NO ABATEMENT OF RELIEF WORK.

Hundreds of Refugees Fed and Clothed and Given Medical Assistance.

BENEFIT CONCERT PROGRAM.

Railroad People Estimate 10,000 Refugees Will Pass Through Ogden For the East.

Ogden, April 25.—The contributions received by the San Francisco relief committee from the citizens of Ogden up to the present time, consisting of cash, wearing apparel, eatables, etc., will amount to over $20,000, which is on an average of nearly $1 per capita from the residents of this city. Nearly $10,000 in cash has been received by the committee, and there is still considerable more money yet to come in, so that the cash contributions will exceed $10,000, and the end is not yet, of the caring for the thousands who are daily passing through Ogden en route to the eastern cities.

The general Ogden relief committee has received information from the San Francisco authorities that for many days yet refugees will be passing through Ogden who will need assistance, and the local committee urges upon the citizens of Ogden to send cooked supplies to the committee headquarters, 2468 Wall avenue, or to the street car motormen, who will see that the contributions are delivered to the committee. It will need a great deal more cooked food within the next few days, as for a week or more several hundred fleeing people will have to be fed and clothed here.

The Salt Lake City Commercial club of many citizens of that city have been to the assistance of the Ogden committee in providing food and clothing, thus relieving the people of Ogden some of the care and responsibility in keeping up the good work which has been so nobly performed for a week in helping to assist suffering humanity. During yesterday 504 refugees arrived in Ogden, who were given food and clothing, and sent on their way to the east. To care for this large number of hungry, half clad people is not only hard labor but takes a good deal of planning and watchfulness to have everything go along without any difficulties. It also requires large quantities of food to carry on the good work and the people who have so generously given up to the present time should continue to come to the committee's aid.

It is estimated by A. B. Mosely, general passenger agent for the Hawaiian lines, that fully 10,000 people will pass through Ogden within the next week or so, who will be in need of at least one meal here, and other necessities. A step in the right direction in order to prevent disease being spread in Ogden through the thousands of refugees, has been taken by City Physician Condon, who with a number of other physicians will inspect each train as it comes in, and give aid and careful attention to those needing it. They have established a temporary relief point at the depot drug store, conducted by Joseph Cave, where numerous women and children are being given some medical assistance, also some men, who have met with injuries in the ill-fated city. It is surprising that there are not more of the refugees who need medical attention, from the terrible disaster. The majority of those who require a physician are suffering from nervous prostration or similar ailments, and are unable to receive tonics are able to continue their journey eastward without any delay. Mrs. Reed, the unfortunate woman who lost her mind and was taken on the train with her 16-year-old boy, is still at the ladies' ward in the county jail. She is recovering slowly, and will be able, it is expected, to continue her journey to Waterville, Ia., in a few days. Mrs. Reed had sorrow enough to turn most any woman's mind, in the San Francisco disaster. Her aged mother had her hip crushed and was taken to the emergency hospital, where Mrs. Reed was compelled to leave her. Her home, together with all her earthly belongings, was totally destroyed, and her husband, from whom she was separated, had two of her children with him, and she does not know whether they were killed or not. For several days, with her little boy, she suffered many privations, which wrecked her entire nervous system. She says that even the women's ward in the jail seems as a happy home to her when she thinks of the terrible sights she beheld in San Francisco.

JUMPS FROM MOVING CAR.

James H. Nelson, the well known real estate man, met with a painful, though not serious, injury Monday evening while returning home from a meeting. He boarded the street car and told the conductor to stop at the corner of Washington and Patterson avenues. As the car slowed up, Mr. Nelson stepped out onto the top. He supposed the car had come to a standstill, and stepped off, but as the car was still moving, he was thrown with considerable force to the ground, striking on the left side of his head and shoulder, terribly bruising and lacerating his eye and shoulder. He was rendered unconscious for a few moments.

Members of the Relief society did a great work in sorting and classifying wearing apparel, etc., contributed by the citizens, and the car was loaded under the supervision of Mayor Frisby and Councilman Bott. John E. Bott, Jr., who was employed in a San Francisco hardware house telegraphed from Oakland to his father, Councilman Bott. "Am all right. Send me $50." This has been followed by a letter giving a detailed account of the fire and Mr. Bott's experience. County Supt. Mr. Bamberger Secures Right of Way For His Road.

Kaysville, Davis Co., April 24.—The city council met in special session last night to consider the granting of a franchise to the Salt Lake and Ogden railway for a steam road, a question which had been pending for some months. Senator Bamberger had previously asked for a 100-year electric franchise through the streets of Kaysville, but finding it impossible to electify his entire road immediately, he asked for a second 100-year franchise for steam. For four months the council has refused to pass this franchise ordinance. Mr. Bamberger was present last night and explained that he expected to carry passengers by electricity as soon as it is possible to equip his road. After his explanation the pending ordinance was taken up and passed by a vote of 4 to 1. Councilman J. C. Owen casting the only dissenting vote. It is stipulated that Mr. Bamberger shall file a bond in the sum of $20,000, guaranteeing that his road will be equipped with electricity for passenger
