PIONEER WOMAN DEAD.

Mrs. Caroline B. Fairclough of this City Succumbs to Bright's Disease.

Mrs. Caroline B. Fairclough, widow of James Fairclough and for many years a resident of this city, died last evening at her home, 644 South Second West street, of Bright's disease and other ailments, at the age of 67 years. The deceased was born in Worcester-shire, England, in 1836, and emigrated to America in 1845, and to Utah in the early fifties. She was a faithful Latter-day Saint and endured with fortitude all the hardships and privations incident to Pioneer life. Three children survive the deceased, John J. Fairclough of the police department, Mrs. Annie Hemenway of Granger and Mrs. Lemina Gray of this city. She also leaves 23 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. The funeral will be held from the Fifth ward meetinghouse Sunday at 11:30 a. m. Friends are invited.

Amusements

At the Grand last night Frazee and Bates company produced the rural melodrama, "Uncle Josh Sprucey," which was played to a large audience, which had evidently not been scared off by the noise of the "Hayseed Band" that paraded the streets on Monday night. The play was very ordinary and there was no merit in the play or any of the incidents in it. Country maidens, dark haired villains, midnight elopement, etc., etc. It was interlarded with musical numbers of different merit and some ancient jokes. The play ends as usual. The cast was appropriately filled. W. N. Mason was characteristic as the old New England farmer, and gave a step dance in the first act. Frank Penton, as the black villain, acted very despatchly. Bert Walker supplied the comedy element, and John Gordon took a Bowery part as far as he could. Miss Lella Bay was the heroine and Miss Mazette Walker was quite attractive and danced very pleasingly. Though why these melodramas should be interlarded with dances as if they were comic opera, it is difficult to understand; unless it is to distract the attention of the audience from the inferior quality of the performance. Mr. Harry Bay perpetrated a very loud corny solo in the last act. The play continues at the Grand for the rest of the week.

The advance sale for "The Bonnie Brier Bush" season commenced at the box office at the Theater this morning. Seats are being booked for every night next week with a Wednesday matinee. The engagement will end Friday night.

The Grand will be dark the first three nights of next week, but it will re-open Thursday with a big scenic production of "Over Niagara Falls."

Opportunity.

Master of human destinies am I; Fame, love and fortune on my foot; Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seats remote, and soon or late I knock unbidden once at every gate. If sleeping, wake; if fasting, rise before I turn away; It is the hour of fate And they who follow me reach every state.

Most men desire, and conquer every foe Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and woe, Secure me in vain, and uselessly implore, I answer not and I return no more.

And what is the use of "Opportunity" if you are not prepared for it when it "knocks unbidden at your gate?" Education is the best preparation for the "knock of opportunity" and if you cannot profit by the larger educational opportunities of schools and colleges join our Encyclopaedia club. Secure the new Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica and spend a few minutes each day reading about "those things you don't know and ought to know."

The club fee is only one dollar and secures the delivery of the entire set of the balance payable at the rate of 19 cents a day—next year—besides we save you $25.00 compared with usual cost. Do it now. Come to the Deseret News book store and investigate.
