

THE OUTLOOK FOR BASEBALL IS GOOD

Salt Lake and Ogden Are Hustling
For Good Players.

LOBSTERS ARE NOT ASLEEP.

While the Discussion Has Been Going On The y Have Been Looking For Ball Tossers.

After many weeks of money getting, speculation and urging to ginger up, Salt Lake and Ogden finally reached an agreement this week to play baseball this summer and give the loyal fan-manias the best article of ball obtainable. For some time it looked as though Ogden was waiting for Salt Lake to do something, but later it turned out that it was just the reverse. The Lobsters were notified that the fans here were ready to talk business and they were informed that if they did not put their money up, different arrange-beat them. The team is composed of a crowd of likely youngsters whom Jack O'Brien has managed to get together pending the permanent organization of the professional team which will compete with the Lobsters. Gang, the new good man. He has been loosening up his salary arm this week and promises to make good when the time comes. Another good piece of news is that Salt Lake had signed Bradley for this season and that he was on his way here. A player named Spaulding is coming from Chicago, and Paw Kimmmerer will be in the field to set up the files. In summing the situation up, it looks good, and if the locals will secure none but the best men obtainable, the article of baseball this year will be better than it has been for a long time and all the fans will be made happy.

MEET AT PROVO.

L. D. S. University and B. Y. A.
Team Hold Track Meet Today.

The annual spring outing of the L. D. S. university is being celebrated at Provo today. The Saints and their friends left over the Rio Grande Western this morning and all are having a big time. In addition to the athletic meet, there is a big picnic on. Much interest is centered in the athletic contests as the program shows an interesting list of events. The athletes from both institutions have been training for several days for today's struggle and the competitions are sure to be hotly contested.

always be a jockey, and I wish to secure an education that will enable me to earn a livelihood when I become too heavy to pilot horses. When a man I would like to be either a banker or a great journalist."

Jockey Haack is the latest "find" among the race track riders. He came to the front with startling rapidity. For a boy who has been galloping race horses less than a year—eight months, to be exact—he has shown ability that has attracted the attention of some of the most astute horsemen in the country.

At New Orleans this winter Haack was practically unknown when he first threw a leg over a horse at the Crescent City grounds. The turf guides showed that he had had only a few mounts. His seat in the saddle and his ability to guide a horse, cleverly satisfied the horsemen that he was a rider of promise. He secured a few mounts, and from the beginning had marked success.

"I began to ride horses last summer," said Haack to the World reporter at the race track the other day. "My first gallop on the back of a thoroughbred was over the St. Louis fair grounds. I live close by the track, and had watched the horses race there ever since I was a kid. Many and many an hour I stood alongside the fence and watched the boys ride at exercise. Now I longed to be among them. I thought if I could only be a jockey I'd be the happiest lad in St. Louis. I asked several men for a job as exercise boy, but as I was so small and had no experience it was hard work to find one who was willing to give me the chance. Finally C. E. Rowe, who owned Henry Bert, Mabel Richardson, Love's Labor and several other horses, gave me the opportunity I so eagerly sought."

"Mr. Rowe put me up on the back of Love's Labor and taught me what a jockey should know—how to sit on a horse, to hold the reins and keep my feet in the stirrups."

A Sure Thing.
It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetre of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says, "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Z. C. M. I. Drug Store. Trial bottles free. Reg. sizes 50c, $1.00.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. A. F. Peeler, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
Dr. E. Down, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria in my practice for many years with great satisfaction to myself and benefit to my patients."
Dr. J. E. Waggoner, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I can most heartily recommend your Castoria to the public as a remedy for children's complaints. I have tried it and found it of great value."
Dr. Edward Parrish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild laxative effect and freedom from harm."
Dr. J. B. Elliott, of New York City, says: "Having during the past six years prescribed your Castoria for infantile stomach disorders, I most heartily commend its use. The formula contains nothing deleterious to the most delicate of children."
Dr. C. G. Sprague, of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is an ideal medicine for children, and I frequently prescribe it. While I do not advocate the indiscriminate use of proprietary medicines, yet Castoria is an exception for conditions which arise in the care of children."
Dr. J. A. Parker, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact, it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
Dr. H. P. Merrill, of Augusta, Me., says: "Castoria is one of the very finest and most remarkable remedies for infants and children. In my opinion your Castoria has saved thousands from an early grave. I can furnish hundreds of testimonials from this locality as to its efficiency and merit."
Dr. Norman M. Geer, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "During the last twelve years I have frequently recommended your Castoria as one of the best preparations of the kind, being safe in the hands of parents and very effective in relieving children's disorders, while the ease with which such a pleasant preparation can be administered is a great advantage."
Dr. P. H. Kyle, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "It affords me pleasure to add my name to the long list of those who have used and now endorse your Castoria. The fact of the ingredients being known through the printing of the formula on the wrapper is one good and sufficient reason for the recommendation of any physician. I know of its good qualities and recommend it cheerfully."

CLARENCE JARVIS.

The above likeness is that of Clarence Jarvis, an athlete of the B. Y. Academy who is noted as a long distance runner. Jarvis will enter the inter-collegiate track and field meet which is to take place in this city on the 9th. He has a record of 206 for the half mile and feels confident of lowering the record this year. There has been some question as to his eligibility to enter the contests referred to, for the reason that he has been tutoring a class in the academy. But to overcome this difficulty, and take part in the meet Jarvis has refused to accept any compensation for his services as a teacher.

ments would be made. At this point, President Binford of Ogden led the Junction city fans out of the wilderness by the announcement that they had the necessary $500 to deposit as forfeit and were ready for business. The arrangement was quickly reached. John Critchlow was chosen president of the two club league, and the choices proved to be the most popular ones that could have been made. A day or two later Presidents Critchlow, Rogers and Binford met and arranged a schedule. It gives Salt Lake the opening and closing games. There will be 44 contests here while Ogden will get 33 and a majority of the Wednesday games.

Those who imagined that Ogden was doing nothing during all the time the discussion was going on, have at least one more guess coming. When it comes to the National game Ogden fans are generally wide awake. They were practically certain that there would be something doing, and Pa Glimlin was quietly but earnestly looking out for ball players. Not amateurs, but good professional men, the kind that bring home the money, and that he already has a bunch of that class of men on the string can not be doubted. Ogden already has Pike, Hansen and Jensen signed, and pitcher Frank Wooliver and Jack Nash, an infielder, coming. When the team is completed, Binford will give them a trip up north to assist in getting them into good condition.

The first game of the season for the home team is on at Walker's field this afternoon. It is with the Fort Douglas team and will serve as a good practice game for the White Wings. The soldiers form a pretty strong aggregation and the locals will have to go some to stitution, publicly announces that he has refunded what pay he has received for his work as a tutor, and has notified the faculty of his school that he will not accept any more compensation for his services this year. Mr. Jarvis, who is a student with a full course of studies, takes this unusual action in order to be eligible to contest in the big inter-collegiate meet on May 9. He stated that he would much rather have the privilege of taking part in such an important event than to accept the petty pay allowed him for tutoring a class. On account of this Jarvis is again the hero of the hour at the academy and has added another event to his long list of honors.

ABOUT FITZ'S MONEY.

Supposed That He Was Worth at Least $100,000.

The amount of money left by Mrs. Fitzsimmons is a great surprise to the sports throughout the country. It was thought that Bob was fixed for life and would have to worry no more. But, according to the will left by Mrs. Fitz, or rather, there was no will found, only the house at Bensonhurst is in sight.

When Bob was asked about the matter he said: "I don't want to talk on the subject at all. It will come out at the proper time. I don't mind saying, however, that everything we had was in my wife's name. Whether she left a will or not is my affair; but, however that is, you can be sure that the children will be well taken care of."

Percy Williams, who managed Fitzsimmons for one season in his successful theatrical venture, "The Honest Blacksmith," and probably knows as much as any one of Bob's business affairs, said that he believed Rose Fitzsimmons was worth $100,000 at the very lowest estimate.

"When I began to manage him," said Mr. Williams, "Mrs. Fitzsimmons had a large account in several banks in New York. I know that I deposited $500,000 to her account in one bank during that season. She was a woman of remarkable character and intelligence. She had much more ability as a financier than had Bob, and it was his desire that everything should be in her name and that she should handle the money. Bob took out each week a regular amount for spending money, but he let the bulk of his salary accumulate until the end of the season, when it was deposited in Mrs. Fitzsimmons' name."

When asked to make an estimate of the money that Mrs. Fitzsimmons left, Mr. Williams said that $100,000 would, in his opinion, be a very conservative estimate. "Bob says that his wife died so suddenly that she did not leave any will. I thought that there were large accounts in several New York banks, but Bob says that there is absolutely nothing except the Bath Beach house. That is worth $15,000 or $20,000. Under the law the children are the heirs. Bob has a life interest, which means that he is sure of a home for the rest of his life. He holds it in trust for the children and cannot sell it."

"What became of the money they were supposed to have in the bank Fitz didn't choose to tell me. It looks as if they had made an unlucky investment and lost it."
