A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THE MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RAILWAY

By reason of its central position with relation to all principal lines East and West, at initial and terminal points, constitutes the most important mid-continental link in that system of transportation which invites and facilitates travel and traffic between the cities of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It is also the favorite and direct route to and from points East, Northeast and Southeast, and correspondingly West, Northwest and Southwest.

The Rock Island system includes in its main line and branches, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Marion, Cedar Rapids, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Hamilton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atchison, in Kansas; Albert Lea, Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown in Dakota, and hundreds of intermediate cities, towns, villages and stations.

THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

Guarantees its patrons that sense of personal security afforded by a solid, thoroughly ballasted road-bed; smooth tracks of continuous steel rail; substantially built culverts and bridges, rolling stock as near perfection as mechanical skill can make it; the safety appliances of patent buffers, platforms and air-brakes; and that exacting discipline which governs the practical operation of all its trains. Other specialties of this route are Transfers at all connecting points in Union Depots, and the unsurpassed comforts and luxuries of its Passenger Equipment.

The Fast Express Trains between Chicago and the Missouri River are composed of well ventilated, finely upholstered Day Coaches, Magnificent Pullman Palace Sleepers of the latest design, and Dining Cars, in which elaborately cooked meals are leisurely eaten, and Digestion waiting on Appetite, and Health on both." Between Chicago and Kansas City and Atchison, are also run the Celebrated Reclining Chair Cars.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE

Is the direct and favorite line between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. Close connections are made in Union Depots for points in the Territories and British Provinces. Over this route Pullman Palace Cars are run to the watering places, summer resorts, picturesque scenery, and hunting and fishing grounds of Iowa and Minnesota. It is also the most desirable route to the rich wheat fields and pastoral lands of interior Dakota.

Still another DIRECT LINE, via Seneca and Kankakee, has been opened between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette and Council Bluffs, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul, with intermediate points.

OUR OGDEN LETTER.

ANOTHER ARREST—THE HEMENWAY CASES—THE G. A. R.—ANOTHER SOLDIER.

OGDEN CITY, Utah, July 29th, 1886.

Editor Deseret News:

Last evening Wm. Geddes, of Plain City, was arrested on the popular charge, namely,

UNLAWFUL COHABITATION.

Some time since some of his family were before the grand jury, when they furnished the information which resulted in his arrest. He waived a preliminary examination and gave bonds in the sum of $2,000 to appear when called upon to answer to the indictment. This morning he appeared in the District Court, Judge Powers on the bench, and pleaded "not guilty," with the privilege if he desired at a future time of withdrawing that plea and pleading "guilty," or making other motions in the premises. Isaac L. Clark and David Kay were accepted as Geddes' bondsmen.

On Tuesday morning, Judge Powers remarked that about the first duty he had to perform on assuming the judgeship of the First District was to charge the grand jury, and singularly enough his last duty in this was to discharge a similar body, and after a nice little game of "tickle me Billy," he bade them an affectionate "farewell." But in this it would now seem that he was a little "too previous," for after the court was opened this morning Editor C. W. Hemenway was called in when Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, Orden Hiles made a motion to vacate the order of the court suspending the sentence in the Hemenway libel case and that

SENTENCE BE PRONOUNCED.

This took the editor by surprise and the motion fell like a thunder clap on his ears. He asked the court the reason of this, to him, strange and unexpected proceeding. The attorney answered that the court records do not show that any such order suspending the sentence had been made, and there was nothing to show whether the defendant had complied with the conditions of the order to suspend. The matter was locked up in the breast of His Honor and there concealed. Judge Powers may remove from this District, another Judge may come, and if there is no record of this case, the new incumbent would have no jurisdiction in the matter, neither could the prosecuting attorney call it up. He therefore renewed his motion to vacate and to have sentence pronounced.

Mr. Hemenway said he did not know what he could say in regard to the motion, but if he had time to consult an attorney he might be able to say something about it. After a brief pause and some reflection by the court the further consideration of the case was postponed until 2 p.m.

AFTERNOON.

This morning the seats in the body of the court room were all vacant, and there were but few members of the bar present. At recess the report that Mr. Hemenway had again been arraigned flew out on the wings of the wind and upon that the "Hall of Justice" was filled with sensationalists, and the bar was well represented. In the meantime the defendant had engaged the professional services of James N. Kimball, who, it will be remembered, was the attorney for the prosecution when Mr. Hemenway against General Nathan Kimball, father of the attorney. When the case was called this afternoon Mr. Kimball said he felt much delicacy and diffidence in appearing now in this case, on account of his former connection it, but nevertheless he would do his duty. Mr. Kimball understood, it seemed that counsel for the people (Mr. Hiles) had stated that this court had not authority to suspend sentence in this case. He then employed his forensic skill and legal acumen to establish the fact that this and other courts had unquestioned authority to suspend sentence, and that it had been preached in England and other countries, as well as in the United States courts, for many generations and quoted at length, and read copiously from many authorities to establish his position; and then showed that it was the practise in

WAS TRIED FOR LIBEL

THE COURTS OF UTAH.

He argued that if there was no statutory authority for what the court had done in this case, it had ample and unquestioned authority—under the common law. But counsel argued that, if sentence was passed on the defendant, it should have been done during the term of court in which he had been found guilty, and that it should not be called now at this late date; as, he argued, no law required it.

MR. HILES.

For the people did not attempt to deny that the court had authority to suspend sentence, but some good and sufficient grounds must be taken, and good reasons must be shown for suspending the sentence; it must be on the grounds of public policy, or conditions entered into by the defendant, which he was required to fulfil on his post. The court records too must show all these facts on their pages.

But counsel said he was utterly surprised when he came to examine the records in this case that there was no reason whatever assigned by the court for suspending sentence in the case of The People vs. C. W. Hemenway. The court records were produced and the minutes of the proceedings read—which showed the simple fact that sentence of Charles W. Hemenway had been suspended until further orders by this court. If the records had shown sufficient grounds for the suspension, counsel for The People would then have come in and shown that the conditions had not been complied with by defendant. He protested against any further indulgence by the court, and as public prosecutor, on behalf of The People he demanded that without further delay.

After a few more remarks from defendant's counsel, the court read the defendant a most scathing lecture on the heinousness of his "libelous conduct," and set aside his former order Mr. Hemenway was ordered to stand up, which he did. His Honor then reminded him that he had been indicted by the grand jury of the First District with libelling Nathan Kimball; thus on the 13th day of July of last year he was arraigned and plead "Not Guilty," but on the 21st of December following he went into court, withdrew this plea and entered

"A PLEA OF GUILTY,"

consequently he stood convicted on his own confession. The Court then asked defendant if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him. He replied that he could say nothing that would give the Court any information on the matter, more than it possessed. Judge Powers then reminded Mr. Hemenway that at the time sentence was suspended he promised to live within the law and set a salutary example to his brethren of the press, and thus he would cease to libel any other persons, and the Court intended to give him an opportunity to prove himself in this regard. His Honor had watched his course since that time and had noticed that he had indulged in libelling private individuals, he (Judge Powers) being included among them; that female virtue and innocence were no protection against his attacks; he had libelled the

and had not spared members of his own fraternity. He did not care so much for his attacks on the court, but his public duty made it imperative on him to make an example for his attacks on others, and he would do it. He said the defendant came into this place claiming to be a Gentile; that he had abused them; that he had imposed himself on the "Mormons," had eaten their bread, and that he (the judge) knew, and others knew, that Hemenway would yet betray the "Mormons" like he had betrayed other people; he accused him of insincerity in that the court said he knew that Hemenway did not believe the "Mormon" doctrines, etc., etc. Such a tirade, and such a string of scathing accusations against a

was never before uttered from the bench in this city by anyone who has occupied the judgment seat in the First District Court. Poor Hemenway. He is in the toils. He was not prepared for this day's experience. All that he has heard in the court to-day relative to him has fallen like a thunderbolt on his ears, and he appeared to be completely stunned by the utterances of the judge.

At the close of his lecture he sentenced the editor to pay a fine of $300 for the libel against Nathan Kimball, and to stand committed to the custody of the U. S. Marshal until the fine is paid. For the libel against Chief Justice Chas. S. Zane, he was sentenced to be imprisoned—confined in —for the term of one year. He was then delivered into the hands of Deputy Marshal Steele. Mr. Kimball gave notice that he would file a bill of exceptions and asked the court to fix the amount of bail which it did at at $3,000, and defendant was given till Saturday next to complete the matter. Mr. Hemenway was unable to procure bail, so I presume he will spend the night in the county prison.

THE COUNTY JAIL

The feelings in this community in relation to this matter are diversified. Some of the anti-"Mormons" are in high glee at the denouement; and they take no pains to conceal their joy at the fact that Mr. Hemenway

"HAS BEEN CRUSHED"

—that such a severe and unlooked-for punishment has been inflicted on him. Others think it is cruel and that such a penalty is uncalled for and was inspired by vindictiveness. Others, again, think that Powers may carry with him into retirement the satisfaction of having attempted to muzzle the press and suppress free speech; to squelch free thought and action in religion in Utah; but the remembrance of these things will, like chickens, "return home to roost," will corrode his soul, and be as the gall of bitterness in his cup of joy in the future. He has wound up his career ingloriously, and may live to realize the same measure that he has meted out to so many others—good men and true—loyal, peaceful citizens, during his brief sojourn in the Territory of Utah.

The railroad depots to-day have been crowded with Grand Army of the Republic excursionists. Four long trains had arrived this afternoon, and three more were expected, and among them General John A. Logan. The John A. Dix post of this place was out in full force to meet their confreres from the east. Many of the were fought over again this afternoon, as the "boys in blue" were gathered in groups and recounting the bloody conflicts and the parts they took in them. Numbers of them seemed to be full of the martial spirit, and ready to take the field "in defense of the glorious Union." There was, however, one peculiarity in some of the members of the G. A. R., who wore badges which it is supposed they won by deeds of valor, thus distinguishing themselves on the field of conflict, the peculiarity is this: Some of these veterans who wore these honors were just begining to cultivate a beard, and a down mustash was begining to sprout on their upper lips. These brave soldiers must have been from one to two years old when the war broke out.

What an experience there must have been, and how martial they now appear, and no wonder. But the cruel war is ended—the battle strife is over, and they are now enjoying the sweets of peace. But there was another soldier that attracted my attention while elbowing way through the crowd. One who had enlisted for life and afterwards. He had stood by his colors. This soldier of the cross is who has suffered for conscience' sake. He has just finished a term of six months' imprisonment in the penitentiary, because he would neither deny his religion, his God, nor disown his family and turn part of them adrift on the cold world, to live if they could or—to perish and die. He returned home by the train which arrived here at 5:30 p.m. He looks well, feels the same, is thankful to be once more among his friends at home, and is thankful that God has enabled him to maintain his integrity to the truth. He has more friends to-day than those who so savagely prosecuted him.
