

THE DRUNKARDS; OR, "A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

[CONCLUDED.]
"Very likely so," answered the widow. "In the very chapter he spoke of, God says that His word shall not return unto Him void, but shall accomplish His will."

The next day they went over the way to dinner, and spent a very pleasant afternoon there. Both Faith and her mother rather marvelled that no intoxicating drink was brought on the table at dinner; and not even at dessert was there anything of the sort.

After quietly peeling an orange for Faith, Mr. Morgan looked up with moistened eyes, and said, "I suppose you knew, Mrs. Harley, that God spoke to me by your little girl a few days ago?" A pause, and then he continued, "I have tried to give heed to that voice; and during the last day or two I have a conflict with myself, and with old habits, greater than I can tell you. But, please God, I am going to keep on struggling. I took the first step in a new and happy direction when I transacted a little business with Miss Faith, the other morning, at your door. I went home and to bed, to be out of the way of temptation while I felt so weak physically, as well as morally. And I got moral strength (or something better, if you will) before I got physical strength; for as I read over that chapter about Faith and I had been talking about, I came to those two verses, the sixth and seventh of Isaiah the 56th, and I went over and over them again, until I felt such hope as I had never felt before; and this hope infused such life and strength into me that I at last ventured to think that the former things might really pass away, and that all things might become new, and I think so now, Mrs. Harley, after more reflection. What a mercy that it is never too late to begin to do right! Though my head is grown grey, and though I have spent years and health and wealth in a sinful wicked course, yet I have assurance that it is not too late. I have indeed been 'as a beast before God,' still He has sent me a most gracious message of mercy."

Here the old gentleman's voice completely broke down. Mrs. Harley made a few relevant remarks to allow of his regaining his composure.

He drew Faith to his side, and, putting his arms around her, said, "I thank God for the ministrations of your little daughter, Mrs. Harley. From this time I shall see a meaning and a beauty which I never saw before in that text, 'A little child shall lead them.' It seems as if a little hand had pointed me up to the shining heights, and a soft voice had, angel-like, whispered to me this beautiful Christmas time of things as glad as those which were uttered to the Bethlehem shepherds by singing angels ages ago. I have been told of the way of peace, by God's good help I have begun to walk in that way."

Faith looked up and said earnestly, "And will you always?"
"Yes, indeed, I trust so," he replied, with equal earnestness.

"I hope you will," responded Faith, heartily—a hope, I may tell you, which was not disappointed; for as the months rolled by they found Mr. Morgan still doing honest battle with self, and ever victorious through the strength of the Mighty Helper. Faith rather wondered that Mr. Morgan should always address her as "little child," he had quite left off calling her Faith. She expressed her surprise to her mother, by saying, "It's a wonder he calls me 'little child' so, mother. I'm not so little. Mrs. Morgan says I'm a rather big girl for my age."

"It may be, dear, that he does so in remembrance of that Christmas event," said her mother. "He is sure to have some reason of his own for giving you that title."

It was to keep fresh the memory of that day on which a child had been instrumental, through the providence of God, in leading him and his wife from the dark and horrible road of intemperance to the pathway that leads on to life, light, and a glorious immortality.

SINGER'S
New Improved Silent
FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

The Best in the World, Because all of them are in constant use, while a very large proportion of other makes are idle, owing to their being partially or utterly unpracticable.

THE SINGER
NEW FAMILY MACHINE

Has been brought to perfection, regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

It is simple, compact, durable, beautiful, quiet, light-running, and capable of performing a wide range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single machine; using either Wood, Steel, or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and most elaborate patterns and designs between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and sublimely simple manner.

The New Improved Attachments for Hand-sewing, (any width) Braiding, Embroidering Machine, Gathering and Sewing on (on the same stand) Band-Sewing, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are novel and practicable, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases,
New designs of the unique, useful and popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Singer Machine, are in every variety of Wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, Stainwood, and from the plainest to the most elaborate patterns and designs. The Machines themselves are plain or highly ornamented with pearl and gold to correspond with their tables or cabinets.

In the Singer the work is fed or passed through the Machine in the natural direction, namely, from right to left, and the work is in a natural and healthy position. In many other machines the work passes from right to left, or the reverse, compelling the operator to sit in a bent and unhealthy position, and thus causing weakening of the back.

The Singer uses a SHORT STRAIGHT NEEDLE, which is not liable to break or split the cloth. Many other Machines use a long crooked needle, which is liable to break and to miss the stitch.

In the Singer Machine the Shuttle is carried, thus avoiding nearly all wear. It requires no oil, and does not soil the thread or goods.
Other Machines draw their Shuttles, in a race, thus causing great wear, and requiring oil, soiling the thread and goods.

On the Singer, the Tension on both the upper and lower threads is absolutely under the control of the operator, and the work is Machine always available for good sewing, while the many so-called cheap Machines are really worthless, and so are many of their new peculiarities and supposed advantages.

The SINGER is the Oldest Practical Sewing Machine,
Being about twenty years in the market.
Having been constantly improved, the employment of the most skilled ingenuity of the age and continued capital it is now driven to all unnecessary parts and possesses All the Very Latest Improvements and Improvements.
It is the only Machine sold on Sound Claims, as all the parts are Practical and will do all that is claimed for them. Some other Machines are Greatly Complicated, to do Unnecessary and Silly Things, and thus render them Unreliable to Constant Derangement. The Singer Seldom Breaks down, but is readily and easily managed by those who rarely fail on other Machines.

NEW Manufacturing Machines Claim the same advantages over others of their class as the new Family Machines. These old and well-tried Sewing Machines are applicable to all kinds of heavy and light manufacturing work, and are run in the most perfect and reliable manner without trouble to the operator.
