BREVITIES.

"Pile the Ome of fine writing on the Penny-a-liner's phrease." is the latest penny-a-liner's phrease.
It has only cost John Bull $125,000 to fit up one of his war ships for a pleasure trip by Wales and his family.
An experienced old gentleman says that all that is necessary for the enjoyment of love or sausages is confidence.
The annual earnings of the American people are estimated at $7,500,000,000, and their domestic trade as nearly $6,000,000,000 a year.
According to the Tribune, New York City consumes between three and four tons of hair, at a cost of $2,000,000, per annum for its wigs and chignons.
The Rothschild family manseum is fitted up like a drawing room and made as cheerful a chamber as one could desire for the long sleep.
"This is capital ale!" said an old toper; "see how long it keeps its head." "Ay," said a bystander, "but consider how soon it takes away yours!"
Some patient, little children of North Barnstead, N. H., have made a skein of silk from spiders web, strong enough to sustain several pounds weight.
The oldest tannery, it is said, in the United States is located at Bethlehem in Pennsylvania. It was built by the Moravians in 1743, and enlarged by them in 1751.
It is reported that the Mexican Congress has decided to stop work on the Vera Cruz Railroad, and to put an end to the railway system as dangerous to Mexican independence.
A French newspaper, speaking of a new cemetery opened near Lyons, says: "M. Casqueine was the first person who had the pleasure of being buried in this delightful retreat."
Mrs. Partington says that Ike, having become enamored of a syren in Boston has led her to the menial halter. He didn't appear the least decomposed. On the back of his wedding cards were little cubits with wings.
There was a quadruple marriage in Indiana the other day. A man married his third step-mother, who had three children by his father, and three of his cousins, brothers, married three of his wife's sisters. Number one is half brother to his wife's children.
Fifteen years ago, an admirer of Rossini obtained two slips of laurel, one from Virgil's tomb near Naples, and the other from the tomb of Tasso, and planted them in the composer's garden at Passy. The crown which was placed upon Rossini's coffin was procured from these two trees.
During the Nelson and Wellington war and old woman went into a village shop to buy half a pound of candles. Being told the price she found it more than she had been used to, and asked the reason. The shopman said it was because of the war on which the old woman exclaimed, "Deary me, sir, have they taken to fighting by candle-light?"
"The penalty for walking on a railroad track in England is ten pounds," said one, while discussing the numerous fatal accidents on a railroad. "Pooh!" replied Uncle Jerry, "is that all? The penalty in this country is death."
A late minister of Peebles had been discoursing on the sin of falsehood, and had portrayed the unhalloved consequences of indulging in the practice. A small trader in the place, whose conscience had been for the moment aroused, exclaimed to a neighbor on going home: "The minister's meedna has been as hard, for there's plenty o' leers in Peebles besides me."
Two friends met the other day in the street. "What a shocking bad hat you wear!" exclaims one of them. "My dear friend, I wear it only because I love my own liberty."
"But what on earth has your liberty to do with the hat?" "Oh, a great deal. My wife has sworn that she would never walk out with me as long as I should wear such a hat."
A young lady having called out an ugly gentleman to dance with her, he was astonished at the condescension and believing that she was in love with him, desired to know why she had selected him from the rest of the company. "Because, sir," replied the lady, "my husband commanded me to select such a partner as should not give him cause for jealousy."
"My son," said the veteran at the foot of the stairs, "arise and see the newly risen luminary of the day, and hear the sweet birds singing their matin song of praise to their great Creator; come while the dew is on the grass and tender lambs are bleating on the hillside—come, I say, or I'll be up there with a switch and give you the cussedist licking that you ever had."
A correspondent has some good ideas on the importance of mental activity in retaining a good face. He says: "We were speaking of handsome men the other evening, and I was wondering how K. had so lost the beauty for which, five years ago, he was so famous. 'Oh, it's because he never did anything,'" said B.; "he never worked, thought or suffered. You must have the mind chiseling away at the features, if you want handsome, middle-aged men."
Since hearing that remark I have been on the watch to see whether it is generally true, and it is. A handsome man who does nothing but eat and drink, grows flabby, and the fine lines of his features are lost, but the hard thinker has an admirable sculptor at work, keeping his fine lines in repair, and constantly going over his face to improve the original design."
