EMIGRANTS'

BLACKSMITHSHOP.

The Fuel is becoming very short around the GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, and for the accommodation of Emigrants, who wish to recruit their horses and get them shod, I have established a blacksmith shop, at the crossing of NORTH COTTON WOOD CREEK, 16 miles north of the City, in the midst of an abundance of choice feed; and while teams are recruiting and reposing, Emigrants can work, near by, on a new road now making in the Kanyon, and receive an honorable compensation, for all their labor.

Said shop is in a farming neighborhood, abounding in butter, cheese, milk, garden vegetables, &c., &c. No endeavors will be wanting by the subscriber to accommodate his travelling friends, who may give him a call,—charges reasonable.

N. B. Blacksmithing in exchange for labor if wished.

DR. BLAKE,

OF ST. LOUIS, has removed his office to Mr. Winchester's, at the north end of the City.

STRAYS.

Near the middle of June, I took up two heifers with young calves; one of them palish red and white, not marked; the other deep red, and white piece taken out of the under side of both ears.

The owners are requested to take them away.
