SPIKE AND RAIL.

The Rio Grande and the Oregon Short Line both ran excursions to Salt Lake today for the circus. Cloudbursts on the desert in southern Utah and Nevada are causing train crews to keep their eyes open. Tracy Cummings, freight and passen-ger agent for the Illinois Central in San Francisco, is in the city today. The Rio Grande handled about 2,500 people at Provo yesterday for the cir-cus. The San Pedro also had some very heavy trains. The reduction of rates on steel rails and sugar to points west of the Mis-souri river, according to the New York Commercial, may mean a rate war. President Frank Trumball of the Co. lorado Midland and C. & S., is expected to arrive in Salt Lake next week. Mr.

Trumball and family are at present making a tour of Yellowstone Park. Yellowstone Park business is simply immense this year. All previous records for business during July and Au gust have gone glimmering when this season's traffic is taken into consideration.

C. H. Gregg, superintendent of the dining car service of the Rio Grande, came in yesterday afternoon from Pueblo. He says that within an hour after the railroad horror the creek had dwindled down to a mere thread of a stream again.
