

STORMS WROUGHT MUCH DEVASTATION

Six People Killed by Them in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

PROPERTY LOSS VERY GREAT.

Damage Done Mostly in Farming Country, no Large Town Being Struck.

St. Paul, June 7.—Six dead, many injured and thousands of dollars worth of property blown away summarize the effects of the storms which devastated sections of Minnesota and Wisconsin. There were two separate storms, one in western Minnesota and Wisconsin and one in northern Minnesota, which swept over into Wisconsin.

DEAD.
Major J. Halverson, Stoddard, Wis.
Mrs. Peter P. Meyers and two children, California, Minn.
Elizabeth, Mrs. North Branch, Minn.

Andrew H. Olson, North Branch, Minn.

Fortunately the storms did not strike any large towns, but the devastation wrought in the rich farming country through which they passed is said to be complete. Substantial brick and frame dwellings and barns were blown into fragments and scattered for hundreds of miles.

Sargents, Minn., a little town of 800 inhabitants, fears for the safety of which were expressed on account of lack of communication, occupied until the storm devastated the country. It is about three miles from the village, wrecking many houses and injuring a number of people. The large new frame house of William Stevens was blown to shreds and his wife and two children were killed. His wife and nine children took refuge in the root cellar and escaped.

After passing Sargents, the storm struck northwesterly into Wisconsin, passing through a heavily timbered section. A road 100 feet wide was cut through the timber as far as the St. Croix river. There was considerable damage to saw mill property near Newry, Wis., but no lives were lost.

About Ham Lake, Anoka county, Minn., the tornado destroyed much farm property, but no loss of life is reported.

UNDERWRITERS WARNED.

Must Extend Time of Proof of Loss in S. F. Fire.

San Francisco, June 7.—At a conference today between insurance commissioners E. Myron Wolf and Attorney F. C. Connelley, the underwriters were warned that they would immediately call for a list of policyholders from every company which failed to sign an agreement to extend time for proof of loss to 30 days.

The notification is equivalent to a declaration of war on companies which do not sign. The statute provides a 30-day period for the company to respond to the demand of the commissioner. In effect, the order of Commissioner Wolf will compel every company to grant the extension or go out of business in this city.

The sweeping order applies to more than half of the companies doing business in the city, and is designed by Commissioner Wolf to complete the work begun when a letter was served on all the companies expressing that all who agreed to extend time would prevent policies from being issued through the inability of the insured to get their proofs made out in time.

The policyholders of the Trans-Pacific insurance company will form a corporation to take the time interest in the company. The company which will be brought to court to compel to pay all obligations in full. This was determined at a meeting of the policyholders held in this city today.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become singular, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(First Letter.) I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, headache, chills, headache and back-ache. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes Sick Women Well.

ROJESTVENSKY'S TRIAL.

If Found Guilty the Penalty is Death.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The naval court of inquiry has presented an indictment against Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the Russian fleet at the battle of the Sea of Japan, and the officers of the torpedo boat destroyer Bedou, engaged and sunk by a Japanese torpedo boat. The trial of the indicted officers has been fixed for July 4. The penalty is death.

GET BIG SENTENCES.

Dalton and Condrain for Using Mails to Defraud.

Chicago, June 7.—John H. Dalton, formerly a local politician, and Lewis A. Condrain of Louisiana, were today sentenced in the United States district court to four and one-half years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1,500 each for using the mails to defraud.

The charge against the men is that they sent options on oil lots which did not exist.

Condrain asked the court to give him the limit of imprisonment under the law, and Judge Laidlaw accommodated him. Condrain previously declared that he convicted him would ask the court for the extreme sentence, and he did, and then exterminated his family.

MURDERER TUCKER MUST DIE.
Boston, June 7.—Charles Louis Tucker of Auburnville, convicted of the murder of Isabel Page at Weston in 1891, will be electrocuted in the state prison at Charlestown during the week beginning June 30.

Gov. Curtis Field announced at a late hour tonight that he had decided not to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

RETURN OF BRYAN.
Lincoln, Neb., June 7.—Discussing the proposed reception at New York to William J. Bryan in August on his return from Europe, Charles W. Bryan, a brother, said he believed the New York committee had a misunderstanding as to the date of Mr. Bryan's return, which was, he said, early in September, instead of August.

CAPT. WYNNE'S CASE.
His Counsel Says Evidence Warrants His Retirement.

New York, June 7.—E. S. Theall of Washington, counsel for Capt. Robert J. Wynne of the United States marine corps, in a statement today made to the Associated Press in which he said that the testimony warrants Capt. Wynne's retirement from active service for disability incurred by sunstroke.

The defense relied upon by Capt. Wynne, says Mr. Theall, is that of intense aggravation brought about by the manner in which he received the order to appear on deck. The average officer would have been greatly aggravated, humiliated and irritated over the idea of a junior officer of his command, accompanied by two military men of his own command, appearing at the door of his stateroom with orders to drag him on deck.

The court-martial of Capt. Wynne, which was suspended yesterday at the request of the judge advocate, was resumed today by Judge J. C. Becker, senior of the Alabama, testified that Capt. Wynne is not insane; not unbalanced to the extent of being incapable, but that he is some of right and wrong is not normal.

Dr. E. M. Purling was put on the stand by the judge advocate. He said he treated Capt. Wynne at Quantico in 1902 for the most severe headache he ever knew of. When he spoke something to Wynne, the witness said Wynne cured him for not affording him instant relief. At that time Capt. Wynne was normal except for extreme irritability.

The notice was served on the day of the election, and the sheriff's intention to file suit was announced in each of the precincts of the city.

RATE BILL TO CONFERENCE.
Washington, June 7.—After a day devoted almost exclusively to the conference report on the railroad rate bill, the senate decided at 4 o'clock this afternoon to send the measure back to conference. The debate covered five passes, the salaries of the interstate commissioners and the provisions of the bill. The three points, however, of opinion on all these points, but the dominant thought was favorable to sustaining the senate provisions thereon.

COMPARISON OF ADMINISTRATIONS

Rep. Brundage Contrasts Those Of Cleveland, McKinley And Roosevelt.

ENOUGH MUCK RAKE STUFF.

Gen. Grosvenor Characterized Attack On President as Relic of Antiquity.

Washington, June 7.—The house today listened to a bitter arraignment of the president at the hands of Mr. Brundage of Arkansas, a member of the appropriations committee, who contrasted the expenses of the last Cleveland, the McKinley and the Roosevelt administrations.

Under the Cleveland administration there was expended for the executive department, including the salary of the president, $147,299. Under the McKinley administration $144,560 was used, while the bill under consideration carries for the executive department, including that of the president, the White House, etc., $252,340. In addition to this Mr. Brundage stated that there were 49 policemen detailed to the White House and grounds and this takes an additional $40,000. The total of waste he figured at $300,000. He said that he did not know whether 49 policemen are too few or too many, but he thought regular soldiers ought to be detailed to protect the person of the president, and that these policemen ought to be sent to the sections of Washington where thugs and marauders are preying upon women and children.

He criticized the item appropriating $25,000 for the traveling expenses of the president, and said it was probably made for the purpose of providing for a repetition of the "muck rake speech."

"As for myself," he said, "and I believe also for a large portion of the people, we have heard nothing of this muck rake nonsense and tomfoolery, and we are disgusted with it."

"No wonder in view of the present appropriations and the present expenditures—no wonder the president should hold up to public ridicule magazines and newspapers of this country and public men and private citizens who dare to criticize him."

"I entertain the hope and belief that the time will never come in the history of politics when any man occupying a position of public trust will ever rise so high and become so great that the humblest newspaperman justly and properly cannot criticize his official conduct and actions."

He spoke of the president's stable and enlarged the number of horses therein. And then finally he spoke of the arrest of Mrs. Minor Morris and the appointment of assistant secretary to the president, Barnes, as postmaster of Washington as showing the high-handed way the president conducts his office.

Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio replied to Mr. Brundage. He said: "We are now talking of the beef packing industry because there is an odor from it that is offensive to the nostrils of the people. The police young gentlemen who have been detailed for the inspection of those institutions, and at the same time we hear an assault upon the president's household."

Gen. Grosvenor characterized the attack on the president as a relic of antiquity. He said it can have no effect upon the American people. He said if he would attempt by an illustrated lecture to impress upon the people of the old world, the absolute domination of plain, every day democratic living and plain democratic administration of a great government he would take them to the White House, the home of the president, and show them the everyday life of the present occupant.

"I would show them his incoming and outgoing, and I speak of him now simply as the type of the American president—show him in his daily walks among his fellow citizens, a man, a simple American citizen with a single signification of greatness by reason of his high office, without any insignia or any extravagance in living—the plain American administrator of the plain American government."

He said he would not to the president's children attending the public schools, to the president's traveling and commingling with his fellow citizens throughout the country. "Whatever criticism can be made of our government, it has not developed aristocracy and plutocracy."

Speaking of the appropriation of $25,000 for the president's traveling expenses, he characterized the criticisms made on it as "unjustifiable and unfortunate." He said he had yet to meet a man opposed to the appropriation.

BRITISH MEAT PRODUCTS HAVE BEEN ASSAILED.

London, June 7.—The house of commons reassembled today after the Whitsuntide recess, and set to work on the army appropriations. In the course of the debate Hugh Cecil Lea, liberal, a newspaper proprietor, who has served in the British and American armies, pressed the government for an assurance that no more American tinned meat would be purchased for the British army. He asserted from personal observation that the conditions under which it is packed are revolting.

War Secy. Haldane replied that he would be sorry to insist that all tinned meats must be bought in the United Kingdom. He intended to purchase wherever he could procure the best and purest and that already selected an officer who was an expert in these matters and had sent him to the United States to inspect all the carefully before any were purchased. That course would be pursued in the case of all tinned meats.

Mr. Lea asked if this officer would have access to the factory and be able to see how the work was done, to which the secretary replied: "That is why I am sending him to America. He will see the meat in process of manufacture before it is sent here."

Henry W. Foster, conservative, asked whether the war office had power to cancel a contract if it was not satisfied with the conditions under which the meat was tinned.

Mr. Haldane said the war office fortunately had very wide powers under the contract and intended using them to the fullest extent.

The secretary added that the war office had bought large quantities of tinned meat in America and had already contracted for further supplies. At the present moment, the secretary reminded the house, the United States was not the only place where meat had been turned out. The question of the purity of British products had been raised at times in the past. The whole question required investigation. He knew personally under what disgusting conditions meat in some cases was packed in the United States.

DIST. ATTY. JEROME'S REMOVAL DEMANDED.
Albany, N. Y., June 7.—Removal of William T. Jerome from the office of district attorney of New York county is demanded by Gov. Higgins in a complaint which has been filed at the executive chamber by William M. Amey of New York City. Frank J. Amey, secretary to the governor, admitted tonight that such a complaint had been filed, but he would say nothing as to the nature of the charges against Jerome.

While nothing definite can be learned here as to the nature of the charges, it is assumed that the complaint is the one which was threatened by Mr. Amey before a legislative committee last winter and is based upon the charges he then made against Mr. Jerome in connection with certain Metropolitan traction interests.

Gov. Higgins is at Ogden and expects to make a western business trip before his return to Albany. He may not be here before June 15, and probably will not see the Amey charges before that time.

STOCKYARD IMPROVEMENT.
Chicago, June 7.—The improvements at the Union stockyards to be ordered by the city authorities as the result of the recent examination of buildings owned by the packers nearly $1,000,000, according to estimates made by Building Commissioner Hartzen, it will require an expenditure of about $300,000, maybe $200,000 more, to make the changes needed to conform with the requirements of the city building ordinance. The sanitary improvements to be insisted upon will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. The building and sanitary inspectors are still at work, going over the packing plants.

EIGHT VICTIMS OF COAL MINE FIRE

All Dead of White Damp That Filled Corridors of Rocky Ford Mines.

TWO OF THEM RESCUERS.

Bodies Recovered—Outbreak of the Flames in Incline No. 2 Inexplicable.

Anaconda, Mont., June 7.—One of the most serious accidents in the history of coal mining in Montana has occurred in the mines of the Northern Pacific at Rocky Ford, near Red Lodge, Carbon county.

Eight men are dead, all victims of the fatal white damp that filled the corridors of the mine after the fire which started Wednesday. Their bodies have been recovered.

Two of the victims were members of one of the parties that entered the mine in the effort to reach the men known to be there.

The fire which caused the trouble started in incline No. 6 Wednesday. This was believed to be under control after a long, hard fight. At 7:30 this morning the first rescue party started down No. 6 incline, proceeding cautiously, as it was feared that there were still traces of the fire. When they reached a depth of 1200 feet all were overcome. Seven men engaged in struggle back to where they could be reached.

By this time a dense volume of smoke burst from No. 5 incline and the air in No. 6 was so foul that volunteer rescuers were driven back. At 10 o'clock another rescue party was formed, business and townspeople volunteered when the Finnish miners held back, terrified.

The outbreak of the fire in incline No. 6 is inexplicable as it was believed the flames had been completely extinguished during the night.
