Walter Calder, an employee of the Salt Lake Street Railway company, was held up by a robber near the Warm Springs about ten o'clock last night.

He was walking along thinking about the beauties of nature, when he was suddenly startled by the command, "Hold up your hands!" He looked up and saw an ugly gun held in the hands of a thug. He lost no time in throwing up his hands, but he happened to have his watch in his pocket, and thus saved it from the robber's clutches.
