SIGNAL CORPS FESTIVITIES Captain Greenwald's Birthday Celes

brated-Election of Officers. The Signal Corps met at the Armory

last night and proceeded to make a rare evening of it. There was a large attendance and general good fellowship was the feature of the evening. The diversions began with a prize drill between Sergeant Jesse Paul and Ser-geant Bourne Paul. The next prize drill will be at the annual encampment. First Sergeant A. J. Skidmore was on the first ballot. Lieut Skidmore has been with the corps for three years and is one of the most popular boys in the organization. rgeant O. W. Ridwell was awarded a gold fountain pen for evincing the most rapid improvement in the past two months. The chief event of the evening was the banquet tendered to the boys by Captain A. J. Greenewald, the occasion being his birthday. The spread was de-licious and after it had been disposed of neat speeches were made by Colonel Park, Major Benedict, Colonel Beer and Captain Jack Alford. These were followed by the presentation of a silver smoking set to Captain Greenewald by Lieut. Smith on behalf of the Corps. The Captain made a very happy response

A CHILD'S TERRIBLE FALL. John Held's Eight-Year/Old Son Has

Narrow Escape.

Julian Held, the eight-year-old son of John Held, had a fall yesterday afternoon that injured him severely and that it did not end his life is a marvel. He was climbing around in a house that is being built near his home on Sixth and D streets. He lost his footing in some way and fell through the joists of the ground floor onto a vile of lead pipes in the basement. The fall was from the second story and the boy was not even rendered unconscious. In his hurt condition he made his way home and gave his mother directions as to where a doctor could be found.

Dr. Mary Van was called and discovered only a mass of bruises about the child's body. four of his teeth had been knocked out and the jaw bone was slightly fractured. It is not thought the child had been injured internally, and his display of pluck throughout the

Mrs. Johnson that she was deserted, and there was nothing for her to do but wend her way tearfully to the paternal home on east Seventh South street. It is said that Johnson has got himself into complications with another woman, and in the meantime those young ladies who are attacked with the eloping microbe can think upon this episode and upon others. THE HEADLINE WRITER.

Visitor Thought He Was Suffering From Delirium Tremens.

A compassionate old man looked up from his newspaper. "What's the matter with your friend?" he asked. "Is the chap suffering from delirium tremens?" "Oh, no," the man addressed replied assuringly. "You see, he's just got through with his day's work on an evening newspaper. He's a headline writer, you know, and after a fellow has scribbled off headlines of 23 letters and spaces for about eight hours steady he contracts that habit and can't get over it. Every advertisement, every scrap of paper he sees for several hours afterward until his-mind gets restedwell, he begins to count the letters and spaces and turn the wording into a headline that will fit. It isn't exactly delirium tremens. It's something worse -the headlines of 23 letters and spaces go wiggling around in that poor overworked brain much worse than snakes." -Chicago Chronicle.

DECADENCE OF NEW ENGLAND.

A dispatch from Ottawa, Ont., gives the following extract from a letter written by Hon. David Mills, Canadian minister of justice, now in England: "We did not enter Massachusetts much before reaching Lowell. What impresses itself upon the traveler is the character of agriculture in these states. It is such as I remember in Ontario 60 year ago. Farming is in its decadence. I saw some sections covered with for-est that I am sure must have been cleared land a century ago, so that feel sure there is far less land in New England cultivated now than there was 50 years ago. I noticed the towns we ran through, had very neat-looking dwelling houses, all well painted and all looked new. The people are living mostly by some handicraft of the me-chanical kind. They don't like farming: they take no interest in it, and derive no enjoyment from it. The New England people are upon the soil, but are not of it. They obviously dislike farming as much as their women do having children, and were and for the incapable (?) among them, and the foreigners who have taken up their residence among them there would be gners who have taken up their ience among them, there would be

Judge George B. Winston, of Ana-conda, who has been visiting in Salt Lake for several weeks past, has the following to say in a special to the Butte Inter-Mountain: "I never in my life saw such a place for amusements. It is simply going to the various re-sorts every day. Every train to Salt-air beach leaves loaded down with excursionists and pleasure-seekers. But the lake does not catch all the people. by any means. There are other places, and lots of them, that seem to draw their share of the crowds. Salt Lake people are quite enthusiastic over the building of the San Fedro railroad to Los Angeles, by Senator Clark and as-sociates, and the representative citiems to predict a great future for They believe the city is on Salt Lake. the eve of prosperity and that the next few years will witness a marvelous growth in population."

YOUNG GERMAN FOUND DEAD

John Borrman Dies on Eve of Depart: ing for Home.

John Borrman, a native of Germany, was found dead in his bed at the Eldorado house, 237 west First South street, yesterday. His demise was caused by heart trouble, from which he had been suffering for nearly all his life. He came to America three years ago, and came to Salt Lake one year later. He entered the employ of O'Don-nell, the undertaker, but two months ago he had to quit work because of his physical condition. He had cherished wish for a long time to get back to his parents in Germany and a ticket for part of the journey was found in his pocket after he was dead, indicat-ing that he intended to leave for his home at once. He was only 23 years of age and was a brother of Herman Borrman, proprietor of the Germania saloon.

BROKEN PROMISES.

American Fork Man Driven Into Banks ruptcy by Jilted Girl.

A love affair, a breach of promise suit, a bankruptcy filing-these things came in natural sequence to Warren C. Boley, of American Fork, who yesterday petitioned the United States court for surcease from his creditors. His liabilities are represented to be : $3,175.80, and it's a hard luck story. Of his total liabilities, $3,000 is coming to Lucy Herron, of Pleasant Grove, on a judgment held by her for breach of promise to marry. The action was brought against Boley last February in the Fourth district court at Provo verdict for the whole amount being rendered, to say nothing of $50.30 costs His other debts are $12.65 to the Chip-man Mercantile company: $12.65 to E. H. Boley: and $100, borrowed money, to H. C. Boley. The petitioner's assets amount to $3,595.60, claimed to be exempt from execution.

END OF SECRET MARRIAGE. Charles Johnson Deserts His Young

Bride of Three Weeks. There seems to be something in the secret marriages at Farmington that lacks the staying qualities. Another failure has been registered in the case of Charles Johnson, an erstwhile waiter in the California restaurant and Miss May Smith, and from all accounts it seems that the faithlessness emanates from the husband. It was only three weeks ago who young Johnson took the pretty telephone girl to Farmington and married her. When they returned to Salt Lake they took apartments in the Normandy on Third South street and seemed, to be extracting about as much joy out of life as possible. But the happy dream was soon to end. When Johnson went to work Tuesday night the usual affectionate parting ensued and all seemed well. His usual hour of returning in the morning came around but he did not put in an ap-pearance. The young bride waited as long as her patience would let her then she set out to the restaurant to find out what was keeping "Charlle." There wasn't any good news awaiting her. Mrs. Kennedy, the proprietress, of the restaurant told her that Charles had drawn what was coming to him and resigned. Then the young wife went from restaurant to restaurant, but no one had seen "Charile." She went

THE TITLE OF THE ENGLISH SOVEREIGN.

The title of our sovereign has undergone a good many changes in the course of ages. Even during the Heptarchy "Rex gentis Anglorum" existed, though the style King of England was first used by Egbert in 828. The first person plural, now shared by editors, was adopted by John at the end of the twelfth century. "Defender of the Faith," still used, was conferred upon Henry Vill by Pope Leo X. The same gra-clous monarch altered the title "Lord" of Ireland into King. "Great Britain" was only adopted by Anne at the union of England and Scotland. A further change was made by George III, when at the union of Great Britain and Ireland the royal title was appointed to run thus:-"Georgius Teritus, Dei Gratia Britainniarum Rex, Fidei Defensor." Then for the first time, just a hundred years ago, the addition, "King of France," which Eng-lish sovereigns had borne for centur-ies, was omitted. "Hanover" was in ies, was omltted. like manner dropped in the queen's style when she came to the throne. The latest change came on May 1, 1876, when "Empress of India" was added.--London Chronicle
