the convention hall upon the exposition grounds before 2,000 people upon the theme "Taxation Without Representa-tion is Tyranny." The everytisse amound with designed The exercises opened with singing of

The exercises opened with singing of the "Star Spangled Ramer" by a chorus of 350 school children, followed by an address by President Tucker of the Exposition company, upon the ca-reer of Patrick Henry. Following a reading of the original stamp act resolution, Dr. Phillip A. Fitzhugh of New York, great grandson of Patrick Henry, was introduced. The audience arose and cheered Henry's venerable descendant. The singing of "Yankee Doodie" by the children was followed by "Disle," which brought great applause.

ADDRESS OF MR. BRYAN.

ADDRESS OF MR, BRYAN, ADDRESS OF MR, BRYAN, Mr. Bryan dwelt on American rule An the Philippines, declaring that we we making laws for the government of the Philippines, declaring that we be an end of the Philippines to the British rule of the Philippines to the British rule of the American colonies prior to the revolutionary war. He said that while he had frequently said in the north that the black main was taxed in the south without representa-tion, he had likewise said that the white men of the same laws which they made to affect the negro. The speaker discussed after all he wondered if more was not to be saiding the corporations: Conthuling, Mr. Bryan said: "Mat is the effect of our new rate law which was so hard to get? There stopped rebates; that is good, but what was the peculiary effect? Why, the fallot reflect? It stopped passes, what did that do? It gave to the railroads that do a passes, So far we have be that rode on passes, So far we have be the revenues of the roads and that is all that hav has done thus in the twe officets way that was the the rowences of the roads the money that the fellows used to save that rode on passes, So far we have be the rowences of the roads and that is all that hav has done thus in that when the various states said; "Well now that we have given you this far, and when the various states far, and when the various states said; "Well, now that we have given you this advantage by stopping rebates and pusses, we will reduce passenger rates, and make you divide with the people," and in some of the states they have reduced the passenger rates. The rail-roads in some cases are so ungrate-ful for what has been given them that they are into the consts to its to be.

roads in some cases are so ungrate-ful for what has been given them that they go into the courts to iry to keep the people from having the benefit of the 2-ceni rate law. "All over this land we have seen the struggle between the people and the corporations, and we see it today upon the railroad question. In 1596 the Dem-ocratic platform declared for railroad "legislation. If did so in 1000; it did so in 1904, but, my friends, after 10 years" of effort on our part we had to walt un-til a Republican president had to take the lead upon the subject and then he had the fight of his life to get this bill through the senate or house. At last, in order to make a Republican measure, the president was forced to compromise with the representatives of the railroads in the senate. I think if I am allowed to talk of taxation. I ought not to for-get the taxatoin this country is bearing today because we do not regulate the corporations as we ought to regulate them. When I find a man who is con-stantly talking against government ownership of railroads, I believe he is doing it from his own interests. "Well, we have not reached that ques-tion, but we have reached that ques-tion, but we have reached the question of our railroad management, and I have sometimes fell tempted to auggest that the man who spends his time in

"Our little girl, one year and a half of was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doo-tor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, preenish sore. Well, he said he could beip her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her type. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do any-thing more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it we hought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the said the eye-sight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I say one of the Cuticura Aremedies, which cost me $1, and in three days of doctor who had been slot about ight months, showed great improve-ting the output we would try doctor No. 4. Alluding to a reference by former Congressman Lassiter, who introduced him to Senaior Baniel as a candidate for the presidency, Mr. Bryan said: "I don't know whether my good friend expected me to use this occasion to join in the nomination of a candidate for president or not; I will say this, that I join with him in the admiration he has expressed for Virginia's great son and statesman. And I have said time and time again that sections should not control the selections of our candidates. In fact, two years and a half ago, I seconded the nomination of a man from Missouri, an ex-confeder-ate salder, when Virginia voted for a New York man. And I have insisted that the ima has come when the Demo-cracy of the Union should take in the whole Union, and that its selection should be made without regard to the state in which a man lives. TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

All Absorbing Topic Discussed by United Presbyterians.

United Presbyterians. Deriver, May 29.-The temperative question was the all-absorbing topic to-day before the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church. The ques-tion of endorsing the anti-saloon league grew out of the recommendations of the committee on temperance, and a heated discussion followed. The friends of the anti-saloon league were successful in having action on interchurch temper-ance council heid over another year, so that the support of the United Presby-terian church might not be divided, and the resolution endorsing the anti-saloon league of America were passed overwhelmingly. Dr. R. A. Hutchinson of Pennsylvania made a telling speech for the anti-

Dr. R. A. Hutchinson of Fennsylvania made a telling speech for the anti-saloon league and its work. He stated that had it not been for the folly of the church temperance committees in refusing to join the militant forces of the anti-saloon league, Pennsylvania would not today be without a local op-tion law. tion law.

tion law, Judge B. B. Lindsey of Denver made an effective speech, in which he set forth clearly that the greatest producer of crime was the organized liquor trafthe of this country. His work in the way of reform through the juvenile court was heartly endorsed. The remainder of the day was taken up with the reports of various com-mittees.
