Manner."

Eleven years ago American riders who salled across the Atlantic to ride on English tracks began to show their superiority over their English cousins. The English people had seen many Americans in previous years, but they rode in the fashand the late Michael F. Dwyer, won sev-eral races on Newmarket Heath. Then the American style of riding was called the "monkey on a stick" manner. Simms did not remain long in England, as the campaign of the stable was disastrons, and after six weeks he returned to this country. He was followed by Lester Reiff, who rode successfully for Dake & Wish-ard, and the campaign of this pair of shrewd owners with American horses rather impressed the English that there was some merit in the American style of riding.

Will a he pulled up there was silence for a moment, which was followed by plentiful remarks from the speciators. A correspondent who stood by remarked to a representative of Mr. Keane, "Do you call that riding?" "Yes." was the reply." and that riding? as demonstrated this morning, will revol-utionize racing in England."

their efforts were not rewarded with bril-liant successes when they rode against wealthy English turfmen.

"One thing that impressed me more than any other." he said on his return. "Is that the factories which turn out the raw material for automobile manufactur-ers are now setting aside separate de-partments of their plants for automobile work alone. A few years ago, I an in-formed, this was not the case. It cannot but result in great good." M. Chedru has been engaged in automo-bile designing for 14 years, and in the work of designing gas engines for 15 years. Although the bulk of his work has been on pleasure cars he bears the proud distinction of having designed the racing ears that won both the French elimina-tion trials and the Gordon-Bennett cup races of 1994 and 1966. His taking up his permanent residence in this country makes a notable accession to the ranks of the automobile designers and engi-neers of America. of the automobile neers of America.

Mike Schreck and Billy Hogan on

Two years later Tod Sloan made his appearance on the English turf having been especially engaged to ride James B. Krane's St. Cloud in the Cesarwitch and Cambridgeshire handlcaps. His first ap-pearance in an exercising gallop on the back of the big horse was hailed with de-risive shouts and catcalls from a large number of onlookers gathered to see the American rider, who had been heraided as the foremost exponent of the American style. Their Way to Tonopab. Filly Hogan, manager, and Mike Schreck, fighter, passed through Ogden yesterday on their way to Tonopah where Schreck is matched to fight John Wille. Schreck has grown about an inch taller since he fought Wille at the Salt Palace and weighs nearly 200. He will enter the ring at about 185 pounds, says Hogan. If he wins from Wille an effort will be made to get on a match with either Tommy Burns or Jack O'Brien. the foremost exponent of the American style. He was dressed in a cutaway coat and trowsers and was smoking a cigar when he mounted St. Cloud. As the animal re-quired some riding, the English exercising boys invariably took a firm hold of him and experienced much difficulty in con-fining the horse to moderate speed. Ev-eryone present expected a runaway, but Sloan managed the horse without the slightest effort, and when he turned for the start, nine furious away, and as-sumed his cronching seat, there was a general shout of "He has thrown the Yankee."

San Francisco, April 3.-Outsiders were again to the front at Oakland today. Wool Sandals, a 30 to 1 shot, took the Pandemonlum handlcap, while Talamund, also a 30 to 1, beat the field in the fifth race. St. Francis, the favorite for the third, lost all chance by getting away poorly. Thirty-two books drew in. Re-sults:

MR WM. E. BASSETT Frovo, Utab. My Beloved Friend: It is a pleasure for me to congratulated you on the great success attending your school. I have not the words to fully express the great joy and happiness I have received through your cure of my defective speech. I stammered from the sgo of four years to nearly twenty-seven years, and I always stammered very badly and could not speak without great effort and at times it was impossible for me to utter a sound. I believe that I was one of the worst stammerers you ever saw. I was under your treatment four weeks and I never stammered on cae word after my first lesson. Your treatment is such that an intelligent child of eight years can comply with all your instructions. Oh, I wish the afficied stammerers would neadly be leve the fuction. I will glady answer any stammerer who may write to me concern-ing your school and your sneezs, for I am indeed an affectionate frierd to the stammerer. I am yours very respectfully. Cormack, "Tommy" Burns and Carl Mit-chell. Next year the ranks of American jock-eye abroad will be strengthened by the addition of Arthur Redfern, "Willie" Shaw and "Willie" Gannon. The former, who was one of the star riders in his day, has done no work in the saddle this year, although it was reported that he was to ride for one of the prominent stables. During his idleness Redfern grew very heavy, and although he is at present under contract to C. E. Durnell at Oakland, he rides but few races, for he finds it hard to keep down his weight. Several days ago he announced that he was going abroad to ride in Germany. Show, who first showed skill at the New Orleans track, was brought east by the late George E. Smith, otherwise known as "Pittsburg Phil," and rode for him a long time. He was suspended once, but was reinstated and rode in the colors of all the prominent eastern stables, winning unay valuable events.

GOING TO RUSSIA.

GOING TO RUSSIA. The latest jockey to sign a contract to ride abroad is "Willie" Gannon, who is to go to Russia, where he will be em-ployed by the imperial stable at a salary of $000 Gannon at one time rode in the colors of L. V. Bell. He began to grow too heavy for American racing and gave up riding, turning his attention to the boying and racing of thoroughbreds. "Nat" Ray, one of the best steeplechase riders in this country, who for several seasons had ridden for Thomas Hitch-cock, Jr., will ride across country in Eng-land next year. After the close of the steeplechase season here Ray went to England and visited one of the race turnes.

England and visited one of the race courses. While at the track he was asked to ac-cept a mount, but his friends persuaded him not to do so, as the horse had fallen in every start. Ray did not heed this advice and took the mount. During the race the horse did not fall or stumble and won with ease. Ray riding a grand race. The other steeplechase riders not-ed closely Ray's seat and it is said that next year they will follow the American etyle of riding.

Those of Europe. That America's plants for the prepara-tion of raw material to be used in the manufacture of automobiles are far ahead of the position given them by the popular idea in Europe is youched for by no less an authority than Monsleur Gustave Che-dru, head of the foreign designing corps of the 15. R. Thomas Motor company. M. Chedru has just returned from a round of visits to these plants made on the invita-tion of their proprietors. While at some of them tests were made that convinced him that America has struck the pace.
