JAPANESE INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

Were Returning From the Burial Of a Countryman When Accident Occurred.

DEATH OF YOUNG MOTHER.

Libel Cases Against William Glasman and Standard Publishing Co. Begin.

Ogden, Utah, Dec. 18.—Three Japanese, while returning home from the funeral of a fellow countryman yesterday afternoon, had a narrow escape from death in a runaway, as the result of which two of them are confined to the Japanese hospital in this city and one is at home, receiving attention for many bruises.

A Japanese, who died while in a fit Saturday, was buried yesterday afternoon and a large number of his countrymen attended the funeral, accompanying the remains to the city cemetery in closed carriages. On the return from the cemetery one of the teams became unmanageable and dashed down Twenty-third street hill at a great speed. When near the corner of Twenty-third street and Washington street, the driver, realizing that it was impossible to stop the horses, which were running directly into a telegraph pole, jumped and escaped with several bruises. The horses parted at the pole one going on either side, and the large carriage dashed against the pole with great force, crushing the whole front in. The three Japanese were inside and received severe cuts from the broken plate glass windows of the carriage and were also badly shaken up. Help was soon at hand and the men were taken to the hospital. Shiba received a cut four inches long over his left eye and other smaller cuts. Roy Endou was badly cut on the back of the neck and bruised. The other Japanese received slight injuries. One of the horses, which belonged to Corey's livery stable, was terribly cut on the leg and almost died of death.

Ogden, Dec. 18.—Judge Booth of Provo arrived in Ogden yesterday afternoon to commence hearing the libel suits now pending in the district court against the Standard Publishing company and William Glasman et al. for various sums aggregating about $50,000. When court convened, Atty. Farnsworth and Horn, representing the defendants, asked for a continuance of the case, presenting to the court affidavits of two physicians setting forth that Mr. Glasman is too ill to be in attendance on the hearing of the case at this time. Atty. Richards, Pratt and Halverson for the prosecution resented the request for a continuance and a lively word contest ensued between the attorneys. The judge indicated that one of the cases must be taken up this morning and left it to the defendants to decide which one was to be tried first. They requested that the $10,000 libel suit of T. G. Richards be taken up. Judge Booth gave all concerned in the case to understand that he would not permit any unnecessary delays, and if necessary will hold an evening session of court so as to get through.

PENROSE.

A Thriving New Town in Big Horn Basin.

Special Correspondence.

Penrose, Big Horn Co., Wyo., Dec. 14.— This place is located about seven miles above Byron on the north side of the river, and is on the south side of the river, and is four miles from Gardland, the nearest watered ranch and gets its irrigation water from the Elk canal that carries water here and to the benches above Scoville.

There are not many on the townsite yet, but it has a great future as it is on the main wagon road from Gardland and Cody to the region around Burlington and Germania, and places beyond. There is a good bridge across the river at this point.
A considerable acreage has been under cultivation the past season and fairly good crops have been produced, but a much greater acreage will be put under the water next year as they are at work on the canal and expect to get it completed by spring. They are enlarging it to a 15-foot width from the head, and bring in a vast amount of new land, and makes many new homes.

There is a good opening here for a general mercantile store. This is a good point for such a business as it is surrounded by agricultural land and great undeveloped wealth in coal, gas and oil, which in no far distant day will be bringing wealth to the people and make this a town of no mean proportions, and the river will be a source of a fair quality of drinking water.

What is wanted here is a persistent effort to start the people to develop their homes and to the development of the resources that will most assuredly bring them wealth.

The climate is good and fine tomatoes and melons have been produced this year, and corn, grain and vegetables all have done well. At present there is no water organization only a branch of the church but we hope for more sane and more complete organization in the near future.

on the 9th inst. at the second ward meetinghouse.

The Third ward folks held their reunion on the 12th and made the same a very successful affair. At 2 p. m. all sat down and partook of a fine menu that was prepared by the ladies of the ward, after which a humorous program was rendered and a fine easy chair presented to Bishop S. J. Nielsen by members of the ward.
The day's doings concluded with a dance in the new meetinghouse.

Miss Walborg Peterson, with the assistance of the Sunday schools of the three wards gave a recital on the 15th in the state house. The program consisted of eight songs by Miss Peterson, her accompanist being Miss Mamie Brown, who also sang two solos, while the choir, with the renditions of the former, were of a classical nature and appreciated highly by a large audience. The balance of the program consisted of selections from the

GOSHEN.

Demise of Bishop Okelberry, From Pneumonia.

Special Correspondence.

Goshen, Utah, Dec. 15.—A sadness is prevailing over town at the present time by the demise of our beloved bishop, Peter Okelberry, who departed this life Saturday, Dec. 14, after a brief illness of 62 years, after an illness of only a week of pneumonia, and heart failure. He leaves a wife and two children, and a large family of grandchildren. He was over the loss of their beloved husband and father. He was bishop of Goshen ward for 10 years, and he was greatly beloved by the people, both Mormon and non-Mormon. He had a very kind, gentle disposition, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to the sick and afflicted, and those in distress. He was much sought after and dearly beloved by all, and all felt that the community has sustained a very great loss in his demise.

CENTERVILLE.

Reorganization of Sunday School—Rich-Strong Wedding.

Special Correspondence.

Centerville, Dec. 15.—Sunday Dec. 10, some of the stake officials visited the school and reorganized it. Henry C.
Brown was made superintendent, with Joel R. Furbush as first and Geo. J.
Adams as assistant superintendent. On Friday, Dec. 14, the Sunday school egant reception was given in Centerville.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. E. Rich.
A special train on the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad, was run, bringing about 30 guests from the city, and they were laid out by the bride's father, Mr. Rich.
Loren Parr, Daltry refreshments were served, and the good wishes of relatives

PARK CITY.

High School Students at Dewey Theater—Payday at Mines.

Special Correspondence.

Park City, Dec. 11.—The Dewey theater was crowded last night for several and friends, who came out to see the high school pupils play a farce entitled, "A Bachelor's Convention."

This week has been payday at all the mines and for being a mining camp the town is very lively.

Considerable snow has been falling lately which is helping the ore teams in getting up to the mines.

HUNTSVILLE.

Violators of Fish Law and Sunday Ordinance Arrested.

Special Correspondence.

Huntsville, Dec. 17.—Alma Peterson, Jacob Wangsgard, and Her Wangs-gard were arrested last night for violating the fish law. They had 24 pounds of fish trout and a large fishing net in their possession when Marshal Garner captured them. The trial will take place next Thursday before Judge Adam L. Peterson.

Marshal Garner also found James C. Wangsgard for alleged violation of the Sunday liquor law, and promptly arrested him. Some people express great surprise that

COWLEY, WYOMING.

Many Developments Going on—A Prosperous Season.

Special Correspondence.

Cowley, Big Horn Co., Wyo., Dec.
13.—Beautiful weather has been enjoyed here until last night, when the north wind brought cold and snow.
The residents felt gratified when they heard of cold storms all around and they themselves enjoyed pleasant weather.

Cowley is growing and the many comfortable homes erected for several years attest the confidence of the people in the town's future. J. W. Crosby's new home, built of pretty native stone is an up-to-date structure. A millinery store, meat market, and blacksmith are in course of erection on the main street. An addition to the hardware store is just completed, the painting is being done and goods arranged.
Fairly good crops were raised, yet quite a number neglected their farms, or work on railroads, and the other enterprise offered such an inducement in the way of big wages. Still the evidence of thrift is seen on every side, in the many improvements made.

The mill that was being erected has not been completed, much to the annoyance of the people who have to haul their grain to Cody to get it ground, taking about five days to make the round trip.

A beautiful long growing season was enjoyed here last season; no frost to kill vines until the middle of October.

There is great undeveloped wealth in this country, only awaiting organized effort to develop it, as the region is surrounded with coal deposits, gas is found oozing up through the ground only awaiting the driving of pipe to produce it, while the greater depth of oil can be obtained. When the agricultural conditions are more perfected, these other interests should be developed, and the town will bring

SENTS nothing could be more useful or acceptable than a package of Folger's GOLDEN GATE COF-FEE or a package of Fol-ger's GOLDEN GATE
TEA.

Your Grocer will supply you.

Mr. Wangsgard should be found violating the law when but a short time ago he was a candidate for city councilman. His trial will take place tomorrow.

EPHRAIM.

Lecture by Supt. A. C. Nelson—Preparing for Santa Claus.

Special Correspondence.

Ephraim, Dec. 14.—Our community was favored with a visit from the state superintendent, A. C. Nelson; he met with the students of the Snow academy and delivered an interesting lecture, and spent some time in visiting the public schools.

Last evening Mrs. Calvin Chilton, the monodramatist, entertained a fairly large audience in the academy assembly hall.

A basketball game will take place here this afternoon at 3 p. m. between the Snow academy and Moroni teams.
Santa Claus is making his yearly choice of presents for the large stockings soon to be suspended over the old fireplace.

BAKER-CITY, ORE.

Still Slicing Beets—Health Restored
By Visit to Temple.

Special Correspondence.

Baker, Idaho, Dec. 17.—The weather here has been very clear lately, the snow, thaw, rain and then more snow, of which we have now some five inches.
The best slush is now running and labor is in demand; with a little more of the beautiful, canyon work will begin in earnest, but in the way of lumber, and firewood. The latter, as well as labor, has been impossible to obtain in satisfactory quantities, five hundred pounds being the limit. Mrs. J. E. Earl, who was suffering severely from stomach troubles, visited the Salt Lake Temple and has returned home in a remarkably fine state of health.
So good an account of the condition of the temple, and the people of the state, Mr. S. M. Davis who has been and still is, at the Salt Lake hospital, cannot be given at present.

The general health of the people is good.
A number of our residents have the california fever, and though prosperously situated here, are selling out preparatory to leaving.

As Mr. Fred H. Mason departs for his Australian field of labor on the 19th inst., a farewell dance was given him on the evening of Friday, the 14th. It was well attended, and the proceeds netted nearly $30.

Christmas is approaching very quietly, nothing of a public character being contemplated.

ROCK SPRINGS, WYO.

Attempt to Secure Large Sheep Range Failed.

Special Correspondence.

Rock Springs, Wyo., Dec. 16.—Charles Williams of Rawlins and John Brennan of this place have started for a twenty-two round contest to take place here Christmas eve. The men are to weigh 160 pounds ringside. They have met previously, and both claim to be able to dispose of the other.

A clever trick to gain control of a wide tract of range in the lease of the Sweetwater Range association, which attempted here yesterday, but failed when the matter was called to the attention of the state board of sheep commissioners. Local stockmen had imported a number of bucks from Idaho, and in accordance with the law were to be quarantined. The owners requested that the quarantine ground be in the lease of the association, and the inspector, not knowing that this
