VESTERDAY'S RECORD

IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.

Chicago, Jan. 29 .-- 7 a. m. temperatures: New York, Washington, 22; Chi. cago, 10; Minneapolis, 14; Boston, 18;

Councilmen Page and Emmett of Ogden were down yesterday, to study the city recorder's methods of book keeping and report to the Ogden coun-cil. As the visitors are members of the Ogden waterworks committee they also walked in on Supt. Hines and communed with him, as Ogden is considering buying the private water system which supplies the city, or putting in one of its own. The visiting solons returned home in the evening, highly edified.

Claude Benson, a St. Ann's orphanage boy, ran away after dinner yesterday, and was found later wandering around the state prison. Claude was taken in tow by the guards and turned over to the police and brought to the station house. The boy stated that he had gone home in the afternoon, from the Bryant school that day and lost his way. But when escorted to his home, he told his mother that he had permission to come up town with another boy, and becom-ing separated had gone astray. Benson was taken back to the Orphanage, where the Sisters stated he had run away

A concert was given last night, in the First Methodist church, by Prof. Claude J. Nettleton, the violinist, assisted by Mrs. Wetzell, Miss Nettleton and Band-master John Held. The program was a good one, and well received. The feature of the evening, was a duet between Mrs. Wetzell and Miss Nettleton, with ornet obligato by Mr. Held; and Mr. Nettleton's violin selections including the Nightingale's song from Sarasate, were artistically given. The Jocelyn Berceuse was played by Mr. Held with feeling, and Miss Ne leton played two piano solos and the accompaniments. The evening was much enjoyed.

Rev. John C. Bickel, pastor of the First Methodist church, has been ap-pointed to succeed Rev. Dr. S. A Thompson in the superintendency the Arizona Methodist mission, as Dr. Thompson has been appointed presiding Elder of the Pasadena district of the southern California conference. Mr. Bickel will remain, however, in Salt Lake in the First church pulpit, until arrangements are completed for his successor, so that there will be no "interregnum." His headquarters for some time will be at Los Angeles after going south, and he will make regular trips into Arizona from that city. Bickel has greatly endeared himself to his people while here, and by his tactpolicies has reduced the faction isms and dissensions that obtained in the church before his arrival. His people are very loth to lose him, and wish him success in his new fleid.

Mr. Hisrey qualified at once giving bonds in He took possession this mornng, and is now engaged in taking in-rentory, and will later adjudicate on the claims of creditors. Later developnents will determine whether the stock will be disposed of at auction or in job pts to other merchants.

George Hayes, a gambler, was arrested last night by Officers Brown and Leaker on the charge of conducting a gamblinghouse. This was nothing new for George as he has been there before several times. But he did encounter something new when he stood before the desk sergeant and offered $100 for bail, and that official blandly informed him that the tariff had been raised to $299. Hayes did not have the money but he was given a chance to rustle. In about an hour he returned with the necessary cash, and was re-
