A. W. McCUNE IN WRECK

Salt Lake Has a Narrow Escape
In Collision in Peru.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 9.—A regular passenger train on the way to Croya with ex-President Romana and a party of his friends and Alfred McCune, an American to whom the government has granted a concession to build a railroad in Peru, collided with a descending train. One person was killed and 13 others injured seriously. Senator Romana and his party and Mr. McCune escaped with a severe shaking up.

From dispatches received from Denver this morning it was learned that the ticket agents and their wives, to the number of 250 will arrive in Salt Lake tonight and tomorrow morning. There will be one carload on No. 3 tonight and two on No. 5 in the morning. The dispatch requests that the convention be not called in the Assembly Hall until 11 a. m., instead of 10 a. m. tomorrow, as first arranged.

With the object in view of giving the visitors a good send-off there was a meeting held this morning in the office of General Passenger Agent Burley of the Short Line at which were present D. E. Burley, chairman, T. M. Schumacher, I. A. Benton and Messrs. Drake Neslen, Moore and Cushing, representing respectively the Oregon Short Line, Rio Grande, Rock Island, Burlington and the Salt Lake Route. It was the sense of the meeting that until C. G. Cadwallader, secretary of the association, arrived tonight that it would be impossible to draw up a set program. He and H. M. Cushing were accordingly detailed to meet the secretary tonight and find out just what would be an appropriate program.

Unless other arrangements are made the convention of the International Association of Ticket Agents will commence at the Assembly Hall tomorrow at 11 a. m. Addresses will be given by Gov. H. M. Wells, Hon. John Henry Smith, J. W. H. King and Fisher Harris.

During their stay in this city there will be a number of entertainments for the visitors in the form of trips to the various resorts and rides around the city.

TROUBLE ON B. & O.

It is Denied that Employees Have Given An Ultimatum.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 10.—General Manager Sims of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, specifically denied today that the company had received an ultimatum from its employees. "The employees and officials resume their sessions today," said he, "and will consider the grievances as presented this week. We do not expect a strike, but to minor division matters and there will be no difficulty in arriving at an amicable settlement. During the entire negotiations the best of feeling has prevailed. We do not expect a strike and I am positive that none will occur."

The demands of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad employees, as submitted by the committee on grievances are: (1) a number, 13 of which are of minor importance, and will either be granted by the company or not insisted on by the men. The three chief demands are, first, that when switching during overtime the men shall be paid both the amount specified in the agreement for switching and for overtime, as well; second, that an extra wage scale shall be applied to all double headers, that is, when a crew is compelled to handle the freight cars of a train pulled by two engines; third, that it be no longer compulsory on them to join the railroad association, the men objecting to the terms.

DEPOT FRANCHISE.

Adverse Petition Being Circulated—West
Siders Want Improvements.

With the filing of the petition for a franchise to close several streets on the west side for union depot purposes several small property holders in the vicinity affected have commenced to circulate a petition to the city council asking that the franchise be not granted in the present shape sought.

The preponderance of residents on the west side, however, are inclined to welcome the proposed improvements and predict a boom in realty. With the erection of big shops, car plants and other improvements as outlined the demand for workmen's cottages will be simply great in the vicinity of the plant. As it is it is next to impossible for railroad men to rent on the west side near their work. The closing of the streets as requested and the building of a viaduct in force in all modern cities will be imperative if Salt Lake is to have a depot and terminal facilities commensurate with the size and importance of the city. The announcement of the plans of the Oregon Short Line and the San Pedro has had the effect of turning the eyes of realty speculators westward and the heretofore undeveloped North Salt Lake is coming to the front.

It is generally conceded that the erection of a viaduct over the dangerous crossing north of the depot ought to have been accomplished a long time ago. The closing of the streets is in the interest of the safety of residents in the vicinity.

Round Cotton Bale Again.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 10.—An important conference held here today by traffic agents of all railroads that are parties to the suit instituted by the inter-state commerce commission by the Planters' Commission company of

for using.

Boston, to compel 11 leading railroads to allow a differential of ten cents per hundred pounds in the freight rate on round bales cotton from St. Louis and Memphis to eastern points under the rate charged for the transportation of square bale cotton. The meeting was for the purpose of formulating a plan of defense for the railroad companies before the inter-state commerce commission. Before adjournment the conference passed resolutions asking the commission to meet in Memphis during October or November for the purpose of conducting the hearing in the case. The case is practically a contest between the round and square cotton bales.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

A. McPhee of San Francisco, railroad contractor, is in the city visiting with his brother, J. J. McPhee.

The freight offices of the Rio Grande are now located adjacent to the ticket office on the corner of Second South and West Temple street.

The annual excursion from Grand Junction to western Colorado points arrives in Salt Lake over the Rio Grande tomorrow.

C. O. Whittemore, counsel for the San Pedro, returned from a trip to Pioche and Calientes this morning.

The Harriman ticket office on East Temple street is now adorned with a very handsome collection of pictures just received from Southern Pacific headquarters.

George W. Valley, general agent of the Burlington in Denver has been presented by George W. Ballantine of the Union Stock yards with a very handsome opinion pipe from the Orient and valued at $300. This makes over 500 pipes he has in his collection, every one of which was given him by admiring friends.

After printing in full a detailed account of the plans of the projected Short Line depot together with the statement that they had been approved by Consulting Engineer Berry a morning paper now says that practically nothing has been done about the plans and they are of a purely speculative character. The truth of the matter is that the blue prints were completed two months ago and they are realities.

Amusements.

Miss Letitia Ferrin will give a recital in the Tabernacle next Monday evening assisted by the Tabernacle choir, Prof. McCallan, Arthur Pedersen, the violinist and the male quartette consisting of Messrs. Ashworth, Sigurdson and Christopherson Brothers. Miss Ferrin herself will be down for nine numbers and a rare program is promised. A special invitation will be issued to members of the irrigation congress in Ogden, and quite a number of Miss Ferrin's friends are expected to come down from that place for the event. As this will be the last opportunity to hear this gifted singer prior to her departure for New York, it is to be hoped that there will be a handsome turnout.

The Royal Italian band opens an engagement at the Theatre tomorrow evening. The advance sale is now going on and a good attendance is looked for. A feature of the program Friday night will be the selection of the magnificent opera of "Medea," rarely heard in concert.

A GREAT LAD IS DART.

How a Boy Born in Salt Lake Showed His Bravery.

Dart Wantland is the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wantland, and has achieved considerable summer resort fame as the trick rider of the Glen Park donkeys, says the Denver Post. The boy is a mirth provoking youngster, who carries his assumption of manly dignity so far that he sometimes goes beyond his depth in the current of his own conceits.

This week he accompanied his mother to the office of the Broadway theater. Coming back she took the short cut to Seventeenth that leads through the corner of the Brown Palace hotel, and the boy, with all the manliness of his five years, was discussing the prospects of the "Prince of Placen."

"If he shoots a lot of shooting in it," he was saying as they entered the hotel rotunda, "I want you to take me to a show 'tats' full of shootin'. I can't wait 'tats' much."

This last bold assertion was delivered as the pair were in the middle of the Brown rotunda. The luckless boy had attracted the notice of everyone within ear shot, and just then he stepped on a parlor match which blew up with what seemed like a terrific bang. "Wow!" yelled the lad, and he clung to his mother and screamed in tones of horror. He denies he yelled "murder" and "holice," but the hotel guests who were in the transition from swagging bravely to terror say that was the words he shrieked.

It was a crestfallen youth who sat at the table of the Metropole that evening and surveyed the guests and wondering how many knew of his inglorious defeat by the parlor match. A member of the "Prince of Placen" company, with whom he had struck up an acquaintance on short notice noted the boy's look of humility and abstraction, and said:

"Hello, Dart, what is the matter this evening?"

"I don't feel well," said the boy, with a touch of his swaggering bravado. "I think I have nervous prostration!"

The bitterness of being laughed at again was so saddening to him that he was silent for as much as an hour and a half.

Wandered to Her Death.

Seattle, Sept. 10.—Her mind wandering, Mrs. M. J. Smith, an old woman, 80 years of age, wandered away from her daughter's home and drowned herself in the Lincoln park reservoir last night. The body was discovered by a woman who passed on her way down town this morning. Mrs. Smith was a widow and had struck up an acquaintance with a man who lived in the vicinity of the Lincoln park. Last evening she succeeded in getting away from her home and was found by the police. This morning when the discovery was made the family identified the body.

DID JAMES PITT HAVE SMALLPOX?

Question Arises Because of a Second Attack Within a Month.

FIRST AFFLICTED AUGUST 12.

Was Removed to Isolation Hospital and Discharged as Cured August 28—
Now Has It Again.

Two attacks of smallpox inside of a month is the phenomenal record of Jas. Pitt, an employee of the Z. C. M. I., who resides at 624 west First North street. Mr. Pitt was first afflicted with the disease on Aug. 12, and was at once removed to the isolation hospital. The attack was rather light and he was released from the hospital on Aug. 28 as fully recovered.

Mr. Pitt returned to his home where he remained for about six days when he was again attacked with smallpox and was sent to the hospital, where he is now confined. The second attack, he says, is more serious than the first one, and he is pretty well broken out with pustules. He is able to be around, however, and when called up over the telephone today by a "News" reporter, stated that he was getting along very well. It was suggested by the reporter that perhaps his physician was mistaken about the first attack being smallpox, and that he contracted his supposed second attack while confined at the isolation hospital the first time. His reply was that his physician and the city physician both pronounced his first attack smallpox and that was all he knew about it.

There is one of two things certain, the case is either a decidedly phenomenal one and deserves a place in the annals of science, or a serious mistake was made in pronouncing the first attack smallpox and sending the man to the isolation hospital where he was exposed to the dread contagion and contracted a genuine case of the disease.

Judge Stewart today rendered judgment by default in favor of plaintiff for $419.55 in the case of the Pacific Lumber company against George Morrison and Leo Parry. The action was brought to recover $29.25 and interest, alleged to be due on account for materials furnished in 1898.

In the case of the Salt Lake Livery and Transfer company against the Acme Mining Machinery company, Judge Stewart today denied defendant's motion to set aside the judgment. ## BIG NEW DEPOT FOR RIO GRANDE.

creating freight business it was necessary to enlarge the freight accommodations and double the facilities. In order to accomplish this it was imperative that the existing passenger depot be moved and all the available space be given over to yards. He further intimated that the Rio Grande had options on property and would purchase several hundred thousands of dollars more.

DEPOT ON THIRD SOUTH.

"What we shall ask in our petition," he said, "is the privilege of erecting our depot across the foot of Third South; the privilege of putting in a double track from Ninth South to Fifth North; the value of the west half of Fifth west between Second South and Ninth South and the east half of Sixth West, between Sixth and Ninth South. This property we will ask to have condemned so that we can have room for our increased yards, shops and tracks and general plant."

WORK TO BEGIN SOON.

Mr. Young stated that he was authorized by the management of the system to make this announcement and that work would be commenced at an early date on the improvements contemplated.

DOUBLE TRACKS.

The securing of double trackage on Fourth West, he affirmed, was necessary before the depot proposition could be entertained. The plans for the shops, power house and equipment were all approved and there was nothing to hinder commencing work as soon as contracts were let. Under the arrangement with the Oregon Short Line the Rio Grande proposed to lay double tracks along the west side of the existing tracks of the Short Line north of North county street, then to have a right-of-way to be purchased to tap the main line.

WILL NOT INTERFERE.

The asking for these concessions from the city will in no wise interfere with the concessions asked for by the Oregon Short Line and the supposition is that the two companies will not be antagonistic to each other's interests or to the interests of the city.

SWANSEA ASSESSMENT.

Charges Alleged Against Officers Vigorously Denied.

Much indignation was expressed some time ago by some stockholders of the Swansea Mining company over the action taken by the board of directors in levying an assessment of 15 cents a share. It was claimed at the time that the assessment was unnecessary, as well as an exorbitant tax upon each individual who held stock in the corporation.

An examination of the company's books has been made by a representative of certain stockholders and the allegation was made today that the examination disclosed that at least a part of the assessment money had been applied to the payment of salaries.

When approached on the subject this afternoon, Theron Geddes, a director in the company declared:

"If anyone has made such statements they are lies. We have nothing to hide from our stockholders and our books are open for inspection to all stockholders at any time they choose to inspect them."

THE CARNIVAL.

Salt Palace to Open for the Event on Monday Next.

The Southern Carnival company which opens next Monday at the Salt Palace comes highly recommended from the west. The Sacramento Bee says of it:

"The paid attractions presented by the Southern Carnival this year are of merit, and moreover, as far as shown last night they are strictly moral, having not been the case with some attractions presented at the spring festivals in this city in the past. All of the concessions did a thriving business last night."

The visitor in search of amusement can find plenty of it in the 15 shows on the grounds, besides taking a trip skyward on the Ferris wheel or a short ride about the grounds on the hurricane deck of the ship of the desert. This latter form of amusement caught the popular fancy last night, and the patience of the camel was taxed to the utmost in kneeling every few minutes to permit the merry-makers to mount or dismount.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES.

G. D. Miles, Who Fell From Fritsch Building, Sues
For $10,000.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED FEB. 16.

Plaintiff is a Painter by Trade and Was Working for Defendant Brownley at the Time.

A $10,000 damage suit was filed in the district court today by G. D. Miles against the Fritsch Investment company, Francis Fritsch, J. A. Fritsch and John Doe Brownley to recover that amount for injuries alleged to have been received by plaintiff while in the employ of Brownley at the Fritsch building on east Second South street, between State and Second East streets, on Feb. 16, 1903.

The complaint alleges that plaintiff is a painter by trade, but that on the above date he was employed by defendant Brownley to attend to the heating furnace in the building mentioned above. While performing his labors he came in contact with a live electric wire in the basement of the building and his right hand was greatly burned and deformed, to his permanent injury. He alleges that the insulation of the wire had negligently and carelessly been allowed to decay, leaving the wire exposed in a dangerous position, and that it was the duty of the owners of the building to keep the wiring in a good condition which they failed to do. Without any negligence on his part, plaintiff alleges that he took hold of the wire with his right hand and was unable to let go for a period of about 10 minutes. The shock rendered the hands useless and he claims that he is unable to follow his former employment, that of a painter. He asks damages in the sum of $10,000 and also the additional sum of $500, which he expended for medical and medical treatment during the four months that he was compelled to employ a physician.

FILE THEIR ANSWER.

Cowles Deny that Check Was Issued in Payment of Money Loaned.

Defendants A. H. Cowie and Emma Cowie today filed their answer and cross-complaint to the action instituted against them recently in the district court by Frank McHaffon to recover $1,313.75 alleged to be due on a check drawn by defendants on Walker Bros' bank and which was dishonored by the bank officials. Defendants admit the execution of the check, but deny that it was given in payment for money loaned them by plaintiff. They allege that there was no consideration for the check whatever and further that the cause of action on the check was barred by the statute of limitations.

By way of cross-complaint Mr. Cowie alleges that he performed services for plaintiff and his wife Libby McHaffon, whereby they bonded the Kinsey-Sunbeam mining claim in the Tintic district to the Sunbeam Mining company for the sum of $10,000. This service was rendered by Mr. Cowie between Jan. 1, 1897, and Sept. 27, 1899. In October, 1899, it is alleged that Mr. Cowie negotiated a loan from the Western Loan and Trust company for the McHaffon Mining company. All of such services, it is claimed, is worth $6,000, for which amount defendants ask judgment.
