Oyster Bay, Sept. 21 .- Late today Secy. Loeb gave to representatives of the press a formal statement by the president, which was called forth by the recent exchanges between William R. Hearst 225 Senator Foraker of Ohio. Mr. Hears in public utterances, had accused the senator of relations with the Standard Oil company inconsistent with his duties as a senator and his at-titude as a representative of Republi-can policles and professions. In to-day's statement President Roosevelt day's statement President Roosevelt makes another appeal for the support of Mr. Taft, and declares that his de-feat would bring "lasting satisfaction to but one set of men, namely, te those men who, as shown in the correspond-ence published by Mr. Hearst, were behind Mr. Foraker, the opponent of Mr. Taft, within his own party, and who are behind Gov. The statemen embodies a letter writ-ten by Mr. Taft to a friend in Ohio on July 20, 1907, in which the present Re-publican candidate for the presidency refused to acquiesce in the plan of the Ohio state central committee to endorse Mr. Taft for the presidency and Mr. Foraker for re-election to the senate in a single resolution. The president Foraker for re-election to the senate in a single resolution. The president points out that Mr. Taft's attitude has been always directly opposed to that charged against Senator Foraker by Mr. Hearst regarding the moneyed in-terests. The president cites the Brownsville affair as a case where the Brownsville affair as a case where the agitation was a phase of the effort "by the representatives of certain law-defy-ing corporations to bring discredit upon the administration." It was, he says, in large part, "not a genuine agitation on behalf of colored men at all."

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT.

President Roosevelt made public the President Roosevelt made public the following statement today: "In view of Mr. Hearst's disclosure about Senator Foraker, I make public the following letter written by Mr. Taft on July 20, 1907, to a friend in Ohio, prominent in Ohio politics, who wrote him before the meeting of the state much before the meeting of the state central committee, asking whether he would object to the committee passing a resolution endorsing Mr. Taft for president and Mr. Foraker for senator, in the interest of harmony. A copy of esident and Mr. Foraker for senator, in the interest of harmony. A copy of this letter was submitted to me at the time, but after the original had been sent. It was not intended for pub-lication, but it was understood that, if necessary, it would be published. "I personally know that the strongest pressure by various leaders under pressure by various leaders was brought on Mr. Taft at that time to consent to the proposed arrangement, and he was informed by leading men from other states that if he would confrom other states that if he would con-sent to this arrangement all opposition on the part of Mr. Foraker and on the part of some of Mr. Foraker's influen-tial friends in the senate and elsewhere tial friends in the senate and elsewhere would cease, and that Mr. Taft's nom-ination for the presidency would be ination

"But Mr. Taft declined for one moment to consider any possible ad-vantage to himself where what he vantage to himself where what he regarded as a great principle was at stake. His attitude on this question, as well as on countless questions, con-vinced me that of all the men in this Union, he was the man pre-eminent-

The man who un-hesitatingly resists temptation, who cannot be swerved by any considera-tion of personal interests from follow-ing the course which his lofty concep-tion of duty dictates to him, the man whose whole concern is for the wel-fare of the people, and who has proved in a lifetime of difficult and useful pub-lic service his extraordinary capacity as an administrator, is surely the inan

Mr. Taft's candidacy is not based upon large and vague prom-ises, part of which would be im-possible of achievement and part of which would be absolutely mischievous to the people of the whole country if put into effect. His candidacy is based upon his great record of actual achieve-ment, his great record of service to the public; upon his inflexible adher-ence to the highest standards of right-eousness, and upon his proved and ab righteousness and upright and fair dealing which have marked the man-agement of the affairs of the national government during the last seven years and that is by electing Mr. Taft. To defeat him will bring lasting satisfaction to but one set of men, namely, to those men who, as shown in the correspondence published by Mr. Hearst, were behind Mr. Foraker, the opponent of Mr. Taft within his own party, and who are now behind Gov. Cincinnati, Sept. 21.-United States Senator J. B. Foraker stated that owing to the lateness of the hour he would not make any reply to the statement issued tonight by President Roosevelt relative to the position Judge Taft had taken on the matter of the endorsement of Senator Foraker for re-election. The senator said he would probably not read tonight he copy of the state-ment handed him by the representative of the Associated Press. The suggestion was made that he might wish his answer to appear in the editions of the newspapers of the country in which the president's state-ment would be published. Senator Foraker, in reply, said: "I am not so fond of the president's company as that." BRONX LEOPARDS IN

A DEATH STRUGGLE.

New York, Sept, 21.-Nigger, a black fe-male leopard, has been killed by her cage-mate, The Devil, after a desperate battle in the lion house of the Bronx menagerle. Hundreds of persons, includ-ing women and children, watched the combat. The keepers made vigorous et-forts to separate the fighters, but could no nothing with the enraged animals. For a week or more the couple had not been on good terms, and Nigger care-fully kept to the corner of the cage, avoiding her angry spouse. Then, when the lion house was crowd-ed with the visitors, the female leopard ambled across the cage to where her mate lay and begap to scratch her back

Washington, Sept. 21 .- What is practically a world's fair on tuberculosis was formally opened at the new national museum in this city tonight. The exhibition has been assembled in connection with the international congress on tuberculosis.

Addresses were made by the secretary of agriculture, Surgeon-General George H. Sternberg and others.

The exhibition will remain open until Oct. 12, during which time there will be demonstrations and talks to illustrate the methods by which the fight against tuberculosis is being made in all parts of the world.

Practically every civilized nation is There were seated on the platform many scientists who have come here from every part of the globe. The auditor was well filled

He alluded to the work of the department in preventing the entrance into this country of infected entrance into this country of infected cattle from the Phillppine Islands. The inspection of slaughterhouses through-out the country, he pointed out, was one of the rigid safeguards which the department has enforced. "It has been demonstrated that in its earlier stages tuberculosis is cur-able," said Surgeon General George M Storabarg. "The grathy of the past

M. Sternberg. "The apathy of the past was founded on ignorance. The vig-orous campaign which has been in-augurated during recent years for the orols campaign which has been in augurated during recent years for the cure and prevention of tuberculosis is based upon exact knowledge and will no doubt result in a rapid decrease in the mortality from this disease, and eventually, we hope, in its practical extinction. This hope is justified by results which have already been at-tained in Europe. Education of the people generally is a fundamental requisite in the prosecution of the campaign. It will require the united efforts of sanitary officers, physicians, social workers, fraternal and church organizations, teachers and the edu-cated classes generally."

CHAIRMAN HITCHCOCK ADMITS FUNDS ARE SHORT.

Chicago, Sept. 21.-That, the funds necessary to defray the expenses of a long, vigorous speaking campaign have not been forthcoming was frankly ad-nitted today by Chairman Frank H, Hitchcock of the Republican national committee The statement was made n explanation of the delays that have attended the beginning of the campaign

"I have no apologies to make," he said. "We knew long ago that we could not waste any funds, and for that reason we decided that the proper thing to do was to get the states in shape for an effective campaign for the last month preceding the election. To that end I have given most of my time to the adjustment of factional differences in a large number of states where the Republicans were not pulling together.

OPPOSED BY FORAKER.

"Senator Foraker has been a leader "Senator Foraker has been a leader among those members of Congress of both parties who have resolutely op-posed the great policies of internal re-form for which the administration has made itself responsible. His at-titude has been that of certain other nublic men, notably (as shown by Mr. Hearst) Gov. Haskell of Okla-homa. There is a striking difference in one respect, however, in the pres-ent position of Gov. Haskell and Sen-ator Foraker. Gov. Haskell stands high in the councils of Mr. Bryan and is the treasurer of his national camis the treasurer of his national cam is the treasurer of his national cam-paign committee. Senator Foraker represents only the forces which in embittered fashion fought the nomin-ation of Mr. Tatt and which were definitely deprived of power within the Republican party when Mr. Taft was nominated. The publication of this correspondence not merely/justi-fies in striking fashion the action of the administration, but also casts a the administration, but also casts a serious sidelight on the attacks made upon the administration both in the Denver convention which nominated Mr. Bryan and in the course of Mr. There is but one Bryan's campaign. way to preserve and perpetuate the great reforms, the great advances in within my party, not involving a sub-ject which must come up for consid-eration and action by the next Repub-lican national convention. I should not be so emphatic in my conclusion. "'It is not on my part a question of personal feeling with respect to Senator Foraker. It is really a question of poll-tical principle. In respect to this, the legislature of Ohio expressed what I believe to be the sentiment of the peo-ple of Ohio in a resolution asking the senator to support the rate bill. Sena-tor Foraker declined to follow this reso-lution. When the issue is whether he shall be returned, it must be deter-mined, if this is to be a representative form of government, not by the quesmate lay and begap to scratch her back form of government, not by the ques-tion whether he has followed his con-science but by the question whether he really represents the principles that his schede but to y die principles that his constituents desire supported and put into practise. The issue is really whether the Republicans of Ohio, there-fore, as the constituents of their sena-tor or a presidential candidate support the main policies maintained by the administration or the opposition to those policies. Representing the poli-cies of the administration, I cannot stultify myself by acquiescence in any proposed compromise which necessarily involves the admission that the Repub-licans of Ohio regard this fundamental difference of opinion as of no import-ance and one that can be waived in the interest of party harmony or the setance and one that can be waived in the interest of party harmony or the set-tlement of factional differences. There is not the slightest doubt that the next national convention of the Republican party will sustain in full the vital and main principles maintained by Presi-dent Roosevelt, and will express no sympathy with the opposition repre-sentend by Senator Foraker. Because I believe these principles and because in my judgment the Republicans of the state and nation are overwhelmingly state and nation are overwhelmingly BAILEY GLAD LETTER in favor of them, 1 cannot favor any

There was ho further attempt at friendliness by Nig-ger. She leaped at him and they rolled over the floor of the cage, clawing and snarilng. The clamor argused the other animals and the roars of the lions and tigers were soon shaking the building. George Engleholm, one of the kepers, procured an iron spike and tried to pry the animals apart. His efforts were of no avail and he was joined by three other er keepers, similarly armed, but their combined force was futile. For nearly 30 minutes the battle continued.
