ter by Attorney Chez. The state was confident it had sufficient evidence to convict, and the defense felt about the same way, but both sides fought vig- orously. The men were charged-with attempting to rob an old man named Kelley about two months ago. The testimony was that the young men struck the old man and tried to get his money, but were unsuccessful. The defendants claimed that the old man attempted to assault them and their testimony was so convincing that they were released. The jury was out only a short time when the verdict of not guilty was rendered. The court took occasion to state that he did not believe the boys guilty, but severely repai- manded them for not leading upright lives. The case against O'Connor was the only one heard, and when the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, the district attorney asked that the case against Desmond be dismissed, as O'Connor was the man who struck the blow and the attorney said if he could not be convicted, surely Desmond could not be, hence he desired the case dismissed, and the court so ordered it. John S. Donahue, who was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm, will ap- pear before the court for sentence Fri- day morning at 10 o'clock.	 Wm. Roylance Better - Candidate for In dustrial School Notes. Provo, Sept. 11.—In the case of Utah county vs Thomas Boardman, Judge Booth decided that the restraining order enjoining defendant shall stand until the final hearing of the case. Davir Cairns was sentenced to the industrial school. This is the 13-year- old boy from American Fork who was before the court last week. Sentence was then suspended because his attor- ney and the city marshal of American Fork believed a home could be found for him where he would be favored by better surroundings, and the boy wanted another chance. An effort was made to find a home for him, but this was not successful. The city marshal informed the "News" reporter that when applica- tions were made the answer would be " No, send him to the reform school, where he belongs." In the case of J. F. Brim vs V. D. Cram, the former decision was changed, and findings as prepared by plaintiff, accepted. Andrew Park and many others, of Fairfield, have commenced suit against Jacob L. McKinney and many other de- fendants to determine the rights of the parties to the waters of Camp Floyd or Fairfield spring. WEDDING BELLS.

Frank Le Moyne Smith made appliation in the district court for a writ of habeas corpus, for the recovery and possession of a little girl, his daughter, possession of a fille gift, his adugater, whom he alleged was being illegally held from him by Mrs. Sarah J. Mc-Cart and Earl B. McCart. An answer to the application has been filed in the court by L. Maginnis as attorney for the McCarts. The answer sets forth that the applicant, Frank L. Smith, and Lizzle May Smith, were man and wife that in 1895 they were divorced, the custody of the child being awarded to the mother who has ever since had her in her possession and has cared for and educated the child in a careful manner. That a short time ago the mother of the child went to Omaha on a visit and left the little girl in their care until she returns. That since care until she returns. That since the said divorce the father has not spent one cent for the support or care spent one cent for the support of care of his child, and that he now wants to get possession of her to take her to lowa so that the mother cannot have her. The defendants in their answer father therefore state that as the child was awarded the mother by a court, at the time of the divorce, therefore this court has no jurisdiction in the case, and asks that the application for the writ be dis-

KAMAS.

Sunday School Outing - Ward Socials, Etc., Etc.

Special Correspondence. Kamas, Sept. 7.-The Sunday schools of our ward held their annual last Friday at Woodland, five miles from this place. The teachers provided wagons for the school and both in going and returning a jolly time was had. At the grounds an interesting time was had including games, and had including games, and various amusements and picnic for all.

WARD FUNCTIONS.

On Saturday the stake presidency and Bishops of Peoa, Kamas and Bench Cheek met at this place and organized a prayer circle for this part of the stake. On the evening of the same day the local bishopric prepared a social and rcunion of the people of the ward, in-viting everyone whether members of the Church or not. A large crowd was in attendance and a very enoyable time was had, besides the very benficent effects noted in knitting those living in the ward to closer relations with each other. The program consisted of short speeches interspersed wich songs, recitations and social chat The stake presidency joined in the festivities and enjoyed the spiritual and temporal feast that was spread for the occasion,

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

A committee of amusements was recently appointed whose duties are to take the initiative in all gatherings of a social character, or amusements de-signated for the pleasure of the ward members under Church auspices.
