

DEPOSITS GROW IN LOCAL BANKS

Receipts from Wool Sales Have Marked Effect in Banking Circles.

BUSINESS KEEPS UP WELL.

All Lines Report Good Volume, With Collections, However, Slightly

The local banking feature of the week is the declaration of a 2 per cent regular and 6 per cent special dividend, amounting to $16,000 by the Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company. Local banks report deposits increasing, and plenty of money in the intermountain banks. The sheep men are not in the market for money as much as they were following heavy receipts of late for their clips. The steady increase in bank clearings still keeps up its pace. People who are borrowers now are mostly those who have irrigation and building enterprises in prospect. The banks generally are in a most satisfactory condition.

THE CLEWS LETTER.

Henry Clews in his last circular letter has the following to say:

If prices are to be held at their old level some further stimulating developments will be required. Much depends upon the crop situation, which is not as encouraging in certain respects as might be desired. Nevertheless, there is no cause as yet for anxiety. The outlook is for a fair, if not a very good, although the nation would unquestionably be benefited by a much larger yield than is now in prospect. There is, however, much compensation in the outlook for corn, which promises a large and profitable crop; possibly the largest on record. Our corn crop last year was valued at considerably more than wheat and cotton combined. The outlook for cotton is for an average crop at good prices; so that if corn and cotton realize expectations there will be no reason for anxiety concerning our agricultural outlook. Our farmers will again be a highly important element in the continuance of national prosperity, and they are in the fortunate position of having a sure market for all that they can possibly produce at very high prices. Such conditions should stimulate their exertions to the utmost in order to secure the largest yield possible, a result which would be not only beneficial to them, but also to the nation at large, who are feeling the present high cost of all food products.

HARDWARE.

The hardware trade reports collections not quite as good as they have been, though general business continues gratifying. There is a mixed assortment of goods being sent out, with considerable fishing tackle and building hardware, and orders for all goods continue to be received. The mining machinery feature of the trade is looking up with promise of its being better than ever. Then metal is disappearing, and the prospectors are getting out into the hills.

LUMBER.

The lumber trade reports practically no change in the wholesale department, but in the retail trade the lumber yards are doing much business, working to their full capacity. The same active conditions obtaining here do not obtain east, whence orders for the Puget Sound mills are so few as to affect shipments from that source materially. It seems that the railroads are ordering much less lumber than formerly, cement construction is obtaining more and more of a foothold, and metal window frames, casings and doors are more in vogue than ever. Then metal is being substituted for wood in railway ties—heretofore a source of an enormous consumption, and in countless other stone and metal are being used where formerly only wood was thought of. It is believed the price of lumber will fall off a little in the wholesale markets.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.

The wholesale dry goods trade reports the usual steady business in seasonable stuffs, such as lawn, percales, new goods, light weight specialties, summer dresses, cotton fabrics, linens, satens, etc. The trade reports special activity in cotton goods, with the dry goods market generally

In an exceptionally sound condition, although the usual period of summer quiet is now approaching. It is considered significant that the Fall River cotton manufacturers did not enforce the reduction in wages this week, which they could have done in accordance with the labor contract. This showed satisfaction with present conditions and confidence in the future. The woolen mills are well sold up, and the big concerns hold large orders. All things considered, the mercantile situation is as satisfactory as could be expected, and shows a further improvement next autumn, provided there is no disappointment regarding the harvest. Jobbers report that bleached goods values appear to be strengthened by higher cotton prices and a better demand, with trade in finished lines still quiet. There is a fair bank for tickings from mattress manufacturers, and wholesalers are ready to take in lines from certain manufacturers as fast as made. The denim market is noticeably better, both as to demand and as to prices. Print cloths are selling freely, with more of a call for narrow goods and summer lines. There is active. On robes and draperies there are good repeat orders for fall, especially in the line of twilled draperies. The woolen trade has been held back on account of the late spring, but with mercerized effects

Meeks and McCartney, the real estate firm, are arranging for an automobile service between their office and the city. The firm is located at 121 N. Main street.

B. J. Hincley purchased a vacant lot through Earley and Ball yesterday for $1,400. The property is located on Eighth South street, between Second and Third East streets, and is 50 by 330 feet.

There is not the remotest possibility, at present, of Z. C. M. L. building a large retail store, or a branch store further south on Main street, or in any part of the city. Bishop George Romney is not in the market for a retail store. It is hoped the institution will be able to get along for some time, but when more space is needed, all extensions will be made on or near the present site.

The old James Sharp house is being demolished to make room for the new mansion of Col. E. A. Wall. The excavation for the $100,000 addition to the house is now being made. The new house is being built on the site of the old house, and is being pushed by the contractors Raleigh and Harmon. The same firm is also making a good start on the excavation for the new hotel of the Utah Hotel company.

The plans for the Newhouse hotel were formally accepted at a meeting of the directors held during the week, with the exception of a few minor details. Mr. Newhouse gives the assurance that the building will be rapidly pushed to completion if possible within a year from the time construction is started.

A. J. Radebaugh and son, contractors, are busily engaged this week constructing a board fence on Main street, between Second and Third East streets, and is 50 by 330 feet.

leading in fancy clothes. Lined finished goods lead in sales, and corded effects, lined finished goods, proved remarkably good sellers. In fancy cottons solid color fabrics are active, and the demand for solid color corded fabrics is remarkably active. Knit goods openings have been delayed, many lines being held over by agreement. Hosiery colors are a problem. A season's variety of colors is rare, and distributors find it impossible to provide for all needs. The fall for high priced colors is not expected to last through the summer months. Cashmere are in the lead, in their line of fabrics, with a belief in the trade that the demand for satins will decrease. High prices in linens are a menace, promising to restrict the demand. In blouses, recent large importations cause uneasiness among sellers.

RETAIL DRYGOODS.

In the retail trade, dealers report business as usual, with a noticeable increase with the advent of warm weather. There is a strong call reported for neckwear, light weight clothing, especially in summer lines. There is a good trade in millinery goods, as well as in silk and cotton gloves and parasols. The department stores report a remarkable trade in golf shoes, with last Saturday the heaviest in local history.

The work of remodeling the lower part of the Hooper-Eldridge building, formerly occupied by the Barton Clothing store, is being completed. The work is to divide the Daines-Ree Music store from the offices of Adams Jenkins company is in, and preparations are being made to erect a modern plate glass show windows, which when finished will be a very decided improvement in that part of Main street.

Much activity is reported by dealers in property on the southeast bench. During the past week the addition owners have sold many lots and report negotiations started on many others. A. H. Humphries, owner of Idlewild addition, has sold a lot of 12 acres, which he has sold about thirty lots in the addition. Among these sales was five lots to Alexander Strigel of Eagle street New York. Mr. Strigel bought the lots without ever having seen them, sending the money by mail. The work of building several houses has begun on the addition and many more are anticipated. A fact of special interest to those who have bought lots in the addition heretofore is the fact that city water is soon to be extended to every lot. With this done Mr. Humphries expects to have no trouble in selling the remaining one-third of the addition.

Among the important sales of the week is the transfer of the old Bolivar Roberts property on First South street, between Second and Third East streets, to J. M. Willey for $10,575. The property has a frontage of 70½ feet on First South street and is 120 feet deep. The purchaser is contemplating the erection of an apartment house there.

The largest real estate transaction of the week was the sale of the Hooper building, on East First South street. The price paid for the property, which includes a five-story building, was $32,500. Joseph Whitcomb was the purchaser. He bought it for investment purposes.

The building permits for the first four days of June amount to $2,600, which is nearly one-third more than the total for the whole month of June last year, when the aggregate footed up to $194,000. The number of permits issued is due to the application for permit for the construction of the Holmes-Knox building at the corner of State and Second South streets, the cost of which is $185,000. This building is to be four stories high, the three upper floors being used for hotel purposes.

TAFT POSTPONES WESTERN TRIP

Illness of Mrs. Taft Compels the President to Abandon Summer Tour.

HE MAY COME IN EARLY FALL

If Possible Will Visit Seattle Exposition but Will Not Attempt Alaskan Journey.

Washington, June 5.—President Taft has been forced through the illness of Mrs. Taft to postpone his proposed western summer trip until fall. Although he made no definite announcement heretofore, it has been the president's intention to depart in August on a 10 weeks' tour of the west and Alaska.

It is said that the possibility of Mrs. Taft being able to accompany the president with safety is slight, although she is making satisfactory progress toward recovery from her recent illness. Faced with the necessity of leaving her behind and the possibility that a relapse might occur, Mr. Taft made up his mind to abandon the summer excursion altogether and endeavor to make a visit to the west in the early fall. If it is possible for him to go west in September he may be able to visit the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition in its closing days, but the Alaska trip hardly will be attempted.

AMERICAN COLLEGES.

Threaten Them.

New York, June 4.—President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton university, in an interview last night, summarized the following as the evils which threaten the existence of America's great colleges:

"The indifference of parents whether their sons really acquire an education or mere surface polish and other outward evidences by which a 'college bred' man is to be determined from the less fortunate fellows; the complete disavowal of the life of the student when beyond the classroom doors, with the work done within them, and the absence of serious purpose on the part of the majority of students."

SWEETHEART SENT TO SIBERIA LOVER COMMITS SUICIDE

New York, June 5.—Louis Milgrow, a young Russian, committed suicide yesterday, after receiving a note from St. Petersburg that his sweetheart, Alka Rainovitch, had been sentenced to Siberia for life. Milgrow and the girl had been involved in the revolutionary movement and he had fled to this country. A few weeks ago he mailed her money to come here and join him. When this money was received, he learned yesterday that she had been sentenced to Siberia for life. Milgrow left a note reading:

"My soul is dead; why should my body live?"

ADE GLAD TO GET HOME.

Chicago, June 5.—George Ade, the humorist, and Orson C. Wells have returned to their native heath after a long absence in other portions of the globe for more than seven months.

"I'm mighty glad to get home," said Mr. Ade, "although we had some grand times abroad. We hobnobbed with kings and emperors and after several weeks we felt so swelled up that we spurned and snubbed smaller potentates. But give me good old United States of America for the real home-sick feeling. There's nothing like it."

Mr. Ade denied that he was engaged to marry an actress.

HEALING WOUNDS.

Sunlight and Dry Air Have Wonderful Effect.

New York, June 5.—Dr. Adolph Richter reports in a medical journal that sunlight and dry air have been proved to have a powerful healing effect upon various kinds of wounds. But as dry air and sunlight are not to be had everywhere, Dr. Richter has provided a good substitute by employing a blue arc light. This consists of an arc light with a reflector and blue glass panes. The wounds are subjected to the light for a half hour daily. Such exposures lead to very rapid drying of the wounds and are followed by the formation of scars, it is reported. The dimming of pain following exposure to the rays is said to be especially remarkable. Dr. Richter reports favorable results in treating plain granulating wounds, suppurating wounds, and especially chronic leg ulcers.
