ULBEDT AND BEST

This can only be done by keeping the control of the institutions of this country in the hands of those who fought for it. The people believe in the fundamental principle of a Repub-lican Government. The same rule also applies in their selection of agents for the diministration of the Government. sustained an institution which prohib-ited the marriage of a large part of the people of Georgia. The system of slavery to which the senator from Massachusetts had called attention, orig-inated in Massachusetts, and the South the administration of the Government. The voice of the great majority of re-publicans of this mighty Nation, has chosen as the standard bearer of that lerived mech of its slavery from that State. Brown read from Elliott's History of New England, to show that the peo-ple of Massachusetts bought and held as slaves Scotchmen, Irishmen, In-dians, negroes and mulattoes, and that they sent cargoes of rum to Africa, ex-changing rum for slaves, some of whom they sold: that they kidmapped Indians and sold them into slavery; that some prohibited baptism to their slaves: that the parriaga relation was chosen as the standard bearer of that great party in the coming contest for President of the United States, James G. Blaine, (applause.) and you need have no fears as to the result. It will be a glorious victory, full and com-plete. Illinois in 1800 gave to this country the first Republican President. Maine was then associated with Illi-nois. In 1884 Maine will give as gal-lant a President to this Republic as has slaves; that the marriage relation was disregarded; that they sold negro woand in every way capable of filling the disregarded; that they sold hegro wo-men and children in the open market, and advertised a woman with a child six months old to be sold together or separate, to suit the purchaser; that they raised slaves for market, and when they found it unprofit-able to raise them in the climate of Magna busits, give away negro chil.

high once of President with honor to himself and to the country. (Tromen-dous applause and cheers for Logan.) Senator Hale was called for and re-sponded briefly. At the close of Senator Hale's re-marks, loud calls were made for Mr. Massachusetts, gave away negro chil-dren, like pupples, to any one who would take them. The charter of Georgia, Brown continued, originally forbade slavery, and while Massachuforbade slavery, and while Massachu-setts was importing slaves and selling them for profit, Georgia was refusing to hold them. Finally Georgia adopted slavery, purchasing part of her slaves from Massachusetts. The Senater from Massachusetts had sald there was a large number of mulattoes to be ac-counted for in the South. He (Brown) eid not claim the South Was guiltless in this particular. His effort had been to show that no section of the country was guiltless. was guiltless. He read from various historical works to show that large numbers of mulattoes were always found in Massachusetts during the time slavery prevalled there, and when, in 1788, Massachusetts passed an act expelling from the State all negroes, the court held that the act applied to mulattoes. It may have been very na-tural to expel negroes from Massachu-setts, but it seemed a little unnatural to expel the mulattoes, not that they were akin to the people of Massachu-setts, but possibly because the elimatic influences had changed their color, un-til they were more in the likeness of the good people of that State. The celd, bleaching winds of Massachusetts or some other cause, had modified the ebony color of the African in that State, and had inflused i compound of yellow, so that they are no longer coli-ed negroes, but mulattoes. After these munattoes, whether naturally or uned negroes, but munitoes. After these munitoes, whether naturally or un-naturally, had been expelled from Massaceusetts, they doubtless took refuge in the Southern States, and their descendants there have multiplied, still transmitting the modified color in-herited from the climatic influences of Massebusetts Brown, in the course anticipated. As he concluded, Hoar entered, and said it was hardly necessary to reply to what the honorable gentleman had said, for on looking into the chamber during the course of his (Brown's) remarks the had noticed that scarcely a human being was listening to the speech. Brown retorted by saying the coun-try would listen to it. Brown's amend-ment permitting divorce for only one cause in places where the United States has exclusive control was rejected; commi the whole building is in flames and seems doomed to entire destruction. This building adjoins the Prince build-ing, which burned ten days ago, and is in the "wholesale" part of town. All the books, papers and stock remain in the building. The other tenants in the block are Adons & Label, bankers, Walker & Co., and Sellgson & Co., commission merchants. There were a number of lodgers on the third floor. From the nature of the re-ports it is impossible to compile the figures showing the yield of of wheat, but a careful review of the statements of 200 correspondents shows that this year's wheat and corn crop of Texas bids fair to surpass the yield of 1882, the heaviest in the history of the State.
