IS IT PITIABLE?

On Saturday last, in view of the sub ject of charities being on the tapis, we Mormon" Church does for the poor. The figures that were given have no the nations and the large sums that are used to help the poor in distant countries to immigrate to these parts, where they can improve in temporal status as well as in every other respect. The figures merely gave an idea of what is done by way of assisting the poor by providing food, clothing, fuel, payment of rents, the means used for these purposes be-ing in the shape of cash, merchandise and provisions. In the brief exhibit given on Saturday, by a clerical error the grand total for 1884 was given as $48,848.49. It should have been $62,-203.57, as would be observed by the

We should not have noticed the matter at all, nor made any mention of direction, were it not that the mendacity of the Tribune might cause me people to believe that the "Morscurrilous sheet asserts it to be. We have observed that amounts six hundred times smaller, charitably donated, have been spoken of by the Tribune in a manner that would lead one to suppose the sums were munificent, when the donors have had no connection with "Mormonism" or the "Mormons." That makes all the difference in the world.

The amount expended by the Church in this one direction does not include various sums that are given by indi-vidual members of the Church, and directly applied by them for the relief of the poor. Cases of this kind are numerous, but for the most part charities of that description are conducted only aim of the givers being to improve the condition of the objects of

In the Tribune article there is the glimmer of an admission of the patent act that, under the fatherly supervision of the "Mormon" Church the poor comparatively prosper. Here it

Most, if not all of the Bishops are scrupulous in discovering every case of indigence, without respect to religions belief, Neither are they as a rule too particu-lar in relation to the causes that may have led to the poverty they discover. The main point that in their estimation, is to be considered is the fact of ties-quite as noisy and spirited as the the distress itself. People who accure the 'Mormons' as a body or the Church to which they belong as lacking in benevolence are either wilful of the Right made a stinging remark falsifiers or blinded bigots, or both.

" "MORMONS" IN MEXICO. IONARIES AMONG THE YAQUI

Elder S. F. Kimball, of Mesa, Arizona, writes from Hermosillo, State of Sonora, Mexico, on December 5th, to a relative in this city, who has permitted us to make the following excerpt of his

"I am 400 miles south of Mesa City, having been called on a mission to go having been called on a mission to go with Apostles Young and Grant, and am camped four miles south of the above mentioned splace, with M. J. Grant and twelve others of our party. Apostle Young, President Macdonald and about the same number as are with us, got on the cars and went down to Guaymas, and from there by boat up the Yaqui river, to see the chief of the Yaqui nation. If they have the blessing of God attending their desires, we will all cross the country from here to the east about 100 miles, and stop a couple of weeks with this people and introduce the Gospel among them.

This tribe of Lamanites have an independent form of government and will not allow the Mexicans to come among them, therefore, Catholicism has no hold on them as it has on the Mexican people of this country. There are twenty-three of us, all told, and all selected men from St. Joseph and Maricopa Stakes; men who keep the Word of Wisdom and are tryling to do right. It surprises the people in these parts to see so many men, and not one of them using tobacco or indulging in any bad habits.

The Governor of this State has been very kind to us, and so have all the dignitaries of this place. The Lord has been with us, so far, and we can see by the power that has been manifested, that there is a great work to be done in this land, not among the Mexicans that I know of, but among the Mexicans that I know of, but among the yaqui tribe, which numbers upwards of 46,000. We came here, with teams and have been almost three aweeks on the road, and will probably be five weeks more.

I have not seen any country in Mexico that suits me as well as my home in Mesa. Oranges grow in abundance there, and are only three-fourths of a cent each. There are lots of other kinds of fruit here. The oranges are just getting ripe and are splendid. This Yaqui country, they say, is the garden of Mexico. The river overflows, like the Nile. This river heads close to St. David, about 100 miles south. and runs in a south-westerly direction, and empties into the Gulf of Calitornia, about 75 miles below where we are now encamped.

WASHINGTON, 21 .- An informal meet Washington, 21.—An informal meeting of the democratic members of Congress and citizens of Indiana was held at the Capitol last night. The sentiment generally expressed was that Indiana was entitled to recognition in the Cabinet of the President-elect, and the opinion was unanimous that in that event the honor should be conferred on ex-Senator McDonald. Senator Voorhees and all the Democratic members of the House were present and concurred in the views expressed.

Hanged.

DENNER, Col., 22.—At Pueblo, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Miguel Garcia, a Mexican, was publicly executed for the brutal murder of a man named Wilkes, on the 14th of last April, near West Los Animas. The evidence was entirely circumstantial but conclusive. Garcia, who committed the murder for a small amount of money, had three trials, in each of which he was convicted of murder in the first degree.
