Doubtless a great deal of the live beaf that is shipped from this part of the country finds its way to Enghand. American beef is growing in favor in that country, but the mut-ton sent from the United States is considered very inferior to the English. One reason is that sheep in tion to all those who had not visited this country are treated in a way to that most remarkable region of favor the growth of their fleeces, without special regard to the quality of the mutton.

The Ploche Record says that one day, last week, a young man named Syphers, of Panacca, as he was on his way from Bullionville, met an Indian coming along the road, and, without any cause or provocation, Syphers drew his revolver and shot per says this young man is a hard case, and he has drawn a pistol and shot at a man before.
