

CARNIVAL WILL BE LAUNCHED TONIGHT

Coronation Ceremonies at the Amphitheater at 8:30 p. m.

PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK.

The Streets of the City Will Scintillate With Pomp and Pageantry—The Many Attractions.

No one will question the statement that "there will be a hot time in the old town tonight." It is assured from two sources, the merchants' street fair people, and the weather men. The former, however, promises to be more interesting. At 8 o'clock tonight the high carnival with its numerous diversions will be launched and for one week the people of Salt Lake will be served up with a series of most unique amusements. Street fairs are of recent date but Salt Lake is always quick to catch on to good things in the way of legitimate enterprise or harmless amusement. The large force of skillful men that has been working almost day and night for the past two weeks has eclipsed the expectations of even the directors of the fair, in the beautiful floats it has created. The one on which the queen will ride is the most artistic creation of the kind ever seen in this city. While the red pomp and pageant begins tonight the main thoroughfare of the city presented almost an enchanting appearance last night. From the monument down to Third South the thick clusters of red lights that are festooned across the street looked like the roof of a vast oriental garden.

Many of the leading merchants have entered into the affair with a business-like zeal and their handsome booths erected on the sides of the streets remind one of the stories of the street fairs that used to be held in the good old days. The amphitheater and queen's throne are rather an imposing sight and tonight they will be made doubly so by the presence of the gracious queen and thousands of her subjects. At 8 o'clock this evening the queen, who will be crowned by the directors of the fair, will be given the golden key to the city by Mayor Thompson. At 8:30 the midway will be opened where many unique attractions will be offered, one of the chief of which is Lunetta, "the maid of the air." This young lady is a most sensational illusion. She is said to float into the air and while suspended thus she assumes many graceful poses and even performs an aerial skirt dance. Lunetta is a beautiful girl and has often been characterized as "the American Venus." All the other attractions arrived today and will be active tonight.

George E. Blair has been honored with the high station of prime minister to Queen Etheilyn, and will receive the golden key of the city in her behalf. Her maids of honor have been selected with care as to form and face, with the result that the following young maidens will wait upon her majesty: Misses Emma Sanderson, Ardelia Edwards, Gertrude Musser, Louise Badger, Bessie Dawson, May E. Gray, Daisy Hamilton, Julia Cope, Alice J. Kirk and Nora Wickie.

The public will be admitted to the open space in front of the queen's throne free of charge, but seats in the amphitheater will be 25 cents. On the queen's platform, Prof. Landrum will conduct a ballet with 25 people, in the standard dress taken in previous years. The queen's throne will be surrounded by a large quantity of the creek water distributed over the land last winter and early spring, which had to be carried through a ditch of sand soil before reaching the creek again.

In Parley's creek there were 7,680,000 gallons flowing last Friday, a decrease of 25 gallons for the week. At this time last year the discharge was only 5,978,000 gallons. Eighty per cent of the flow from Parley's goes into the city's pipes to be used by the farmers and the penitentiary for irrigation. City Creek during the week has decreased from 8,447,844 gallons to 7,680,000. This time last year the discharge was 6,352,000. The combined reduction of both sources during the week is 727,844 gallons. City Creek was flowing 1,900 gallons more than Parley's on Friday. Parley's on Friday was discharging 14,000,000 gallons and Parley's 15,100,000.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRESTED.
She Was Taken to a Commercial Street Resort by Two Men.
Early yesterday morning the police arrested a young woman who gave her name as Ray. She was on the charge of resorting to a house of ill fame, which comes on Wednesday, will be a credit to the occasion. Elaborate preparations have been made, which will consist of a grand street parade, in which the queen and her court will participate. At the conclusion of the parade the queen and her subjects will gather to the amphitheater where Judge W. H. King will deliver an oration, and the entertainment will close with feasts of skill and strength. The queen will again be on her throne at 8:30, and the evening amusements will open with musical numbers. These will be followed by the Landrum ballet and the Rinaldo Brothers in "Marble Statuary."

Nothing Tastes Good
And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be. This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic. If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long. The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Promises to cure and keeps the promise. Don't wait till you are worse, but buy a bottle today.

GOV. PRINCE'S VISIT.
Distinguished New Mexican Stops Over Here for a Day.

The familiar figure of ex-Gov. Bradford Prince of New Mexico was seen on the street yesterday. Gov. Prince stopped off at the Knutsford, en route to Boise City from Cripple Creek, where he has been in attendance upon the Trans-Mississippi Congress. At the Idaho capital he will attend the mining congress, of which he has been three days president.

Gov. Prince said yesterday that he hoped that the coming mining congress would agitate the establishment of a department of mining in the cabinet of the President of the United States. It was not thought feasible, he said he was in favor of inaugurating bureaus in the interior to do for mining what the experiment stations have done for agriculture. Mr. Prince accompanies the governor.

PARLEY'S CANYON WATER.

City Chemist Finds It Very Good—Better Than City Creek.
The analysis which City Chemist Harnes has made of water from Parley's creek is even more satisfactory than that made of City Creek water, there being even a smaller trace of ammonia in the Parley's creek water. There is absolutely no trace of nitrates, sulphides or metallic impurities. Due credit must be given to Land and Water Commissioner Westfield for the pure condition of the water, not only in the standard test taken in previous years, but in the driving of cattle up the canyon road and the removal of coral and sheds from the lands purchased by the city last year. The water is said to be pure and early spring, which had to be carried through a ditch of sand soil before reaching the creek again.

MACCABEES' DAY.

Tuesday will be a spectacular day and will be under the auspices of the Maccabees. The street parade will take place at the Knutsford at 2:30 p. m. under the escort of Grand Marshal Frank S. Murphy and aides, J. M. Rasmussen, Dr. A. Kerr, W. H. Dayton, E. E. Jordan, J. E. Phelps, Charles Hendrickson, W. H. Acock and Mr. Barrett. The first division will be composed of Queen Etheilyn, her maids of honor, Prime Minister Blair, Mayor Thompson and sounds of police. The second division will be headed by the band, and will consist of the various Maccabee lodges. The third division will be led by Hauerbach's band and will be made up of floats and carriages decorated with flowers. At 8:30 the queen and her court will go to the amphitheater, where the carnival will begin.

PIONEER DAY.

The celebration of this memorable day, which comes on Wednesday, will be a credit to the occasion. Elaborate preparations have been made, which will consist of a grand street parade, in which the queen and her court will participate. At the conclusion of the parade the queen and her subjects will gather to the amphitheater where Judge W. H. King will deliver an oration, and the entertainment will close with feasts of skill and strength. The queen will again be on her throne at 8:30, and the evening amusements will open with musical numbers. These will be followed by the Landrum ballet and the Rinaldo Brothers in "Marble Statuary."

THE ELKS' CARNIVAL.

Antlers Will Have a Kangaroo Court of the Grand Old Type.
The Kangaroo court, established during the Elks' carnival week from September 16th to 21st, will be especially for Elks, and will be one of the features of the carnival enclosure. The court will be in continuous session from the opening of the fair to the close of the fair. The committee in charge, through the suppression of judges, will do everything in their power to administer justice for the victims who come under the ban of the court.

The Harbor Amusement company have added to their list of attractions for Carnival week, the famous Kelton family of musicians, and a band of Tyrolean alpine, telegram received at carnival headquarters from delegates to the grand lodge convention at Milwaukee, informing Director General Stoll of the delegates' arrival. The ladies' guessing contest for the most appropriate name for the live elk to be christened September 20th, is increasing in letters every day, and if it continues will take an additional force of clerks to answer and handle that correspondence alone. The enclosed communication has been sent by Captain Stoll to the United States.

Dear Sir and Brother—As you are in all probability aware by this time, Salt Lake Lodge No. 85, N. E. St., has a street fair and carnival. The proceeds

LITTLE GIRL ASSAULTED.

Lured to a Lonely Spot by an Unknown Man.

Last evening some unknown wretch made an attempt to assault an eight-year-old girl in the northeastern part of the city and was only prevented from accomplishing his dastardly purpose by the child's loud screams for help. The parents of the little girl refused to divulge their name. The child with her brother were out looking for a cow that had strayed away, when a stranger rode up to them on a bicycle and said he knew where the animal was. Leaving the boy to care for the wheel he lured the girl off with him, saying he would show her where the cow was. Soon after the boy was startled by hearing his sister screaming. Her assailant rushed back, jumped on his wheel and rode rapidly away. Children of excellent school had informed their father what had happened. He at once reported it to the police and Officer Pack sent several horses searching for the fellow. The little girl gave an excellent description of him and the police are in hopes of capturing him before long. Beyond being badly frightened the girl was not harmed.

WOMAN TAKES POISON.

Mrs. William Garlick Drinks an Overdose of Nux Vomica.

Mrs. William Garlick, of 576 Bothwell avenue, came near losing her life Saturday by taking an overdose of nux vomica. Mrs. Garlick had been using the drug to relieve indigestion, but has only been taking a little at a time. Mr. Garlick says that in preparing a dose Saturday his wife poured out about twice as much as she usually takes. After swallowing the stuff she was seized with convulsions. Dr. McCoy was summoned and soon had the lady out of danger, although she was very sick for some time.

WHO CLERK JAMES MET.

Saw Some of the Fighting Friends and Tells a Fish Story.

One of the most interesting points visited by County Clerk James on his California trip was Santa Catalina island, the great island resort of the Pacific coast. Here the ex-reporter met Jim Jeffries and Gus Rohlin, the pugilist and his newspaper instincts prompted him to interview them. Jim told him that he had no doubt in his mind that he would make short work of Gus. "The only man," said he, "that can keep me guessing is Bob Fitzsimmons. He is getting a little old in harness but is still fish. He is the grand old man of the roped arena as Gladstone was grand old man in English politics."

Mr. James was fortunate enough to witness one of the desperate struggles between the two champions. Senator Kearns was with him, and also Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tarbet, Miss Edith Parker and Reese Price. All saw the pugilist fight, and could see the fish through the glass bottom of the boat. And the anger was a woman. "We were attracted to the struggle by the screams of the woman, but they were very screams of excitement," said Clerk James, "and we watched the fight with the leading tuna for almost an hour. Several men went out to assist the lady, but she was so much of the situation and declined to receive assistance. As a matter of fact she was working for the honor of admission to the tuna. She was so high to which one must catch a tuna as high as 100 pounds. Later in the day we returned and found that the lady had landed her fish. It turned the scales at 225 pounds and now makes the distinguished honor of having landed the largest fish of any member of the tuna club. (Look nearly eight hours to catch the tuna.)

Many people are stopping over here, too, to spend a day or two for the purpose of resting and sightseeing. Today a party of Chicago newspaper men, twenty-seven in number, will pass through en route to Boise to attend the mining congress, which opens there tomorrow and continues in session throughout the week. ## FUNERAL OF MRS. PRATT.

Services Held in the Twenty-Second Ward Meeting House.

The funeral of Mrs. Orson Pratt was held yesterday afternoon from the Twenty-Second ward meeting house. Though the heat of the day was oppressive the building was filled by friends of the deceased. This was an eloquent tribute to the qualities of Mrs. Pratt, who was in all respects a most estimable lady. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. H. Richards, and the floral offerings were very profuse. The casket was almost submerged in the beautiful flowers, and those who spoke made feeling reference to the character of Mrs. Pratt. Those who spoke were Apostle Heber J. Grant, Seymour B. Young, Bishop Alfred Solomon, and Prest. Angus M. Cannon. The remains were interred in the city cemetery.

JOHN HENRY SMITH HOME.

President of the Trans-Mississippi Congress Tells of the Work Done.

Hon. John Henry Smith has returned from Cripple Creek, Colorado, where he attended the four days session of the Trans-Mississippi congress, which closed Friday morning. Glenn Construction company has been notified by the board of public works to commence construction work on the extension of pipe sewers from Temple from Second to Thirtieth East streets, and from Thirtieth to Seventh East, Sixth East from Second to Third South. Extensions on other streets will be ordered later.

The elevator service in the city and county building has been very irregular of late, service being stopped sometimes as many as a dozen times a day. The trouble is that the power company has been over generous in its voltage, sending the wire as high as 50 volts when the maximum called for in the contract is only 25. As a result the rubbers have been frequently burnt out and the damage has been considerable. This morning the board of commissioners notified the Utah Light & Power company that it would hold it responsible for the damage incurred.
