

OUR OWN STATE.

The branch office of the Deseret News in Ogden is at No. 466 Twenty-fourth street, where advertisements and subscriptions will be received. The "News" is delivered by carriers in Ogden every evening on the same terms as in Salt Lake City.

OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, UTAH, - MARCH 13, 1902.

FUNERAL OF C. E. MAYNARD

Services Largely Attended by Masonic and Other Fraternal Bodies.

Probate and Other Court Hearings—Horse Trade Case Dismissed—Anderson-Jones Nuptials.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church. The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Maynard, the unfortunate man who was killed a few days ago by being run over in the Union depot yards by a switch engine, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Popplewell, on lower Twenty-fourth street. The services were conducted by the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The services were very largely attended. The Masonic lodge, B. of R. T., and several other railroad orders attended the funeral in a body. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The Southern Utah tribune played a most beautiful floral tribute to the deceased. The remains were taken to the Union depot for shipment to the home of the deceased. A large funeral cortege followed the remains to the depot. The services were held at the residence of the deceased, which was a large and comfortable home. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

speakers addressed the meeting, all expressing approval of the movement and a desire to work unitedly for the material progress of the city. It was unanimously agreed to organize and the committee on permanent organization, to report at the next meeting, March 15, was appointed. George E. Howe, E. J. Ward, George Startup, Alex. Hedquist, Jr., and R. L. Irvine.

DISTRICT COURT.

The following business was transacted before Judge McCarthy in the Fourth district court yesterday:

Estate of James Smith, deceased; John W. Smith and Abraham L. Smith appointed administrators; bonds $500. Middlesex Banking company vs. Thomas Hill, et al.; demurrer overruled, 20 days to answer.

Estate of John C. Davis, deceased; petition to sell real estate granted. Joseph Johnson vs. Mercur Gold Mining and Milling company; dismissed without prejudice.

Estate of Howell Davis, deceased; affidavit of administrator approved; John W. Smith and Abraham L. Smith appointed commissioners; leave given to amend.

The case of Stanley L. Conklin vs. Orliga was continued. Plaintiff sued for defendant's obligation to the south of lot 2, block 20, plat A, Pleasant Grove, which has been bought by a foreclosure sale under a trust deed in favor of the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage & Trust company. The defense is that the trust deed was given without any consideration, and as additional security for an advance made to the plaintiff by the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage & Trust company by B. W. Driggs, Jr., Judge Booth made the following orders:

Spanish Fork city et al. vs. Spanish Fork East Bench Irrigation & Manufacturing company, et al.; demurrer to affidavit in the matter of contempt of Jos. Evans, Frank Elmer and Lars Peterson sustained and leave given to amend.

Willard Racker was committed to the Industrial school on the grounds of incorrigibility.

UTAH COUNTY MORTGAGES.

In response to a request from "Companion," of Salt Lake City, the Utah County Recorder has sent the following in regard to mortgages in Utah county valid mortgages of record Dec. 31, 1901 (exclusive of railroad mortgages): Number, 409; value, $236,472.80. Mortgages recorded during 1901—Number, 165; value, $91,912.48. Mortgages satisfied or released during 1901—Number, 599; value, $388,969.39.

WILLIAMS-ROWLAND WEDDING.

A marriage license was issued to Ed. Williams, 31, of Springfield, and Minnie E. Rowland, 21, of Ogden.

DIVORCE WANTED.

Pearl Kirkham, of Lehi, has commenced suit for divorce against Richard Kirkham on the grounds of failure to provide. The parties were married Nov. 10, 1899. Plaintiff asks for the custody of one minor child, 13 months old, and for the return of her property.

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. E. Thurman, of Garden City, on March 10. The child is a healthy boy, weighing 10 pounds, and accompanied by his wife, left today for Salt Lake where they will join the tabernacle choir excursion to the coast.

City Marshall Tucker has ordered uniforms for the police officers, he having been advised that the council on Monday evening will order the recommendation of the mayor that the police be uniformed.

Judge McCarthy will hold court in room 20, at the Commercial hotel, on Monday morning, at 10 o'clock. Judge Booth will hold court on Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, in room 20, at the Commercial hotel.

Stepped Into Live Coals.

"When a child I turned my foot lightly," writes W. H. Eads, of Jonesville, Va., "which caused horrible leg sores for 20 years, but which I cured by using the medicine after everything else failed." Infirmary for Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Sores, Bruises and Piles. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. 25c.

LEHI.

BET GROWER PROMOTED.

Large Migration to Canada of Cattlemen—Others to Follow.

Special Correspondence.

Lehi, Utah Co., March 12.—Mr. William McOmie of this place has just accepted a position with the Greeley Beet Sugar company of Greeley, Colo., as assistant field superintendent and will leave here for that place Saturday morning.

Mr. McOmie is a young man 26 years of age and has been a very successful beet grower, having been a contractor with the Utah Sugar company ever since he left college.

In Utah, Mr. McOmie ever since he was 10 years old has had to oversee and manage a farm, as his father died in 1885, leaving him the sole responsibility of running the farm on his young son, which he has operated very successfully from that date until now and through his energetic labors is recognized today as one of our best farmers.

MIGRATING TO CANADA.

In the course of two or three days quite a number of our citizens will leave for Magrath, Canada, where they expect to make their future home, some of these have already purchased large tracts of land in that locality. There will be in all from 12 to 14 carloads consisting of household goods, cattle, horses, etc., and the following persons: William Stacey and son, Charles K. and son, Mr. Harmon, Joseph Goates, Neil Otterson, D. T. Fowler and family, William Jacobs and family, John Bone, Jr., George and Frank Miller, James and son, Charles K. and son, Henry Howes, Jesse Fox. In addition to these one car of household goods and five persons from Salt Lake county will join the company.

Most of those leaving from Lehi are cattle men and their reason for leaving is to launch out into this business more extensively. There are also a number of others who expect to make Canada their home if they can sell out their homes and property here at the prices they have asked.

What's Your Face Worth?

Sometimes a fortune, but never, if you have a sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin—all signs of Liver Trouble. But Dr. King's New Life Pills give Clear Skin, Rosy Cheeks, Rich Complexion. Only 25 cents at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

MISSIONARY REMOVED.

Brother Carl G. Youngberg having received word through "box 13" that he had been called to fill a foreign mission, readily and willingly resigned his position as a member of the church, and will leave for his mission on or about the 12th of March.

What this Boy's Mother Says has been said by the mothers of many other boys and girls, regarding the wonderful curative and strengthening qualities of

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists on guarantee to benefit or money refunded.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

COALVILLE.

DISTRICT COURT HEARINGS.

Wedding Permits—W. W. Cluff Celebrates Seventeenth Birthday.

Special Correspondence.

Coalville, Summit Co., March 11.—Marriage licenses were issued this week to William Myrick, 34, and Miss Martha Hoyt, 23, both of Marquette, Summit county, and to M. J. Eashy and Miss Lela Cunningham, both of Park City.

Elder W. W. Cluff celebrated his 17th birthday on the 10th. Besides his family a great number of his friends were present from different parts of the state. The evening was spent in speeches, songs, and social chat. Elder Cluff was presented with a nice case. An elegant luncheon was served, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Hoytville held ward conference on Sunday, the 9th. The ward presidency was held by Elder W. W. Cluff, and all officers present and all expressed their willingness to magnify their calling. They were unanimously sustained.

Coalville is erecting a new bridge over Clark creek, which will be a credit to the city.

CHEYENNE, WYOMING.

INDUCEMENTS TO HOMES IN THE LARGE INCREASE OF POPULATION ANTICIPATED IN BIG HORN BASIN.

Special Correspondence.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 11.—It is estimated that the population of the Big Horn basin will be increased during the next 12 months by from 1,000 to 5,000 people. The several irrigation and colonization schemes, the building of a canal, and the fact that the land is so fertile and the climate so pleasant, are all factors which will attract a large number of people to the basin. The fact that the land is so fertile and the climate so pleasant, are all factors which will attract a large number of people to the basin.

ST. CHARLES, IDAHO.

VILE SLANDERER ANSWERED.

Elder Wilhelmson Remains Brought Home from Denmark After 20 Years.

Special Correspondence.

St. Charles, Bear