

BREVITIES.

The first house in San Francisco was erected in 1846.

The nation is lost amid which vice becomes respectable.

This year's estimated wheat crop of Oregon is one-third in excess of the last.

Carlotta contemplates writing a history of Maximilian's reign in Mexico.

Cincinnati has an excellent portrait painter only sixteen years of age.

The British Parliament is to pass a bill for the protection of sea-gulls.

A grandchild of the Russian Czar received $900,000 worth of Christmas gifts.

More ex-Governors than any other class of men have died during the past year.

Thirty-four persons in the Indiana Insane Asylum at Indianapolis became insane from the excessive use of tobacco.

In Arkansas, by a new law, the county in which a murder is committed is liable to be tried and fined $1,000.

The Los Angeles and San Pedro railroad will be vigorously pushed, a large supply of iron and other materials having been received.

The 40,000 miles of railroad in the United States give employment, it is stated, to 45,000 men.

Nearly all the crowned heads of Europe are said to be in favor of female suffrage.

Sheep-rangers living near the sea-shore have discovered that fish make as good feed as hay, and that one fish is a full meal for a sheep.

The Spanish squadron now on duty at Cuba consists of six vessels, mostly side-wheelers, poorly armed and miserably slow.

A lady in Detroit has obtained a divorce because her husband used unkind language to her, and compelled her to black his boots.

A man at Milford, Mass., claims to be the "champion peeper," having pegged 1,200 boots in nine hours and twenty minutes.

An oyster was recently fished up at Stamford (Conn.) which contained 127 pearls, and one at New Haven which had 203, varying in size from that of a buckshot to a mustard seed.

A velocipedian in Jacksonville, Ill., accidentally rode his machine out of a window, leaving a ten foot passage, and rattling down a steep roof before he caught a chimney and stopped his career.

The Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria, is to be married on the 27th of July next to the Prince Royal of Denmark. This will leave the Queen only one unmarried daughter, the Princess Beatrice.

About eight millions of dollars are in the beer-brewing business in New York city and the annual product of beer is nearly a million barrels.

The proposed bridge over the East river, at New York, is estimated to cost $7,000,000, and to require six years for its construction. It will be a mile in length.

Mrs. Hannah French of North Pembroke, 84 years old, recently spun five skeins of woolen yarn between nine o'clock in the morning and three in the afternoon. She keeps house alone, and does all her work.

Texas has begun to grumble loudly over the crop prospects. The grass-hoppers are already destroying the corn by wholesale, and there is little hope that cotton can be successfully planted.

A youth who killed his mother was recently executed at Montpellier, France. His head was covered with a black veil to indicate the unnatural character of the crime he had committed. Upon reaching the foot of the scaffold he refused to ascend the steps, and offered the most desperate resistance to the executioner and his assistants.

The late Baron James Rothschild, born in 1792, was the fifth and last surviving son of M. Meyer Anselm de Rothschild, the founder of this family of bankers princes at Frankfurt, who died in 1812. The deceased baron was called the "King of bankers, and the banker of Kings."

If people soaked themselves half as often outwardly as they do inwardly, they would be infinitely better off. A majority of men, however, would no more dare to bathe their skin with what they habitually pour into their stomachs, than they would expect to jump over the moon if they tried.

Gen. Myers of Omaha has spent a day or two in Sioux City selecting a site for warehouse, preparatory to making Sioux City a depot of supplies from which to furnish the several military posts and Indian agencies in the department of the Northwest. We understand that the General secured the necessary grounds, and that the buildings will be erected without delay.

A pious and wealthy Genevian is afraid that another deluge may occur at no distant day, and so he has constructed for his own use in that event a very fine and comfortable ark, which is now riding at anchor in front of the city to the great amusement of the Genevians, and in which modern Noah hopes to save his life when the waters shall begin to rise.

A man in Paris has opened an office for advising inexperienced young men in regard to so-called affairs of honor. He teaches them for fifty francs how to insult their adversaries in the most genteel manner, and how to resent affronts so as to render a duel inevitable. He instructs them also in all matters regarding duels and challenges.
