Musical Programs.

The city churches have made more extended preparations than ever before to present fine musical programs be fore local church goers on Easter Sunday next, and that the churches will be crowded goes without saying. The display of fine hats depends upon the weather, but the music will be independent of the vagaries of Utah climatology; so will the preaching, and the various city pastors are making a special effort to give their hearers their best thoughts on this great day of the Christian year. The Easter decorations, too, will be attractive and Easter and calla lilios will be very much in evidence. The musical programs prepared with much care by the directors of the different churches are given below:

ST. MARK'S CATHEDRAL: The choir, assisted by Miss Emma Grimsdell, soprano; Miss Mabel Coop er, contralto; Hamilton Coffin, ten r and H. S. Goddard, baritone, will ren-der the following program of music at the 11 o'clock service on Easter:
