Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 21.

Returning Home.—A private telegram states that Mr. G. Henry Snell and wife, who have been on a visit to Italy, arrived in New York this morning, on their way home. While abroad they visited, before its formal opening, the Paris Exposition. The object of the tour was the benefit of Mrs. Snell's health, which, we are informed, is greatly improved.

Attempted Suicide.—Last night, a young woman, named Retta Saulsbury, an inmate of a house of ill repute, attempted to commit suicide, by shooting herself. The ball entered her right shoulder and lodged near the shoulder blade. The wound is not necessarily fatal, and she is therefore likely to recover.

It Came Down.—At about three this morning the rain appeared to descend in a perfect torrent. Those copious showers are highly beneficial to crops upon the high lands, but owners of farms on the bottoms don't appear to like them much. On the whole, we believe their effect will be comparatively good. The clouds still keep hovering around overhead, as if intending to send down more moisture.

A Heavy Fill.—Persons who have passed over the Utah Southern Railroad are familiar with the long trestle bridge that spans the valley of Little Cottonwood Creek, immediately north of the Germania Refining works. The company have been, for sometime past, gradually filling up the wide and deep opening crossed by the bridge, and now it is being completed, and the trestle work will be supplanted by a good, solid road-bed. For a day or two, of late, while the work was being completed, passengers on the line were transferred, out freight trains have continued to pass over slowly, without interruption.

From Texas.—This morning we were pleased to receive a call from Mr. John W. Campbell and Mr. I. F. Campbell, who, accompanied by their families, arrived from El Paso County, Texas, on Sunday evening. They have come for the purpose of making Utah their home, having believed the gospel, which was preached to them by Elders Pratt, Stewart and others who were on a mission recently to Mexico. Mr. I. W. Campbell is an expert mill machinist and miller. He can repair, fit up and set in running order flouring mill machinery of any character, and purposes entering upon that business. He was engaged in that line in Texas.

He is formerly of the State of Virginia and subsequently of California, having removed from the latter State to Texas, near the Mexican border.

Glass.—This morning we received a call from Brother John Hair, formerly from the north of England, where he was thoroughly trained in the art of making bottles and other glass articles. He assures us that he had every necessary facility for knowing the necessary ingredients, and states that he knows that all the articles exist in this locality in profuse abundance. Besides, the fire-stone and fire-brick of this part are all that could be desired for the furnaces.

He laid before us a draft, exterior and interior, of the house or factory, a simply though ingeniously formed structure. He has not the remotest doubt that the manufacture of bottles, fruit jars, and other articles could be carried on here, and would be very lucrative to those engaging in it.

One house in which he worked in England had four pots, the whole operated by 12 men and 8 boys. From each pot an average of 93 dozen were turned out daily, making an aggregate of 372 dozen. He says the house and appurtenances are not very expensive, requiring a comparatively small expenditure of capital, probably about $5,000.

We believe Brother Hair to be a reliable man, and are satisfied he is entirely sincere in his statements. That the branch of manufacture alluded to is required there can be no question. We would like to see somebody make a commencement.

Second District Court.—A correspondent forwards an account of proceedings of the adjourned March term of the Second District, which commenced on the 8th inst. We condense.

The grand jury was discharged on the 30th of April. It found several indictments, among them a number of cases in which true bills had been found by the previous grand jury. This was because it was believed the business of the latter body had been vitiated by the fact of one of its members not being a citizen. In those cases the Judge overruled a motion to dismiss, but entered a nolle on the first indictments and tried the cases under the later ones. Those indicted parties who have not yet had a trial, however, are still held under the former indictments, but they will probably, like the others, be tried under the new bills.

Exceptions are also taken to the last grand jury on the grounds that members of the body held papers of citizenship given by Judge Sol. McCurdy when no proclamation of the Governor had authorized the holding of court, and further, that the clerk issuing the said papers was not the clerk of the court, and that no first papers had been issued.

Four Pie de Indians were indicted for killing a Moquis, near Fort Pierce. Two were tried on the 9th inst., one of them found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for 15 years, the verdict in the case of the other being "not guilty." The other two of the four had previously made good their escape.

On the 16th inst., Deputy Marshal Stokes left Beaver for Salt Lake, with the convicted Indian and a half-breed Spaniard, named Butler, convicted of grand larceny, and sentenced to imprisonment for one year.

The petit jury were discharged on the 11th inst. The correspondent speaks commendably of the able and practical manner in which District Attorney Van Zile conducted the prosecution.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 22.

"Army" Worms.—We are informed that "army" worms are very numerous upon the trees in some of the city orchards. Now is the time to destroy them, before they consume the foliage, which they greedily devour.

Married.—Last night, Mr. Oscar H. Hardy, son of Bishop L. W. Hardy, and Miss Esther A. Margetts, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Justice A. C. Pyper, at the residence of the parents of the bride. A large number of the friends of the parties assembled, by invitation, at the house of Mr. Margetts, and the bride was the recipient, not only of congratulations and good wishes, but of a large number of handsome presents. The party partook of a sumptuous repast, and spent a very pleasant time.

Painting.—To-day we saw a partly finished picture of Ophir Cañon, which is being brought into life under the hand of Mr. Carl Dahlgren, a clever artist, who is struggling in obscurity. The picture is a good one. The time of day chosen is sunrise, and some fine effects of light and shade are introduced, the blending of the delicate glazing of the background, the medium tints of the midway and the bold strokes of the foreground show decidedly good taste and skilful manipulation.

In this part of the country, like many others, pictures have slow sale, and there is a consequent depression of the spirit of artistic genius. Remember the plodding and sensitive artist, ye rich men.

Mr. Dahlgren's place of business is in Commercial street.

The Elders in the North-western States.—The Elders called at the last General Conference, to labor amongst the Scandinavian population of the north-western States, held a meeting at Council Bluffs, on the 12th inst., at which the following appointments were made by Elder Cyrus H. Wheelock, President of that mission:

Elders N. C. Heisel and Mads Yorgensen, to travel through north and north-eastern Nebraska, south-eastern Dakota and south-western Minnesota, as a pioneer party, to discover regions inhabited by Scandinavians, where fields may be opened up.

Elders C. Winze and John Larsen to labor in Minnesota, Elders Niels Nielsen and N. P. Larsen in western Iowa. Elders Andrew Eglund and Neils Rasmussen in southern Iowa and northern Missouri. Elders Gustaf Thomasson in eastern Nebraska, and Elder Paul A. Poulsen in western Nebraska. Elder F. F. Hintze was released to return home, as he had introduced to their fields of labor, the Elders appointed for Nebraska.

City Council.—The Council met last evening, Alderman Spiers in the chair.

A petition of two residents of Sugar House Ward, for the privilege of purchasing forty acres of land near the Insane Asylum. Referred to the committee on public grounds.

On petition, P. Pugsley was granted the privilege, for 90 days, of piling materials on a portion of the street and sidewalk, on Second South Street, for building purposes.

A communication was received from E. L. T. Harrison, asking for a renewal of the privilege, withdrawn from him at the last meeting of the Council, of raising water from the 19th Ward ditch to his residence, with a hydraulic ram. Referred to the committee on irrigation.

A petition from Robert Aveson asking that $5 be refunded to him for a lot purchased from the city which is in the military reservation, and which he cannot possess for that reason, was granted, and the amount appropriated.

A communication was received from John Corkish, making a proposal to place lightning rods on the City Hall and other public buildings. The petition was not entertained.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of J. O. Larson, asking that he be allowed to place a hydraulic ram in the 19th Ward ditch to take water therefrom for culinary purposes, recommended it be granted. Adopted.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of McDuff Bros., asking the privilege of erecting a lime depot on the street, reported adversely, but recommended that they have the privilege of leasing sufficient ground within the enclosure of the Warm Springs pasture, for that purpose, on such terms as could be mutually agreed upon between the Mayor and the petitioners. Adopted.

Three thousand dollars was appropriated to pay a note held by the Deseret National Bank, and $90 interest.

A bill from Armstrong & Bagley for $37 59 for lumber was received and the amount appropriated.

The bill for an ordinance relating to signs and awnings was taken up and passed.

Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

A Trip to Sanpete.—We are indebted to Brother George F. Gibbs for the following notes:

President John Taylor, accompanied by a portion of his family and Elder W. Woodruff, Elder E. Snow and wife, and Elder F. D. Richards, Bishops Hardy and Burton, and Brothers J. Nuttall, J. W. Taylor and G. C. Lambert, left the city on Wednesday morning, the 15th inst., by the Utah Southern Railroad, for Sanpete. The party were met at York by President Geo. Teasdale, with carriages. They drove to Nephi on the afternoon of the same day. In the evening a meeting was held, which was largely attended. The speakers were Elders Hardy, Snow and President Taylor.

The following day, Thursday, they started for Ephraim, a distance of about 34 miles. They stopped a short time on the way at Fountain Green, Bishop Johnson entertaining most of the company. During the afternoon a fair specimen of the dust-storm was encountered, followed by a very cold wind and snow-storm, which lasted more or less continuously until the next day. It was with no small degree of gratification that the party sighted the housetops of Ephraim, and it is doubtful whether the fire, which burns as cheerfully in the fireplaces so common to southern houses, was at any time during the frosts of "King Winter," more agreeable than it had now become, in consequence of the unexpected appearance of the "Stern Monarch's Bride." Elder Woodruff, who had been slowly recovering from a severe cold, of long standing, became quite ill, experiencing much discomfort from an affection of the lungs, caused through this very severe change of weather, for which he was not prepared. President Taylor, having telegraphed an appointment for a meeting at this place, filled it himself, the other members of his party seeking that rest which, under the circumstances, they much needed.

On Friday, the company (excepting Elder Woodruff, who was still quite unwell, with President Peterson, drove over to Manti, Pres. Taylor desiring to witness the progress that had been made in preparing the site for the building of the Temple. This was a very pleasing feature of the visit. They met on the grounds Elders Folsom, Maiben, Parry, Joseph J. Taylor, Christensen, and others engaged there. The appearance of this mountain spur, which is to be so honored, has greatly changed since the last visit, about a year ago, when the late President B. Young dedicated it for the purpose for which it is now being shaped. A stranger from the old world could easily believe that a fort or fortification was being built, the substantial terrace walls, four in number, each 16 feet high and six feet thick at base, tapering to two feet at the top, rising one above the other, each measuring about a quarter of a mile around, present such an appearance. The work of excavation is not yet completed. Little, however, compared with what has been done, remains unfinished, yet that little is in the shape of a bulk of debris of no inconsiderable dimensions, the walls are also yet to be coped, and the main steps leading from the street below to the site are to be laid. It is expected that this preparatory work will be consummated by the 17th of August next, the time of holding the next Quarterly Conference, when it is anticipated the corner-stone of the Temple will be laid. The quarry was visited, which is only a short distance from the grounds, which furnishes very suitable building material of water formation. Pres. Taylor expressed himself satisfied with the labors of the brethren, remarking that when the site is ready half the work undertaken would be done.

After dinner the company drove to Spring City, the residence of Elder Orson Hyde, whom we found in better health than he had been for a short time previously.

On Saturday the party were among the good people of Mount Pleasant, where conference was held on that and the following day, the minutes of which Bro. Lund will furnish. An excellent time was spent. In consequence of the crowded state of the congregations, or the very limited seating capacity of the meeting-house, fully one-third of the people had to stand, and a great many failed to obtain convenient standing room outside in the immediate vicinity of the hall, and yet there seemed to be a total absence of children. The company drove to Moroni, in the evening, when a meeting was held, which was addressed by Elders R. T. Burton, L. W. Hardy and F. D. Richards. On the following day the company dined at Fountain Green, and also attended meeting, which was addressed by Elders Snow, Richards, Burton, Hardy, Nuttall, Teasdale and President Taylor. Here as elsewhere the meeting-house was uncomfortably crowded, which inconvenience is about to be remedied by building a new and more commodious one.

Bros. Snow and Nuttall, who are on their way home, parted from the other members of the company, the others proceeded to Nephi, in the afternoon, experiencing a very heavy rainstorm. While traveling in Salt Creek Cañon, the carriage in which Brothers Woodruff, Richards and others were riding, suddenly assumed a somewhat awkward position, by the breaking of the kingbolt. Fortunately, as it was remarked, the horses, which were driven and owned by Bro. Jenkins, of Nephi, seemed to comprehend the situation and acted accordingly, and no injury was sustained. At Nephi, the same evening, a meeting was held, which was addressed by Elders Burton and Hardy, and President Taylor.

Notwithstanding the unpleasantness of the weather, the trip was a most enjoyable one; the meetings throughout were excellent, much timely and suitable instruction was imparted, and the countenances of the people generally bespoke their appreciation of the same.

The company returned last evening all well.
