Dr. FOOTE, Senior,

Of 130 Lexington Avenue, New York,

Hereby cautions the public NOT to Employ or Communicate With a man styling himself "Dr. Foot, Jr." without making due inquiry.

This man came to Salt Lake City representing himself as the son of Dr. E. B. FOOTE of New York, the well known specialist, as abundantly proved by affidavits. As rumors came into Salt Lake City from Dakota and Montana from an expose made there, he changed his base and represented himself as the son of a more noted specialist in New York City than Dr. E. B. FOOTE, the well known author. Mr. JOHN F. THOW, of the well known Trow's Directory, in New York City (forty years in the directory business), Ex-Governor FRANK FULLER, of Utah, and the Hon. ABRAM WAKEMAN, for many years Postmaster in New York City, also Surrogate of the Port, gave their affidavits that there are no other doctors in New York by the name of FOOT or FOOTE, excepting Dr. E. B. FOOTE, the the author of "Medical Common Sense," etc., and h s two sons, Dr. E. B. FOOTE, JR., and Dr. HERBERT T. FOOTE. The genuine Dr. FOOTE, Jr., will hereafter always employ the initials, E. B., in designating his name. Heretofore he has been known not only at home but wherever his publications have been circulated, by the name of Dr. FOOTE, Jr. Greater care will be taken hereafter, in view of the fac that an unprincipled person has assumed to profit by his and his father's reputation.

Those desiring further and more detailed information in respect to this matter, will receive it by addressing Box 414, Salt Lake City Utah.

Persons having information of advantage to plaintiffs will kindly communicate the same to J. W. Ivey, with Sutherland & McBride, Salt Lake City.

Those desiring to consult Dr. FOOTE professionally or to order remedies should address either

Dr. E. B. FOOTE, Sr., or Dr. E. B. FOOTE, Jr.,

A FAITHFUL ELDER GONE TO REST.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF ELDER JOSEPH WEILER FROM ONE WHO WAS HIS COMPANION AS A MISSIONARY.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 9th, 1885.

It has pleased Almighty God, our Eternal Father, in His divine providence, to remove from our midst, by the hand of death, our beloved brother and fellow-laborer, Elder Joseph Weiler, who departed this life August 4th, A.D. 1885, at his residence in Salt Lake City, leaving behind a dear wife and seven beloved children and a host of warm friends to mourn his loss.

He is the son of Bishop Jacob and Mrs. Anna Weiler, and was born in Chester County, Penn., Nov. 17th, 1836. His parents gathered with the Latter-day Saints at Nauvoo in 1841, and shared their sufferings in that place during their persecutions and the martyrdom of their Prophet and Patriarch, Joseph and Hyrum Smith.

Nothing but the expulsion of the Saints from the United States would appease the wrath of the citizens of Illinois, hence the Saints were compelled to flee from civilization to gratify religious prejudices, and seek an asylum in the fastnesses of the Rocky Mountains, surrounded by thousands of wild and hostile Indians.

They left their city of Nauvoo, in 1846, and reached Council Bluffs, where they spent the winter, and in 1847 Joseph with his parents, joined the brave pioneers, enduring the hardships of a long and tedious journey across the trackless desert, and through mountain gorges, among numerous tribes of savage Indians, and aided in laying the foundation of the city of Salt Lake, where he has made it his home up to the time of his death.

He united himself with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in early childhood, being instructed in the principles of the everlasting Gospel, by his parents, and the servants of God. He received the Holy Priesthood and has honored every calling therein, faithfully, to the best of his ability, it being the height of his ambition to aid in the promotion of the kingdom of God upon the earth. He filled every position to which he was called with honor to himself and great credit to the cause of truth and the Church of God.

At the April Conference in 1884 he was called to take a mission to Europe, and after laboring several months in England he was assigned the presidency of the Holland mission, where he labored assiduously, until his release to return home, in 1867.

He acquired the Hollands language, which required months of patient study; after which he superintended the translation of the Voice of Warning in that language, and published 1,000 copies, which were distributed through the Kingdom of Holland. While in the performance of these arduous duties he contracted a severe cold, which settled on his lungs, causing him to spit blood freely, and from this disease he never recovered. Notwithstanding his bodily afflictions, a more ardent and devoted lover of the Gospel of Jesus Christ or untiring and earnest worker in the cause of truth never lived upon the earth. He would rather meet death at his post than shirk a responsibility required of him, or retire from his labors until honorably released by the authority that sent him into his missionary field. His unflinching integrity, his Godlike and pure example won the the love and admiration of the Saints, as well as that of strangers, and all with whom he had the privilege of forming an acquaintance.

Let the Saints emulate his virtues, and practice his examples while they are permitted to remain in mortality, that when they are called to pass the trying ordeal that awaits all the living, they may leave behind them as unsullied a record as our beloved brother, Elder Joseph Weiler, has done.

He is now released from the pains of mortity and his early sufferings and gone for his beloved wife, dear children and warm friends to receive the reward of the righteous in the kingdom of our God.

May the comforting influence of the Holy Ghost inspire the hearts of his bereaved family and friends, that they may bear up under this severe stroke of divine providence and prove true to all their sacred covenants, never failing to acknowledge the hand of the Lord in all things, that they may be worthy to again meet their husband and father in the morning of the first resurrection, never more to be separated.

The Thin Yankee.

Americans incline to emaciation. A thin Yankee worries and asks what he shall do. First, be thankful you are not fat. Man's body is for use. Lean, flexible folks should be grateful that they do not waddle and wheeze. Besides, your chance for long life is better than a fat man's. But you need a certain quantity of fat, and I will prescribe for you. You probably eat too much, and hurt your digestion. It is not food swallowed, but food well digested that produces flesh. If your digestion is shaky shun pie, cake, pudding, sweetmeats, all desserts, and confine yourself to beef and mutton, with graham bread, potatoes, and other vegetables, eating of plain food less than your usual quantity. ☞ Now you must observe and eat more or less as the case may require. It is very important that you should masticate your food thoroughly! Live in the open air much, for after the food is dissolved in the stomach it must mingle with much oxygen in the lungs before it becomes a part of your body. Bad food with pure air will make good flesh faster than good food with impure air. On rising and on going to bed slap your stomach and bowels hard several minutes with the flats of your hands. Shun tea. Sleep fattens, so retire early, and don't hurry up in the morning. Our friend the waddler ought to sleep little, you much. A good prescription for him is:

"Keep your eyes open and your mouth shut;" while a good one for you is:

"Keep your mouth open, and your eyes shut.—Dio Lewis' Nuggets.

Until a few years since, the product of the different slate-quarries in the United States was quite limited. Now the total amount produced of roofing-slate alone is about 800,000 squares per year. A "square" is 100 square feet.

A mendicant approached a benevolent-looking old gentleman the other day and said, "Dear sir, I have lost my leg;" to which the benevolent looking old gentleman replied, as he hurried away, "My dear friend, I am very sorry, but I have not seen anything of it."

At the sale of Burns relics at Ayr Thursday, the Tam o'Shanter and Souter Johnnie chairs were bought for the Burns cottage for £47 each. A wooden, silver-hooped stirrup cup was sold for £55 and an autograph letter of the poet to Hamilton Nimmo brought £7.

A minister having preached the same discourse to his congregation three times, one of his constant hearers said to him after service, "Docter, the sermon you gave us this morning having had three several readings, I move that it now be passed."

"Now," said the photographer, taking hold of the cloth over his apparatus, "are you quite ready?" "Yes," replied the customer. "Well, just keep your eye on that sign," he said, pointing to a legend on the wall which read "Positively No Credit," "and look pleasant."

The proprietor of a menagerie relates that one of his lions had once a thorn taken out of his paw by a French lieutenant in Algeria. The lion afterwards ran over the list of officers belonging to the regiment of his benefactor, and out of gratitude devoured all of superior grade to the lieutenant, who thereby found himself promoted to the rank of colonel.

The "thought-reader" placed his hand on the man's head, withdrew it, and struck him a fearful blow on the nose. When the man got out from under the chair and asked the reader what he hit him for, he replied, "Just as I placed my hand on your head you though I was a confounded fool; and I don't allow any man to think that, no matter if he's as big as a house!"

Canvas bags can, it is said, be made as impervious to moisture as leather by steeping in a decoction of one pound of oak-bark with fourteen pounds of boiling water, this quantity being sufficient for eight yards of stuff. The cloth from which the bags are made has to soak for twenty-four hours when it is taken out, passed through running water, and hung up to dry.

A Pathan soldier at Bombay recently was reported for misconduct. In revenge he shot and killed two sergeants belonging to a native regiment. He then barricaded himself within his quarters and shot his wife dead. After keeping up for a time an ineffective fire against those who attempted to assail his retreat, he lay down beside his wife's corpse, and with his last bullet ended his own life.

We want to show you two animals. One has four legs. They call him a pig. We want you to see him eat. Now, when that fellow gets enough, he'll stop. Let us look at another. They call this one a man; he has two legs; he is at breakfast. He looks this way and that. He can't see anything that he wants. Now he tries a mouthful of strong coffee: that won't fetch it. He tries a spoonful of catsup, that's a failure. Now he tries a mixture of mustard and vinegar. At length things begin to work a little, and he is finally able to cram a lot of griddle-cakes and sausage and sausage and griddle-cakes, and two or three cups of strong coffee, into his stomach. Which do you vote for? I vote for the gentleman with four legs.—Dio Lewis.

Mr. G. A. Retman, Denison, Crawford Co., Iowa, writes that he suffered a long time with rheumatism, was finally cured by St. Jacobs Oil, the magical pain-conqueror, and he would not be without it.
