

BEET SUGAR MEN AND RECIPROCITY

Adopt Resolutions Withdrawing
Opposition to Cuban Treaty.

TOUCH PHILIPPINE MATTERS

Protest Against the Unnecessary
Stimulation of Sugar and Tobacco
Industries in the Islands.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The American Beet-sugar association held its annual session here today and passed resolutions withdrawing opposition to the Cuban reciprocity treaty, and recommending that the treaty be so amended as to express in precise language what is intended to be secured by it to the beet-sugar manufacturers of the United States, viz: That during the period of five years covered by the treaty no sugar exported from Cuba to the United States shall be admitted at a reduction of duty greater than 20 per cent of the rate of duty thereon as provided by the tariff act of July 24, 1897.

The association also adopted a resolution protesting against the unnecessary stimulation of the sugar and tobacco industries in the Philippines by means of further tariff reductions, thus encouraging the people of those islands, where labor is but a few cents a day, to produce those commodities which they are unable to produce as we are unable to produce.

The action of the association was not unanimous, the vote on the passage of the resolution standing 3 to 2, although Henry T. Oxnard, president of the association, said he had enough proxies to make the vote 12 to 2. The opponents of the resolution claim that the action of the association is a mere agitation of the subject which is a full agitation of the industry and making its prosperity and healthful growth an impossibility; and

Whereas, the public welfare of the United States as a nation has become involved in the consideration of the proposed treaty, and while this association remains of the opinion that a disturbance of the tariff relations between Cuba and the United States is from many standpoints unwarranted and undesirable, it is not willing to permit the commercial interests of its members to stand in the way of adoption of a public policy which has the approval of the administration and leading members of Congress of both political parties.

Resolved, That the American Beet-sugar association has determined to withdraw its opposition to the ratification of the said treaty; that it respectfully recommends to the senate committee on foreign relations that the eighth article of the treaty be amended so as to express in precise language what is intended to be secured by the treaty to the beet-sugar manufacturers of the United States, namely, that during the period of five years covered by said treaty no sugar exported from the republic of Cuba shall be admitted into the United States at a reduction of duty greater than 20 per cent of the rates of duty thereon, as provided by the tariff act of July 24, 1897.

Case Against Mayor Charters Nolle.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 9.—State Atty. Williams of the superior court has announced that the criminal cases against Stephen Charters, mayor of Ansonia and two other labor union men of that city, have been nolle. "The cases are dropped by advice of the court," said Mr. Williams, "as the conditions are so changed that it is now deemed expedient to compel the accused to stand trial."

The arrest of Charters, Martin E. Driscoll and Jason Wright, all of Ansonia, followed a sweeping injunction which was obtained by the Ferris Poultry and Machine company in July, 1901, to restrain their striking employees from interfering with non-union men who worked during the strike. It was alleged that the three men mentioned violated the order of the court. Mr. Charters was at that time employed as a carpenter by the Ferris company. He was subsequently elected mayor of Ansonia.

Ada, O., Jan. 8.—Three men are dead and 14 or more other persons were injured, one fatally, as the result of a collision between two trains on the Pennsylvania system on the Main street of this city at 5 o'clock this evening.

Benjamin Zooker, Fort Wayne.
E. J. Burdette, Dayton, O.
Train No. 35, westbound, for Fort Wayne, started out of the station, but at the Main street crossing was compelled to stop on account of some accident to their brakes. A fireman was sent back to notify No. 19, a fast train going in the same direction, which was several minutes late.

On account of a driving snowstorm the engineer of No. 19 was unable to see the signal in time to slacken his speed and his engine crashed into the rear coach of No. 35 while running at the rate of 40 miles an hour.

No. 35 consisted of two coaches, the rear one being a combination baggage and passenger car, with another passenger car in front. Both were telescoped and severely a passenger escaped injury of some sort. The engineer and fireman of No. 19 were also slightly injured, but not enough to prevent them from rendering immediate assistance to those who were in distress.

The engine of No. 19 was almost demolished, but the cars behind were not damaged in the least and none of the passengers were bruised.

NEW ARCHBISHOP

Of Canterbury Is a Young Man and Ardent Temperance Reformer.

New York, Jan. 8.—Dr. Randall Thomas Davidson, the new archbishop of Canterbury, says the Tribune's London correspondent, is a comparatively young man, and like his predecessor, an ardent temperance reformer; whereas, however, Dr. Temple was rugged and austere, Dr. Davidson has always been courtly and urbane, and while Dr. Temple was a Teetotal master, Dr. Davidson brings to bear upon the great work which lies before him, experience gained wholly within the church. Dr. Davidson, it is understood, would have declined the archbishopric had not King Edward personally requested him to accept the place. His translation from Winchester to Canterbury will mean an increase of salary from $5,500 to $15,000. There are now two vacant bishoprics—Winchester and St. Albans.

Pacific Cable a Blessing.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—The Pacific cable has already become an important factor in commercial life. Heretofore the ordering by Honolulu merchants of perishable goods was of necessity made by mail when a steamer left that port. Merchants were forced to wait for their orders for a future delivery of about 17 days. Now orders are cabled here on the day a vessel is scheduled to sail for the islands.

BATTLESHIPS ARE WANTED.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, Jan. 5.—The outlook now is that the naval appropriation bill will give rise to quite a spirited controversy in Congress this session. There is a very strong demand in many quarters for a large increase in the navy. More battleships are thought necessary, and it is upon this point that there will be great differences. Senator Hale, chairman of the senate naval committee, does not agree with the leading members of the house committee that five or six ships should be authorized at this session. He thinks two would be enough. The president and Sec. Moody want an increase, and there is very considerable element in both houses that is advocating a much larger navy and is pointing out conditions which may arise to make it necessary. The Venezuelan furore has given those who want more ships an opportunity, which they are using with some effect. Senator Ekins thinks we should have a great navy while Senator Hale says that there never has been anything in the situation to make us deviate from our course.

A GROWING IDEA.

The men who conceived the idea of fighting the omnibus statehood bill with a single state composed of Oklahoma and Indian Territory joined certainly had a pretty good look ahead. The idea is very catchy among Democrats and is very likely to go a long way toward defeating the omnibus measure. Many Democratic senators have doubts about admitting either New Mexico or Arizona, while the doubling up of Oklahoma and Indian Territory is quite agreeable to them. If there should be a single state, it would get rid of a troublesome question—the government of Indian Territory—and especially in pointing that territory, which is largely "no man's land," so far as government goes. There is no territorial government and no curb upon the restless spirits that inhabit the country, except such as is asserted by United States marshals. Democratic senators familiar with the conditions think that joined to Oklahoma and admitted as a state the In-

Foraker added to the Porto Rico tariff act a bill for the government of the islands, which was accepted by the house. A similar measure was reported from the insular committee of the senate, and the bill might have been known as the Cooper act as well as the Foraker act. The house is responsible for this. When it created the insular committee, it refused to give it power to deal with revenues affecting the islands, and the result is that the ways and means committee handles the bills relating to island finance. THE FORAKER ACT.

Members of the house frequently have reason to complain that the senate takes too much power upon itself, and sometimes they give instances where they have been deprived of the proper credit for their legislation. One man in particular spoke of the law for the government of Porto Rico being called the Foraker act. "Why, even the supreme court gives it that official designation," he said. Just before Congress adjourned for the holidays Senator Wellington of Maryland presented and had printed a document of curious interest—that is, curious for government publication. It is entitled "Patriotic Studies" and is really a religious pamphlet designed to inculcate certain ideas and encourage legislative reforms in the laws. It proposes a course of study for each month consisting of readings from religious and reform works. But aside from these suggestions there is much other matter in the pamphlet devoted to topics that are far from legislative in character. The object of the publication, it would seem, is not to
