Conductor, Mr. Gardner; accompanist, Mr. Giles. Tickets for sale at Careless & Croxall's, Miss Nellie Croxall's, Mrs. M. J. Horner, of choir members and at door on night of concert.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A Mayfield Marriage.—Friday, the 18th inst., was an interesting occasion in the little town of Mayfield, Sevier County, the event being the marriage of Mr. George T. Olsen and Miss Katherine M. Edwards. The former is the son of a Bishop P. C. Olsen, and the latter the daughter of Counselor James Edwards, of Pettysville. Many were present, and all had a splendid time, feasting, dancing and congratulating the happy pair.

The Carp Car.—A telegram from A. M. Musser, Esq., at Ogden, states that the "Fish Car," with carp for distribution, will be in Salt Lake City to-morrow (Thursday) morning.

This will be a great accommodation to applicants in this city, as it has hitherto been supposed they would have to meet the car in Ogden, or else have the fish expressed from there at their personal expense.

Church Emigration Agent.—This morning we were pleased to welcome back our esteemed friend and brother, Elder James H. Hart, Church emigration agent, who returned from New York yesterday morning in good health and spirits. He will go north to Bloomington in a few days, to remain until his duties call him back to New York in the Spring.

During his absence from that city his business will be carefully looked after by Mr. John W. Romaine. Communications should be addressed to Elder Hart, as usual, his Postoffice address being Box 18, New York City.

The Contributor.—The table of contents for the November Contributor, which will be out on Thursday, is as follows:

History of the Book of Mormon: contents of the Original Records, I. George Reynolds; Wonders of the Yellowstone: Grayson, H. De Vallibus; A Prayer, Ruby Lamont; Political Institutions, II, J. M. Tanner; International Battle Grounds, J. H. Ward; Serious and Warnings of the Prophecy: Plurality of Wives, President Brigham Young; The Druids of Ancient Britain, Chas. W. Stagner; Native Tribes of the Far North, H. B. Barker; Ireland and the Irish, H. B. Barker; Selected; The St. Gothard Railway; Selected; Does the Bible contain all the Scriptures? B. H. Roberts; Edward Hunter, O. F. Whitney; Editorial: Reformation; Selby Days, Amethyal; Association Intelligence; Semi-Annual Conference, Quarterly Conference—Utah.

DEATH OF DAVID P. KIMBALL.

A FEW FACTS RELATING TO THE DECEASED.

The sudden news of the death of Elder David P. Kimball, one of the Presidents of the St. Joseph Stake of Zion, will be sad intelligence indeed to his many friends who reside in this locality. A private telegram from President O. Layton to President John Taylor, brought the tidings of his decease at half-past six o'clock this morning at his home to which he recently returned, in St. David, Cooshie County, Arizona. His ailment was typhoid pneumonia. David Patton Kimball was the fourth son and sixth child of the late President Hester C. and Vilate Murray Kimball, and was born at Commerce, (afterwards Nauvoo), Hancock County Illinois, on the 23d of August, 1839. He was but three weeks old when his father left home on his second mission to England.

He came to Salt Lake Valley in 1848, the year after the arrival of the Pioneers, being then a small boy, accompanying his mother and the rest of her children. He spent the most of his life in Utah, and grew up a strong, powerful man, active and energetic, one who made his mark on everything he undertook to perform. He was brave to a fault, hardy and capable, a natural pioneer and colonizer, though also possessed of a fine spiritual nature.

In the winter of 1859, the year of the hand-craft company disaster, he with many others went out to meet and rescue the perishing immigrants. It was from wading rivers and working his way through snow banks, carrying the people in his arms, and performing such like deeds of kindness, to the exposure of his own person, that he contracted a serious cold from the effects of which he never afterwards entirely recovered.

In the year 1863 he left here on a mission to England, and labored in Southampton as a traveling Elder, after which he presided over the Birmingham district, comprising the Birmingham, Staffordshire and Warwickshire Conferences. He returned to Utah in the early part of 1863.

During the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad, he took a contract in the vicinity of Bear River, east of this city, and assisted in building that road during the summer of 1868 and the winter of 1869.

He removed to the Bear Lake Country in the spring of 1869 or 1870 and was the President of the Bear Lake Stake for several years. He returned to Salt Lake City in 1875 or 1876, and built him a home in the Eighteenth Ward, the present residence of Dr. John R. Park.

He also engaged in business, repaired the old mill belonging to the Kimball estate and renovated the family property in general. He afterwards removed in the summer of 1877, to Arizona, lived there in various places, and finally settled at St. David, where he died.

His last visit to this city was at the late October Conference, in one of the meetings of which he spoke briefly and feelingly, bearing testimony to the truth of God's latter-day work, and expressing his desire to worship and represent it for the remainder of his days. He seemed to have no idea of his approaching end, in fact expressed himself quite to the opposite of such a probability, remarking to his sister, Mrs. Helen M. Whitney, while visiting at her house, "You will go, I think, before I do. I am not good enough to die. I shall likely live for many years."

It is thought by some of his relatives, that the remains will be brought here for burial, but as his own family are all in Arizona, it is exceedingly doubtful that this will be done.

MISSIONARIES FROM THE SOUTH.

RETURN OF ELDERS JOHN MORGAN, CHARLES F. MARTINEAU, JAS. JENKINS AND SAMUEL JACKSON.

Yesterday morning's train to the D. & R. G. Railway, brought to Salt Lake City the above named Elders from the Southern States; President Morgan, accompanied by his wife, returning from a flying visit to the region in which he has labored so long and successfully, and the other brethren having filled up terms of various length in endeavoring to promote the interests of the Lord's work in that land. Elder Morgan we have not yet had the pleasure of meeting. The other brethren called in yesterday and today.

Elder Martineau, whose home is in Logan, left here on the 11th of April, 1892, and preceded to Middle Tennessee, where he labored the whole time with the exception of two months spent in the Western part of the State. In the latter region, he and his companion Elder were threatened by a mob, who assembled with hickories to whip them if they did not leave the neighborhood. Deeming it wisdom to go, the brethren left accordingly. He baptized and assisted to administer that ordinance during his ministry to 18 persons.

Elder Jenkins left Nephi, his home, on the 17th of September, 1891, and labored altogether in South Carolina, in Burke County principally, though he also preached in McDowell County, and after the 20th of last March, being appointed to preside over the Conference, moved about generally. He was well treated as a rule, by the people at large, and though often threatened, especially in a place in Burke County, (from which Elders W. H. Clayton, Richard A. Robinson and Joseph H. Baker were expelled some time ago), he was not molested. He officiated in thirteen baptisms and assisted in performing a number of others. He met many kind-hearted people, not of his faith, who were willing to share every comfort with him.

Elder Jackson, who also resides in

Nephi, left home on the same date as Brother Jenkins, and on arriving at his destination was assigned to labor in Alabama. He was with Elder B. L. Bowen for the first eight months, in Cullman and Morgan Counties, and afterwards traveled with Elder Charles Andrews. They were mobbed in Cullman County, having rocks thrown at them, and being threatened with death, an account of which was published in this paper at the time. Elder Jackson then went to Tennessee, where he and Elder Joseph J. Adams opened up a new field in Jackson and Putnam Counties. From the 20th of last March, he had charge of the East Tennessee Conference, until he was released to come home. He baptized in all 13 souls, and assisted other brethren to perform that ceremony in numbers of other cases. As a general thing he was treated very kindly, and he, as well as the rest, places high value on his missionary experience.

Phenomenal Appearance.—About half past five o'clock yesterday morning, the attention of the night watchmen on the block between the Eagle Emporium and the Continental Hotel, was attracted by a broad belt of pluish light, very beautiful in appearance, resting along the sky just over the summits of the mountains, and seeming to proceed from beyond the hills and form a portion of the horizon.

Nightwatchman E. Hanham was among the first to notice it, and he pointed it out to Charles Bugees, who had also just seen it, and afterwards directed the attention thither of Henry Holland, who watches the Calder property in that neighborhood. The red light remained above the mountains until sunrise. About five minutes after six o'clock there proceeded out of the red cloud a pillar of similar hue, which traveled in a vertical attitude across the summits to the northward, until it rested in an inclined position on the eastern slope of Ensign Peak.

It almost immediately ascended to the summit and there resumed its upright, column-like position, and settled on the top of the peak, at the same time growing in width to the same size as the mountain, and looming up about 100 feet. It remained thus for fully fifteen minutes, then slowly faded as the sun began to dawn, and finally disappeared.

Left for the South.—Apostle F. M. Lyman, left this evening for Provo, where he will be joined tomorrow by Elder Abraham H. Cannon, and the two will then proceed to Fillmore, to attend the Millard Stake Conference next Saturday and Sunday. Brother Lyman will go from there to Beaver and Parowan and after holding meetings in both places, to Panguitch to attend conference on the following Saturday and Sunday. A week thence he will be in Orderville to attend the Kanab Conference.

A concert and ball is to be given by the Glen Glen Club and Orchestra, in the Twelfth Ward Assembly Rooms on Friday evening, Nov. 25. Tickets to be had for either concert, ball, or both. A fine dual programme is prepared.

"Since the opening of the Northern Pacific," says an exchange, "Montana has been overrun by such a horde of bad to worse show companies that the outraged citizens think some of tearing up the track." And yet Montana seems to Lang rishe for such things.

Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, U. S. Senator from Indiana, says: "I consider St. Jacobs Oil a splendid remedy. I suffered from rheumatism of the back. I used St. Jacobs Oil, which gave me much relief, and finally cured me completely."

A CASE NOT BEYOND HELP.

Dr. M. H. Hinesdale, Kenawee, Ill., writes us of a remarkable cure of consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quick Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her work and had no idea she could recover."

Watson's Neuralgia King.

This is one of the best remedies for Neuralgia ever invented. It is not a stimulant, but is a sedative and is taken internally, and cures by going right to the root of the disease. A lady who had tried many other things without relief, tried Neuralgia King, and was immediately cured. We guarantee it in all cases, when used according to directions.

Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., quickly relieved by Brown's Bronchial Troches. A simple and effective remedy, superior to all other articles for the same purpose. Sold only in boxes.

Neither mental nor physical labor can be accomplished satisfactorily unless the system is in order. When you feel tired, languid, wearied without exertion, the mind slow to act, and requiring great mental effort, you can rest assured that your liver is not acting properly, and that nature requires assistance to help throw off impurities. There is no remedy that will accomplish this so mildly and yet effectually as "Prickly Ash Bitters." A trial will satisfy you of its merits.

As a true and efficient tonic, and one that exerts all other from medicine, take Brown's Iron Bitters.

Jewelry and Toys are going for almost nothing at the Assignee's sale, opposite the Big Co-op.
