Charge of Murder.

VINCENT BRISCOE.

That the mills of the gods grind slowly, but grind exceeding fine was proved again this morning when Capt. Patrick J. Harding and Detective Sgt. Patrick J. Mulvihill of the Chicago police force, arrived in Salt Lake City from the Illinois metropolis, with Vincent Briscoe, a notorious criminal, in their custody. Briscoe will be taken back to Chicago to face a charge of murder.

during Police Officer Patrick Duffey, in that city, May 1, 1902.

The story of the pursuit of Briscoe shows how far the long arm of justice can reach. Briscoe and a pal, Hugh Riley, were burglarizing a house, on the first night in May, seven years ago, at the corner of Forty-sixth street and Emerald avenue, near the stockyards, in Chicago. Briscoe and Riley had waited until they saw a woman leave the house, then Briscoe broke into the place through a side window and started to loot the house, while Riley remained outside as lookout to "finger" for Briscoe and guard against discovery by the police. Patrolman Patrick Duffey happened to come walking down the street, and when he came up to where Riley was standing, the latter's actions aroused his suspicions. Duffey noticed a gun sticking out of Riley's pocket, and ordered him to hand it over. Riley started to draw the gun, and Duffey closed with him and the two men grappled in a struggle. In the process, Briscoe looked out of the window, and seeing Riley wrestling with a policeman, leaped out noiselessly, and creeping stealthily up from behind, he deliberately drew his gun and shot Duffey through the back of the head, killing him instantly.

Riley and Briscoe escaped, but three days later, Riley was captured, tried and sentenced to serve 14 years in Joliet penitentiary, as accessory to the murder of Duffey. Briscoe got out of Chicago and slipped west, committing numerous crimes in various cities on his way. About a year ago, Briscoe, then going under the alias of Frank Bennett, was captured by the San Francisco police after robbing a Japanese restaurant in that city. He was sentenced to serve one year in San Quentin penitentiary under the name of Frank Bennett. But the California authorities happened to send his photograph and description to that city. He was wanted in the larger cities, to see if he were wanted any place else, and the Chicago police identified him as the murderer of Officer Duffey. As soon as he stepped out of San Quentin penitentiary on serving his term, he was arrested by the Chicago officers.

At chapel tomorrow morning Mrs. Fitz of the National Society of Daughters of the Revolution will deliver an address.

Whether the girls will take the initiative in the matter of invitations to the girls' dance to be given Nov. 19 or whether this will remain the function of the boys is the burning question which will be decided this afternoon at a special meeting of the girls. The proceeds of the dance will be used for fitting up a rest room for the boys.

WILL REBUILD PLANT.

Utah Oil Refining Company to Double Capacity With New Plans.

The disastrous fire at its plant on Fourth West between Eighth and Ninth North streets, Tuesday, when 800 barrels of oil, a score of big tanks, stills and valuable coiled-pipe were destroyed, has not discouraged the directors of the Utah Oil Refining company, which is the first concern of its kind ments, and the capacity of the plant, formerly 200 barrels per day, will be doubled within three weeks.

The fire was the longest in the record of the Salt Lake City fire department, and the blaze fighters were in service just 15 hours and 20 minutes.

WILL SINK WELL DEEPER.

Experimental Drilling on Levan Ridge Promises Good Results.

Will H. Farnsworth, secretary of the state board of land commissioners returned yesterday from Nephth with a G. Claude, member of the board, where they went to inspect the experimental well being sunk on Levan ridge by Frank Moore, under contract for the state. After sinking the pipe 400 feet Moore struck water and there is now 235 feet of water in the well. The contract with Moore was for a 600 foot well but there was some question as to whether the board ought not to be satisfied with the well as it is now. The matter was taken up by the Nephth Commercial club and it was decided to have the well sunk about 200 feet deeper.

Owners of large tracts of land in that part of the state say that if they can get a flowing well on the ridge thousands of acres of land can be reclaimed.

ALL SPACE TAKEN.

There Will be 61 Exhibitors at the Pure Food Show.

At Wednesday night's meeting of the Retail Merchants' association it was announced that all the space for the Food show in the Auditorium building had been taken by 61 exhibitors including some from the east. A feature of the exhibition will be the "Grocers' Country Store," representing the typical store of the country village. There is also to be a musical and vaudeville program every evening, and samples of food will be distributed by 125 young women.

A committee of grocers will have charge of the "country store" at the exposition, and solicit donations to fill its shelves. This committee consists of B. M. Olson, chairman; L. M. Blackmar, F. K. Wilson, F. Weight, H. Phillips and T. Davis.

A final boosters' meeting, preparatory for the show, will be held next Wednesday night. There will be talks and refreshments.

FUNERAL OF MARY JUDGE.

NOLLE PROSSE IN IN COAL CASES

Special Counsel F. A. Maynard
Enters Motion in Federal Court.

NEXT STEP OF GOVERNMENT

In Event of Failure to Prove Fraud,
Patents Must Issue—Will Challenge Entries.

Judge F. A. Maynard, special counsel for the government, yesterday afternoon in the federal court entered a nolle proesse in the coal land cases in which Charles M. Freed, Walter G. Filer, Don C. Robbins and Edwin W. Senior were charged with conspiracy in seeking to obtain 4,600 acres of coal land in Emery county.

It was held that the conspiracy was entered into about Sept. 1, 1905, when the defendants, by the use of "dummy" entries, sought to acquire valuable coal lands in Emery county illegally. Filer is alleged to have provided most of the money, Robbins acting as agent. Twenty-eight "dummies" is alleged, were employed, and were paid sums ranging from $125 to $175. In the bank money was placed to their credits. They took cashiers' checks for these deposits and then applied to the land office for the state. After receiving the receipts for the land office, the total amount held by the government in this way is $40,000, or $10 an acre for the claimed land.

NEXT STEP OF GOVERNMENT.
It was claimed that as soon as these receipts were obtained by the "dummies" they were turned over to Freed on a mortgage. The receipts are still held by Freed but the land has not been patented. The next step of the government, it is said, will be to prove fraud to the land office on the part of Freed and other defendants. In case of failure, the patents must issue.

E. W. Senior was implicated as attorney for the alleged conspirators. He claimed that his connection with the defendants was purely professional and that he had no knowledge of any conspiracy. Mr. Freed also said that he had bought the receipts in good faith.

WILL CHALLENGE ENTRIES.
The case has been continued a number of times because of sickness and other reasons. To prove a conspiracy the clearest sort of evidence is vital to a conviction. In the view of the fact that the government holds $40,000 paid in for the land, there was no desire to prosecute the defendants criminally and Judge Maynard determined that the desired end could be reached by challenging the entries in the land office.

PLUMBERS IN COURT.
Hearing of Injunction Suit Now on Before Judge Ritchie.

The injunction suit filed against the local union No. 16 of Journeymen Plumbers by the Will Rose Plumbing company and the Master Plumbers' association was called for trial yesterday afternoon in Judge Morris L. Ritchie's court. The hearing involves the jurisdiction and the powers of the court in adjusting labor troubles.

The plumbers went on strike about eight months ago because the master plumbers refused to raise the scale of wages to $6.36 a day. The master plumbers imported men to work here and the union men interfered and attempted to prevent the new men from working. It is alleged that the union men resorted to all kinds of tactics and forced the men at work to do considerable damage to the contracts. As a result a suit was filed and a temporary injunction was issued prohibiting the plumbers with interfering with the work. It is expected that it will take the remainder of the week to hear the matter.

REQUISITION FOR FITZGERALD.
Deputy Sheriff O. H. Smith presented requisition papers Wednesday on Acting Governor Charles S. Finner for the extradition of M. C. Fitzgerald on the charge of embezzlement. Fitzgerald was formerly cashier of the Bank of Pioche, Nevada, and it is alleged that he is about $4,000 short in his accounts. Fitzgerald is under bonds in Ogden and has employed an attorney to fight extradition. He declares that his accounts are straight with the bank. He says that he has a number of loans with the consent of the board of directors and that because the bank was unable to realize on the securities he is being made the scapegoat.

PIERCE HAS DISAPPEARED.
And Lenzi Is Afraid His Bread Slicer Has Gone With Him.

Charles H. Lenzi, a painter, invented a bread slicer and then took John G. Pierce, a carpenter, into his confidence and gave him a half interest in the invention. If the latter would secure a patent for it and promote a company to manufacture it and place it on the market, Pierce secured the patent, organized the company and has now disappeared. Lenzi fears that Pierce has gone somewhere else to manufacture the slicer and wants an injunction in a complaint filed yesterday in the Third district court, to restrain him from transferring the patent to any other company and Lenzi wants $51,000 shares of the capital stock of the Pierce Bread Slicing Machine company and the patent transferred to his name.

FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Dittmer Says Husband Failed to Provide.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Dittmer filed suit yesterday in the Third district court against Edward Dittmer for separate maintenance and that she be given a decree to provide for her. For two years, she declares that her husband has maintained a home at 225 G street where he has lived with another woman and refuses to permit her to live at the same place. It is also alleged that Dittmer sent his 17-year old son to Germany where he is dependent upon relatives. In the complaint it is alleged that Dittmer has $2,000 in a local bank $2,000 worth of real estate in Moapa and earns $150 a month. Mrs. Dittmer asks for $50 permanent alimony and that she be given a reasonable amount of his property. A restraining order was issued by Judge Morse citing Dittmer to appear before the court on Friday at 10 o'clock and prohibiting him from disposing of any of his property.
