FRAGMENTS.

A CHINAMAN was arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy.

HOME MISSIONARIES will visit the city wards to-morrow evening.

"AROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHTY DAYS" begins at the Theatre on Monday evening.

JUDGE F. A. SMITH will make a flying visit to Evanston, Wyo., to-morrow.

J. T. LITTLE and wife will leave for New Orleans to-morrow, via the Union-Pacific.

B. H. BOOPER, of Park City, will leave for Carlsbad, Pa., over the D. & R. G. to-morrow.

A NUMBER of very interesting and timely articles will be found on the first and last pages of to-day's paper.

The "trouble," promised us by Judge McBride has not yet arrived, and the local authorities don't seem to care much.

The articles of incorporation of the Spanish Hill Mining Company were filed with the Secretary of the Territory yesterday.

ALBRIGHT & BROS. are out to-day in a big display advertisement in the News, in which the goods they deal in are mentioned.

The Sixteenth Quorum of Seventies will meet at the First Ward Assembly Room on Monday evening, December 14, at 7 o'clock.

KIMBALL BROTHERS will present their spectacular drama of "Around the World in Eighty Days" at the Theatre on Monday evening.

JOHN DECATUR was arrested to-day on a charge of petit larceny in having stolen a saddle and bridle from Fort Douglas yesterday.

SISTERS Presencia Kimball and Jane S. Richards went yesterday to attend the ladies' conference to be held at Grantsville to-day and to-morrow.

The prosecutions against some of the "rest of us" are proceeding rapidly enough, after so many impediments. Several have already been convicted, and still the work goes on.

The Thirtieth Quorum of Seventies will meet in the Nineteenth Ward meeting house, on Monday evening, Dec. 14, at 7 o'clock. All scattered members are specially requested to be present.

The Calder music palace has made some special importations looking to holiday trade. Their selection of articles in their line for Christmas and New Year's presents is really fine and should be inspected. The full worth of the buyer's money is guaranteed.

Religious services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be held in the Tabernacle to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock. Services in German will be conducted in the City Hall at 11 a. m., and in Scandinavian in the Social Hall at 10 a. m., to-morrow.

MRS. SARAH BECKWITH, living at Corralitos, a small coal camp on the Santa Fe road, a few miles north of Albuquerque, New Mexico, literally roasted her little one-year-old infant to death the other day. She held it on a hot stove, paying no attention to its pitiful cries of excruciating pain until convulsions took place and death soon followed. The child was found dead, and was taken to Santa Fe jail. It is probable the woman is insane.

LOCAL NEWS.

Notaries.—The following have been appointed notaries public: H. Maeser, Beaver County; James Plagere, Weber County; Boye Tye, Uintah County.

Charged with Libel.—Chas. H. Hemenway, editor of the Ogden Herald, was arrested yesterday on a charge of libel, the offense being charged to have been committed in an article criticizing the course of a Federal judge. He was released on giving $1,500 bail.

Jail Delivery.—Three prisoners effected their escape from the county jail in Butte, Montana, on the 9th. They were "French Joe," convicted of horse stealing and sentenced for four years; Wm. McGray, "The Kid," convicted of attempting to set fire to the city jail and sentenced to three years, and Frank Kellerian, recently arrested at Lemhi on the charge of horse stealing.

A Correction.—The special dispatch from Beaver which we published a few days since, concerning the charge of Judge Borenman to the grand jury, conveyed the impression that he alluded to Presidents Taylor and Cannon as ex-convicts. Our correspondent now writes to us to explain that the telegram was, owing to its brevity, slightly misconstrued. It was Judge W. B. Borenman, who was reporting in the court, who was referred to as an ex-convict. The judge said also that he would rather have the course of such men than their blessing.

News from Beaver.—Our correspondent at Beaver, "Moosehead," sends us the following per Deseret Telegraph: [BEAVER, Utah, Dec. 12, 1885.]

Editor News.—Some years ago, when Henry Gale, aged 30 years, who has been indicted for some time on a charge of unlawful cohabitation with his wife, withdrew from the plea of not guilty to-day, and entered one of guilty. He will receive sentence on Tuesday.

The grand jury have found one indictment for larceny, and three against Bishop Culbert King, for cohabitation with his wife. He gave bonds of $2,500.

James Marshall, charged with a Territorial offense, and arrested in Salt Lake, procuring no bondsmen, was lodged in the Beaver jail.

Deputy marshals are out east and south of Beaver subpoenaing witnesses to appear before the grand jury.

"Around the World."—The Boston Herald says of the performance which is to be given in the Salt Lake Theatre on Monday evening next:

"The brilliant spectacle, 'Around the World in Eighty Days' was presented to a crowded house at the Boston Theatre last evening by Kimball Brothers' Combination, and in costumes, scenery, ballet, and novel effects far surpassed anything ever before attempted by these famous managers. The play in former seasons here has been given with many rich and wonderful effects, but last evening it brought out novelty after novelty, and the appreciation of the audience was manifested continually. Five new sets of scenery from abroad were used for the first time, and made the grandest of stage pictures, and the richness of costumes combined to give the most dazzling effects. The faun, a peasant in India introduced the trained elephant El Mahdi, as well as many other numerous novelties. The ballet was led by Mlle. Labrie, a premiere whose performance justified all that had been said of her abilities, and Mlle. Million, who proved an accomplished dancer. Mr. Arnold also received much applause for the prologue dancing."

L. and L.—The prosecutions of the charges of lewd conduct were resumed this morning at the City Hall, before Justice Speirs. Owing to a misunderstanding on the part of the witnesses, the case of The People vs. Joe Bush was not continued till 11 o'clock, at which time the proceedings began. The prosecution was conducted by Messrs. Moyle and Kenner, the defendant being represented by Mr. W. C. Hall. The complaint was fully proved in every particular, and the defense calling no witnesses, a judgment of guilty was pronounced and the defendant sentenced to three months' imprisonment in the County Jail and to pay a fine of $20. Notice of appeal was given, which at the time of recess had not been perfected.

The case of the people vs. Charles E. Pearson, for the same offense was then proceeded with, Mr. Frank Hoffman appearing for the accused. The proceedings in this case were almost a duplicate of those in the other two except that the details were much more disgusting. The defendant was adjudged guilty, but at the request of the defense, judgment was suspended till 2 p. m., at which time it will be pronounced.

At 2 p. m. there was another eager audience, in expectation of the case of the People vs. Oscar Vandercrook coming up, this being its third appearance. For the third time they were disappointed, a document having been received from the District Court, of which the following is a copy:

In the District Court for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, County of Salt Lake.

In the matter of the application of Oscar Vandercrook for a writ of habeas corpus.

I, John M. Kane, clerk of the District Court for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, do hereby certify that an appeal has been allowed by said court, and such appeal taken by the above-named defendant to the Supreme Court of the United States of America, and bail given as required, and all proceedings in said case stayed.

Witness my hand and the seal of the said Third District Court of Utah, this 12th day of December, 1885.

J. M. KANE, Clerk.

By H. G. McMILLAN, Deputy Clerk.

Pearson was sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200. One of his sureties was rejected and he went after another, that instrument being completed at 3 p. m. Messrs. S. W. Darke and P. Tomney being the sureties.

An Honest Youth.—The following incident is related to us by an eye-witness of it: While a couple of non-"Mormon" ladies were on their way to the D. & R. G. depot in this city before yesterday, one of them suddenly stopped and exclaimed that she had lost her pocket-book. She hastily retraced her steps for a distance of two or three blocks in a vain endeavor to find it on the sidewalk and then returned to her companion almost distracted with grief and tears and sobbed wailed her great loss, for it contained a considerable amount of money. A few moments later a young "Mormon" happened along that way and surmised the cause of the woman's grief, but to satisfy himself approached and asked her what was the matter. On being told of her loss he drew the missing article from his pocket and presented it to her intact. She had evidently overlooked it in her search and he had found it, and appeared almost as happy to be able to restore it to her as she was to receive it. In her hurry and excitement she failed to thank the youth for what he had done, but she was heard afterwards to express surprise at his honesty and unselfishness. He would not be a true "Mormon" boy had he done otherwise.

Wholesale Killing.—A telegram from Albuquerque, New Mexico, of Dec. 7, says:

A terrible tragedy, in which two persons were killed and one mortally wounded, was enacted in Canyon Blanco, an isolated place, last Friday, the news just reaching this city. It appears that an old Mexican, Juan Jose Barcia, and his son, had the oversight of about 500 head of sheep. The boy being quite too much for them, Barcia hired a Mexican herder to help attend the flock. The herder proved to be a desperado, and in a few days he overran Barcia and his son. Last Friday, the day on which the tragedy occurred, Barcia ordered the herder to take the sheep to a place called at the same time pulling out a pistol and shooting the old man mortally wounded him. Barcia then turned on his son, and was in turn fatally wounded, but before dying, raised his Winchester and sent a bullet crashing through the desperado's head. The boy, who had fled, and last accounts say that his father cannot live.

Krality's Grand Performance.—Our readers will remember their spectacular piece "Excelsior" on Monday evening they produced a piece of far greater dramatic merit than "Excelsior," entitled "Around the World in Eighty Days." It possesses all the ballet and other attractions of "Excelsior," however. They carry fifty-seven people and two car loads of scenery, besides a real elephant, seven lions in suit. Seventy-five supernumeraries are advertised for in addition to the regular company. Carpenters are engaged firmly bracing the stage to support the extra weight. The management have determined not to raise the price, although nothing like it has ever been exhibited here before at the price.

On a Visit.—Mrs. Majors, wife of our old-time friend, Alexander Majors, Esq., arrived in town yesterday from San Francisco, where the lady has been for the past year, visiting her married daughter. After a stay of a few days' visiting friends, she will leave for New York to join her husband. Her many acquaintances will be pleased to learn that she is in excellent health, and still has a good word for the Latter-day Saints. She and her husband always take pleasure in referring to the many pleasant association they have enjoyed in the past with the people of this Territory, of whom they are true friends and loyal supporters.

A Tribute of Honor.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the Deseret Hospital Association held Monday December 8th, the ladies very feelingly expressed their regret at the loss of one of their active members, Sister Phebe W. Woodruff. She had been associated with them in all their labors ever since the establishment of the institution, and was always on hand to perform her portion of the work devolved upon her. The Board, Sister Woodruff has always been recognized by the ladies as being in counsel ever ready with good suggestions, and had at all times faithfully discharged her duty as a member of the Board and Executive Committee.

Found Dead.—The Butte Miner contains an account of the body of a man of medium size, fairly dressed, and in excellent health, in the vicinity of Boulder road, about sixteen miles from Butte, on Wednesday last, whose name and cause of death were unknown, though these facts would probably be developed at the inquest which was to be held.

The "Juvenile Instructor."—No publication that we ever peruse affords us more satisfaction or calls forth more of our admiration, and certainly none contains more crystallized truth in the same space. It does the "Juvenile Instructor," which has been published semi-monthly in this city for almost twenty years. Always simple and pointed in its style and sound and reliable in its principles, any parent can with confidence place it in the hands of his children for their pleasure and profit peruse it himself. The "Editorial Thoughts" and "Topics of the Times," written by the editor, are alone worth far more to the price of the year's subscription to any person, young or old, who will take the time to read them. These chapters in the last issue are especially interesting. Albert Carrington's excommunication, the policy of regard going to the charge of "unlawful cohabitation" and the situation, local and general, are handled in masterly wisdom and with a trenchant pen, and what is said upon these subjects ought to be perused by every Latter-day Saint. The other articles in this number are also very good.

With the commencement of Vol. 21, which will be at New Year's, improvements are to be made, as we find announced in a prospectus, and especial attention is to be devoted to the children's, biographical, missionary and musical departments, the lessons on health, history, art, science, etc., and the pictures with which every number is illustrated. The Instructor should be in every family of Latter-day Saints.

From the Northwestern States.—Fourteen immigrants from the Northwestern States arrived in this city on Sunday evening last with the missionaries who then returned, not appearing in the least daunted by the threatening rumors about concerning affairs here.

Of the Elders who then returned we have since had visits from several, who have reported to us their experience while absent.

Elder Thomas E. King, of Kingsport, Putte County, left this city to start upon his mission on the 12th of April, 1884, and labored during his absence in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois. For a little over a year he has presided over the Indiana Conference. During his absence he has been baptizing nearly forty persons have been baptized there and about fifty have migrated to this Territory. Many parts in which the Elders have operated in the past with more or less success seem to be closed up entirely through the false reports circulated about the Saints and the bitter prejudice entertained towards them. In the northern part of Indiana and the southern part of Illinois the Elders are meeting with some success. There are now six Elders in Illinois and one in Indiana, and two that were lately laboring in that Conference have gone to Pennsylvania, and still two others to Iowa. All are feeling well and are energetic and zealous in their labors notwithstanding their meagre encouragement. Brother King had eggs thrown at him a few times and was ordered away from houses a number of times by bigoted, intolerant individuals or mobs, but suffered no actual violence.

Elder Soren Christensen, of Richmond, who also left here a year ago last April, labored chiefly in Wright County, Minn., and adjacent regions, but also traveled somewhat in Wisconsin, and spent four months in Dakota. He had a varied experience, sometimes being received by the people with kindness, and at other times being ordered from the houses at which he called to make known his message of salvation with threats of shooting. He usually found ministers to be the most intolerant and unreasonable. While traveling in Dakota he and his companion visited a community called "Brotherhood's," who consist of about thirty families, and all live in the same house, with separate bed rooms for each family and one table for the whole. They are located on the shore of the Missouri River and have two saw mills and other extensive possessions, all of which they own in common. They came from Russia about ten years ago and retain their old customs as to dress and manners.

They are a very peaceable people, and are so opposed to strife and bloodshed that they will not even keep weapons of any kind in their house. They believe in the Bible, are tolerant and liberal, and seem willing to investigate other creeds. Brother Christensen is of the opinion that many of them will yet embrace the Gospel. He learned of other similar colonies in that region but only visited the one.

Elders James Houston and James B. Heywood, both residents of Panguitch, were also among the missionaries who returned on Sunday night last, and who started upon their missions simultaneously with the others mentioned.

The first labored for six months in Indiana, then for eleven months in Michigan, and the last two months in Illinois. If an Elder's success is to be based according to the number of strangers to whom he bears his testimony and declares the principles of the Gospel, he thinks he is doing well. The consciousness of what he has done in that line at least affords him satisfaction. He has realized the blessing of the Almighty in his preservation from off-threatened violence, in the efforts of enemies to be overruled for the spread of the truth, and in the sick being healed under his administration. As an instance of the latter he relates that a young girl who was in a corner room at the hotel where he was given up to die was almost immediately healed when he and his companion laid hands upon her. She and her mother acknowledged the power of God in her recovery and would gladly have been baptized, but were prevented by the opposition of the husband and father.

Elder Heywood labored during his absence in six different counties of Indiana—the whole of the time in new fields. He found few who were willing to listen to his testimony or embrace the Gospel when convinced of its truth. He was several times beset by mobs, but as often delivered by a power with which man cannot cope. Upon one occasion a mob of twelve men armed with clubs went to a private house at which he was holding a meeting on the Sabbath day with the expressed determination of beating him, but the man of the house met them with a gun and threatened to shoot the first one who attempted to execute their purpose. They desisted and were subsequently cleared by the jury, and both Republican and Democratic newspapers of the vicinity applauded them and expressed regret that they had not succeeded and also tarred and feathered the Elders.

An impression favorable to the Elders was created among some people of that vicinity by these circumstances, and as a result several persons were shortly afterwards baptized. In a number of places where the traveling there is now a friendly feeling toward the Saints, but no very marked disposition to investigate or embrace the Gospel.

Visit to Malne.—Brother A. E. Eastman, of Woodruff, writes under date of 7th inst.

"I have just returned from a visit to my folks in the State of Maine, in company with W. A. Walton, of Woodruff, Utah. We had a good time and made many friends. We did some preaching, but more freestyle talking with our own people, and also received a large list of names from the genealogy of my forefathers, which I went mostly to obtain. I was glad to return and once more see my dear wife and our modest home. I would not change it for all the world, am better contented than ever. "A little snow here this morning."

From Bear Lake.—Brother Christopher Merkle, of this city, returned last evening from a six weeks' visit to Bear Lake, and reports a time of general peace and prosperity as prevailing there. The weather had been very fine there until last Sunday night, when a light fall of snow occurred. On his way down, when at McCammon Station, he heard that anarchy prevailed here and that the city was about to be placed under martial law. He expresses himself as being by no means alarmed by the present aspect of affairs or disposed to give up his religion after having clung to it for the past forty-eight-and-a-half years.

He has for some time past been engaged in building a grist mill at St. Charles, in which there are two run of French burrs, which is now so far completed that before he left there over 500 bushels of grain had been ground.

His health is better than it has been for 77 years, and considering that he will be 77 years of age on the 18th of this month, he is quite active.

Dedication Services.—The new Relief Society Hall of the Seventeenth Ward was dedicated on Tuesday, the occasion calling forth members of that and other wards who filled the building to its utmost capacity. The dedicatory prayer was offered by Apostle J. H. Smith. A brief history of the society was then read by the secretary, Mrs. L. D. Alder, which was followed by remarks by Brother Nathan Davis, who was Bishop of that ward when the society was organized, and by Apostle J. H. Smith, who succeeded him in office as Bishop. They reviewed their experience with the society in times past in an interesting manner and gave encouraging advice as to the future.

Bishop Fingers last Sunday. A. Hyde also spoke in a complimentary manner of the efforts of the sisters and congratulated them on their success in acquiring so comfortable a building. Sister Hyde, President of the Relief Society, thanked the brethren for their kind feelings, and the meeting closed with benediction by Elder W. W. Jackson, of American Fork.

The house is a creditable structure, built in a substantial manner, of brick with a rock foundation, is 20 x 30 in size, and finished and furnished in a tasteful and comfortable style; and the best of all, it is entirely paid for. The land cost $800, the building $784.50, the fence and furnishing $100. In addition to constructing this building and extending innumerable acts of kindness to the needy, upon which no cash value could be placed, the society has, since its organization, contributed to the poor $8,431.80.

At the close of the meeting the officers of the society and invited guests, to the number of forty, repaired to the residence of Brother Joseph Bull, where Sister Bull had arranged an entertainment provided by a few of the officers, of which all partook and had a very enjoyable time.
