

ABDICTION OF A CATTLE KING.

Grant Gillet, the Most Spectacular Ranchman of the West—on Prairies, Fields from Creditors—Farmers and Financiers Alike Duped by Him.

When shall business men, shrewd pecuniary house owners, conservative bankers and investors cease to be afraid to lend their money and credit to the advances of a man like Gillet?

But who, you say, was a man like Gillet? And that they are not nearly enough there of reason for wonder, which has been the experience of some of the best business men in the West in connection with the cattle king.

Great Thomas Gillet, who left his home in Kansas a few days ago and dropped off again in a day, the specacular career and the nefarious methods marked his history were among the striking incidents of the West and he will rear with Gold on Silver and other glorious names in the annals of the nation's history.

He was a young Kansas boy and settled on the wide Kansas prairies.

He had a family of six children.

The remainder of the cattle was divided among the children of the Ranchman.
