To understand the sudden and radi-

which has been aroused throughout Rome, and especially around the vati-

bulletin has just been issued:

"After a rather quiet day, the pa-tiont's condition is generally easier. The thorax was again examined. There was no increase of liquid in the upper portion of the thorax to give indications of pleuritic irritation. May Go On For Many Days.

Rome, July 11 .- The pope continues to hold his own. A slight improvement is manifested in the primary ailment but the condition of the kidneys now gives cause for a renewal of anxiety. This is increased by the danger of the pontiff's heart giving out at any moment. In a general way, however, the brave old patient may be said to be more comfortable than for several days. The doctors say they would scarcely be surprised if the see-saw between life and death continues for another 15 days. This afternoon the extraordinary nonogenarian received in audience three cardinals, one belonging to the order of bishops, one to the order of priests, and one to the order of deacons, in the private chapel of the pontifical apartments.

A tridium for the pope's recovery was celebrated today, and will continue uncelebrated today, and will continue un-ceasingly until Monday night. Prayers will be said and chanted in Pope Leo's behalf and the expenses of the services will be borne by an ancient body known as the "pope familiars." A dispatch from Turin announces that even in cradle of Savoy, which wrested tem-poral power from the validan, the inporal power from the vatican, the in-habitants today formed an imposing procession, headed by priests, and slowly marched through the streets, chant ing intercessions. At the church of the Consolata, the archbishop of Turia. Cardinal Richelmy, himself a possible nuccessor of the pope, addressed the fmultitude and pronounced a culogium of Leo XIII, declaring that his death would be an irreparable loss to the church of Rome.

Usually Rome reeks in mid-summer with the fierce heat of the sun and exhalation from the surrounding and example from the surrounding marshes, but now the elements are tending every encouragement toward the recovery of the illustrious patient. of danger. A representative of the Associated Press saw the pope's doctors after this norming's visit, and they assured him that the amelioration which had taken place in the condition of the pope since the last operation was more noticeable than any which had occurred since the pontiff became ill, but it was not suffcient to enable them to consider the patient out of imminent danger. #### E. W. HAMILTON, CONVICT SUICIDE.

Probably no criminal with which the Sait Lake police and Utah state prison officials have had to deal in recent years, was a more desperate character than Hamilton. His record of misdeeds was a long one and extended over several states. When the photograph from which the above cut was made, was taken for the Rogue's Gallery. Hamilton was recalcitrant and re-enforced his objections by physical strength. Like all men of his type he hated to be "mugged" and it required the strong hand an arm of an officer of the law to compel him to remain quiet long enough for the prison photographer to get "a shot" at him. And when he did get it Hamilton had closed his eyes and otherwise distorted his face so that it would resemble him as little as possible. But the tight grip the officer had upon his rather long locks, and the prompt action of the picture-man in pressing the button, resulted in securing a very fair likeness. Ever since his arrest it has occupied a conspicuous place in the famous gallery of crooks at the old city hali.

Execution Until Thursday.

Attorney Wanless, who was to have been sentenced today by Judge Dichl, has been granted a stay of execution until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Wanless called on Judge Dicht and quietly made a plea for a postponement of the time of sentence. The judge told him he would have to see the county attorney about it. He then called on County Attorney Westervelt, and after a brief interview the latter gave his consent to a stay of execution until Thursday. Through the securing of the consent of the county attorney. Judge Diehl granted the request of the hapless young attorney. Mr. Wanless feels his position very keenly and hopes that something may yet intervene to save him from imprisonment.
