

MORPHINE FIEND TAKES LAST SHOT

Body of "Scotty" McGregor
Found on Some Old Ties
This Morning.

HE WAS A LOCAL CHARACTER.

Addicted to the Use of Drugs He Was Always in Trouble With The Police.

"Scotty" McGregor, a well known character around police headquarters for the past several years, and for a long time a morphine fiend, was found dead at 820 this morning between some old ties on Fourth West and Third South streets. Word was sent to police headquarters and Officer Moore and Jailer Wilkinson hurried to the scene. The officers at once recognized McGregor. His body was lying partly on the left side, the head resting on the right hand. The thumb of his right hand was slipped into the trousers pocket and between the fingers was a match. McGregor appeared as though he had laid down to rest and was merely sleeping. It was quite apparent that he had been dead for some hours.

JOINED RINGING'S.
But little is known of the man's antecedents. He has been in Salt Lake for many years and was addicted to the use of morphine and cocaine. He was frequently arrested and locked up in the city jail for petty offenses, but a year ago last summer declared his intention of leaving Salt Lake and stopping the use of drugs. He went away with Ringling's circus and did not return until a week or so ago. He called at the jail to see some of the trustees, old time friends and jail companions. He presented a clean and healthy appearance and proudly explained that he had "cut out" morphine.

WHAT POLICE BELIEVE.

It is believed by the police, however, that the old craving for morphine got the better of McGregor and that he again began to use the drug. That he took an overdose of it last night is the opinion of those who knew his ways. It is quite probable that McGregor took some of the drug and becoming sleepy, laid down between the ties and fell into the sleep that has no awakening in this sphere.

Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith was notified and ordered the body sent to O'Donnell's undertaking establishment. This afternoon Justice Smith is making an investigation, but it is not likely that an inquest will be held.

HELD IN $500 BONDS.

Robert Smith and Hyrum Smith, charged jointly with grand larceny, were before Judge Ditch this morning for arraignment. They are accused of stealing from Fred Johnson a horse, buggy and harness. Hyrum Smith pleaded not guilty, but Robert entered a plea of guilty. Both wanted to waive preliminary examination, and the prosecution consenting, they were ordered held to the district court in default of $500 bonds.

FROM AFFLUENCE TO SLAB IN COUNTY MORGUE.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—From affluence and political position to a slab in the county morgue, a charge on the county of which he was once an official, was the fate of Fred Johnson, formerly town clerk and a north side Republican leader.

Johnson, who of late years had been practically a social outcast, given up by his wife a daughter and nearly all his former associates, died in the county hospital yesterday of injuries received from a fall from a wagon. He was taken to the hospital in a patrol wagon. His skull was believed to be fractured. The police had many times previously taken him to the station for protection in a helpless state from drink.

Some years ago Mayor Russell interested himself in Johnson and occasionally contributed to his needs, while pleading with him to brace up. The last time the city executive saw Johnson he is said to have bought him a new suit of clothes and given him a substantial sum of money, with the Johnson's political power was in the '90's. At that time he lived in the old Seventh ward, now the Twenty-second, and is said to have controlled the Swedish and Norwegian vote. He was familiarly known as "Honest Fred." After being in various capacities in Northern offices, he was elected clerk of the town, serving under William Bull, who was then treasurer. Johnson was 41 years old.

WOMEN USHERS.

Are to be Employed by Manhattan
Opera House.

New York, Nov. 2.—There are to be women ushers in the Manhattan Opera House. This season. Last winter there was considerable trouble with some of the men who were employed in this capacity and many changes had to be made in the corps of seat pilots before the season was over.

Mr. Hammerstein and his son Arthur have studied out the cause and effect of last year's petty troubles, and they have decided that if women ushers are employed in many of the larger opera houses, there will be a saving, the plan should work in the Manhattan, and will be tried.

Twelve young women, some of whom have been teachers in the public schools, have been engaged, and beginning Monday night they will take charge of the seating arrangement of the Manhattan. The women will be in uniform and easily recognized even in a crowded aisle.

FRENCH COMMENT ON AMERICAN SITUATION.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The week-end financial articles, which on account of the holidays are published today, continue to be absorbed in the American situation and the worldwide monetary stringency. The consensus of opinion is that the storm is too general to subside quickly, and much felicitation is expressed over France's strong position in the present crisis.

While every exchange in Europe is feeling the squeeze in money and many have been compelled to raise their bank rates of discount, the rate of the Bank of France remains at 3 1/2 per cent, and money is so plentiful that it was loaned privately yesterday at 2 1/2 per cent. All the writers agree that France's strong reserves will enable her to reap a big advantage from the present condition. The Bank of France only came to the rescue of London and indirectly to the United States, which is good policy both politically and financially, but moreover such aid will be distinctly profitable as by buying sterling three bills the bank has insured the eventual return of the gold and obtains the prevailing rate of interest in London, which is two points higher than in Paris.

This may refer to the desirability of investing in the New York city revenue bonds handled by the Morgan syndicate.

While still differing regarding President Roosevelt's share in the responsibility for the present crisis in the United States, the French financial writers do not find any praise too high for the services of Messrs. Morgan, Rockefeller and Stillman, and other financial leaders who threw their ability and money into the breach to stem the panic.

CONDEMNED MAN'S LETTER.

Murderer of Lillian White Grant
Writes One to Judge Brentano.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Judge Brentano received a remarkable letter yesterday from Richard Walton, the negro slayer of Mrs. Lillian White Grant, who is under sentence to be hung on Dec. 18. Walton, who had been sentenced four times to the penitentiary, expressed his forgiveness of the court, as well as Asst. State Atty. Benjamin J. Short, who demanded the death penalty in his trial. He expressed thanks to Atty. Patrick Carey, who was appointed by the court to defend him.

In his letter, Walton declared that he would hardly take death as a reward for the truth by pleading guilty than to go to prison by telling a lie, because he knew he caused the woman's death.

INSANE FROM SCANDAL.

G. Lehman, Wealthy New Orleans Merchant, Believed to Have Drowned.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from New Orleans says: Driven insane by scandal, Gustave Lehman, a wealthy merchant, is believed to have drowned himself in the Mississippi river. Two women yesterday identified a photograph of Lehman as that of the man they saw leap into the water at the naval dock Wednesday afternoon. On that day Lehman left his home in a state of great agitation, following the publication of the fact that a suit for $100,000 damages had been brought against him by Helen Florence Hahn of Chicago. His daughter-in-law, charging Lehman with spiriting Thomas Lehman, her husband, out of the country, Gustave Lehman was 55 years old. He was a member of the board of trade, president of two syndicates and director of the Jewish Home.

ENGAGEMENTS OF GOLD
APPROACHING $30,000,000.

New York, Nov. 2.—Engagements of gold for shipment to the United States contemplated by the recent period of money stringency in this country, are approaching the $30,000,000 mark. A statement made today that the National City bank has entered a total of $1,000,000 in United States gold coin in Havana for import, that N. W. Harris & Co. of Boston have engaged $1,000,000 in gold, that George M. McFadden & Brother of Boston have $500,000 in gold now en route to the United States from Europe on the steamer Lusitania. These sums bring the total engagements up to $23,125,000.

Paris, Nov. 2.—President Falliere, it is announced, has decided to accept the invitation of King Alfonso to visit him in Madrid, and will start for Spain early in April next.

TSUKUDA'S FATE RESTS WITH JURY

Arguments in Garfield Murder
Case Are Submitted Shortly
Before Noon.

THE STATE ASKS CONVICTION.

Defense, on the Other Hand, Asks the Jury to Bring in Verdict of Justifiable Homicide.

The fate of Junzo Tsukuda is resting in the hands of a jury of 12 men who have heard the evidence adduced by the state in its prosecution of the Japanese charged with the murder of his countryman, Terahel Kihm at Garfield on July 4 of this year.

The arguments to the jury were made this morning. Dist. Atty. F. C. Loofbourough, who has conducted the case for the people, asked the jury to convict him of murder in the first degree, holding that the attempt of the defense to prove the killing was accidental was not successful. Mr. Willey, answering for the prisoner, urged the jury to consider the nature of the evidence with regard to the defendant's holding that the defendant's testimony was not to be weighed as seriously as that of other witnesses. The jury left the courtroom shortly before noon.

WEEKLY DIVORCE MILL.

James Truttler's combination of incoherencies and sharp barbed knives when used in conjunction with threats to cut his wife's scalp into ribbons of undergarments, and other such fragments closely resembling spaghetti, was all too much for Mrs. Eliza Truttler as she pleaded before Judge Morse yesterday to sever the bonds which require her to love, honor, cherish and obey the offending husband. The testimony showed that the unhappy pair were joined in wedlock in Idaho in 1894, and that they have eight children. The wife was granted a divorce, with $20 per month alimony, custody of their children and $50 attorney's fees.

Mary M. Horth is a gambler's wife—or rather, she was until she courted her story yesterday in Garfield court, and the story of her unhappiness brought forth a decree loosening the fetters binding her to Neils Horth as his wife. She had been addicted to strong drink in almost unbearable extent. A year ago he left her for Nevada and she has not seen him since. According to the testimony they were married in 1890. She was given $25 per month alimony, attorney's fees and the household goods in her home.

Thomas W. Daniels gets "good and drunk," according to the testimony of his wife, about every week. Upon this showing and much more that cannot find its way into print, she was granted a divorce yesterday, carrying an order that the husband pay $10 a month for the support of his minor children.

Pearl Hanson married Joseph Hanson in 1904. Two years ago he disappeared and she has not seen him since. Now she works in a hospital for her living. Her divorce was granted yesterday.

Minda Mitchell was granted a decree of divorce from Henry Mitchell because she has not seen him since 1900.

Seibold testified that her husband Ferdinand had not supported her for a year or more. Upon this showing a divorce was granted. She also gets $15 a month alimony.

SUES TO RECOVER DAMAGES.

The Tribune-Reporter Printing company is made defendant in a suit filed by Charles H. Foster, an infant, by John H. Foster, guardian ad litem, in which $20,000 is asked as damages for personal injuries. The complaint recites that the plaintiff, who was 15 years of age at the time complained of, was employed by the defendants to feed a job printing press and that while doing so he was caught in certain machinery connected therewith and was badly maimed as the result, his hand having been crushed between the plate and the form. Amputation was necessary and injury to the amount asked is claimed.

SUES TO RECOVER ON NOTE.

John Hallin has entered suit in the Third district court against John F. Maxwell and Lucy A. Maxwell to recover $130 and costs on notes exacted by the defendants, but not paid, according to the complaint as filed.

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE.

John B. Stone has filed a complaint in the district court asking a divorce from S. Beth Stone. The wife charges that for more than two years her husband has failed and neglected to provide the common necessities of life for her and their child, a daughter seven years of age. They were married in Salt Lake in 1899.

HAVE GOVERNMENT SECRETS BEEN SOLD?

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The Inter-Ocean today says:

Secret service operatives are working to determine to what extent government secrets in recent cases of natural importance have been sold by Miss Etta McLean and Alexander R. Gordon, who yesterday were held in $5,000 bonds to the grand jury on charges of conspiracy and the theft of papers in the John R. Walsh case.

Discovery of papers relating to the Standard Oil trial in the room of Miss McLean has led to the suspicion that she and her confederate may have disclosed government plans not only in the Walsh case, but in the case against the Standard Oil, the Chicago & Alton railway, and the school book combine.

Miss McLean's school book was stenographed in Dist. Atty. Sims' office, which she held since April, gave her ample opportunity to obtain copies of the most valuable papers in all these cases. The fact that Gordon, her sweetheart, was able to live in Illinois, dining at expensive restaurants, for the past six months, has made it apparent he had some secret resource of income.

While the government officials feel confident they have unearthed a far-reaching conspiracy, they have yet to learn its magnitude or to what extent its operations have injured government prosecutions. In the prosecution of the Standard Oil, the Alton and the book combine was apparent at every turn that the defendants knew in advance the government's moves, no matter how secretly planned. The arrest of the couple, it is believed, has solved this stigma.

MURPHY FURNITURE SALE.

New York, Nov. 2.—The second day's sale of furniture from the office of ex-President Murphy, of the Mutual Life insurance company, brought in $17,000. The total amount received at the two days' sale was about $35,000. The highest price realized at the second day's sale was $2,225 paid for a carved and gilt Louis XV. parlor suite. The directors' table, at which the ex-president presided for many years and which cost the company $12,000, sold for $110.

CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Republican Rally to Mark the End of Ante-Election Oratory and Fuss.

ALL WORKING LIKE BEAVERS.

City Officials Are Absent from Their Offices Up Town Meeting Their Respective Friends.

With the Republican rally tonight the campaign of the year 1907 will come to a close, so far as its thunder making propensities are concerned.

The Democrats held their final rally at headquarters last night when a general jollification over the prospects was indulged in, nearly all the leaders and candidates participating. On the same evening the "Americans" played their last big tune for public support.

Monday night, which still remains for demonstrations, will find all party workers too busily engaged to make a noise and the work they will be about will be that of arranging for carriages, planning the disposition of workers, and checking up the voters in the various districts.

Today the pre-election tension began to be felt about town. On Second South street almost everyone who is known in political annals was out sunning himself and inspecting the betting board, where the contest of Morris men to outbet Plummer men till rags. The $5,000 bet that Bransford will win 10,000 votes found a taker in a syndicate arranged by J. U. Eldredge, Jr., it is understood.

That the "American" party considers it impossible to fall in the plans to elect Bransford is evidenced by the vigor of Chairman Darner in throwing workers in the field, and preparing for election day. How sick the party seems to others to be on account of the great dissatisfaction over the fast and loose methods of men supported in office, is not relieved by the inner circle crowd. The today are more confident than ever on account of the keen warfare they think they have succeeded in stirring up between Democrats and Republicans. This tendency, they figure, to keep the "American" vote divided, so that they will not feel the brunt of it.

NO FINANCIAL REPORT.

One of the amusing features of the present method of conducting city business, is the rarity with which officials are to be found within their offices. An inquiry at the office of Land and Water Commissioner Matthews, developed the fact that he was up town. Another inquiry for Jake Raleigh developed the fact that he was not in his office. Treasurer Frank Swenson could be interviewed only through a deputy.

CITY OVERDRAFTS.

A deputy in one office suggested that the best way to find these officials was to show up on pay day, or hunt for them around town. A statement was made this morning that the bank carrying city overdrafts had about all it wished, and had requested the city to stop sending in more warrants until it makes other arrangements than those at present existing to care for them. Mr. Swenson could not be found to verify or deny it. Auditor Rudolf Ait, who was the only one of the city officers on duty, thought it couldn't be true because he knew that $25,000 in taxes had been banked today. At the Salt Lake National Bank, the statement was denied, Cashier Knox declaring he had merely asked Swenson "to go easy" in issuing warrants until the financial flurry of this week settles. He declared, however, that all that are issued the bank will care for, and that it has no intention of stopping the payment of them. Auditor Ait says that the overdraft is now about $250,000, but will give no figures of the exact amount overdrawn in each fund Nov. 1.

FRIENDS OF WATERWAYS.

Congressman Ramsdell Makes Earnest
Appeal to Them.

Lake Providence, La., Nov. 2.—Congressman Joseph E. Ramsdell, president of the national rivers and harbors committee, which meets in Washington next month, today gave out the following statement:

"Friends of waterways are earnestly urged to co-operate until this great policy is safely inaugurated and the water systems of the United States are placed on a par with those of Holland, Belgium, France and Germany."

"The coming convention will impress upon Congress the necessity of the broad liberal policy of waterway improvement and making provision for the execution thereof on a comprehensive plan; so that all our waters of navigation, lake and interior, which are really worthy may be properly improved within the next 10 years on the continuous contract method. If this is done will result in greatly diminishing the freight congestion and cheapening freight rates."
