AMUSEMENTS.

Theater-"I am glad to get back home," said Dustin Farnum, in the opening lines of a curtain call speech, as he stood facing one of the largest audiences in the history of the Salt Lake Theater, last night, after an ovation of almost consuming cordial-This remark was doubtless ity. prompted by the fact that Salt Lake was the cradic of his career as the Virginian, in the now famous play of that name. The Deseret News, as has been before stated, is particularly proud of his success, inasmuch as it was the dramatic editor of this paper who "discovered" him, and named him in advance as the one man to enact that role in the event that Ower Wister's powerful novel should be dramatized. Since then he has soared to the highest flights of theatrical stardom and public popularity, and in every professional way proved the correctness of the conclusion that "he

the man Last night he came back with his repressed, yet powerful and convinc-ng portrayal of Wister's western hero repressed, yet powering and commo-ing nortrayal of Wister's western hero. Even in this day of mighty effort on the part of the big eastern playwrights for the color and atmosphere of the mountains and plains his creation pre-sents much that remains unique and striking in the way of western stage land effect. Virility characterizes its every scene and movement. Its pic-ture of life on the unfenced ranges has all the accuracy of a definite and precise reproduction. Tall, command-ing, handsome, quiet, with a drawl that partakes almost of halting de-liberation, he has been criticised as an incorrect type of the true Virgin-ian. But the writer has seen within the confines of both the Virginias more than one such man as he represents. the confines of both the Virginlas more than one such man as he represents. His canception is in no wise wrong. In many ways it is startlingly true. As the tall cowpuncher, with the pie-turesque hat, garb and accoutre-ments of the real western cittleman, he has pressrved, remarkably, the type of his own section and merged it strikingly into the calling he found in the employ of a western livestock the employ of a western livestock baron. More than that, he is fully and completely entitled to all of the credit of conquest he has won in the interpretation of the character. The physicial strength, manly self-reliance, honor, more divided a correstioners. honor, good natured aggressiveness, and resourcefulness all belong to him. He is a part of them and they are a part of him, both on and off the stage. Chicago, Feb. 8.-William Clark, alias Conway, said by the police to be one of the cleverest whe tappers in the coun-try and well known as a confidence man, was arrested yesterday by de-tectives who caught him as he was waiting at a window to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. Clark had a vietim in tow in the person of J. W. Thorne, and was to have been given considerable money in return for "In-side information on the races." Thorne early in the day had been taken through several rooms in the Western Union building by Clark, who told him that he was "in need of just a little ready cash to made a good thing work." Clark went from room to room, it is said, and after showing him news acqualitance the many instruments, declared that he was in possession of a scheme which would "land them in "Easy Street." "You will not regist having hazarded the money. I will see you in a few hours." Instead of waiting for the arrival of Clark, Mr. Thorne hurried to the de-tective headquarters and told his story. Two detectives took up their position in the bank, while Thorne hurried away to keep his appointment with Clark. Together they entered the bank, and went to the window of a paying teller. It was while several "yellow backs" were being handed to Thorne by the cashier that the detectives stepped up and seized Clark.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP --RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

La Grippe is Epidemic Catarrh.

THE disease now known as 'grip' used to be called 'influenza.' It very closely resembles a cold, but is more tenacious in its hold upon the system and produces more profound disturbances.

Grip is in reality epidemic catarrh. When it once begins it spreads over the country very rapidly.

People do not catch the grip from each other, but each one catches it from the atmosphere.

"Most Effective Medicine Ever Tried for La Grippe."

Robt. L. Madison, A. M., Principal of Cullowhee High School, Painter, N. C., is chairman of the Jackson County Board of Education.

He is a writer of occasional verse and has contributed to a number of leading papers and magazines,-religious, educational and secular.

In speaking of Peruna, Mr. Madison savs: "I am hardly ever without Peruna in my home. It is the most effective medicine that I have ever tried for la grippe. "It also cured my wife of nasal catarrh. Her condition at one time was such that she could not at night breathe through her nostrils.

"In consequence, an inflamed condition of the throat was brought about, getting worse and worse and yielding to no remedy until Peruna was tried."

Healthy Mucous Membranes. Those who are fortunate enough to have perfectly healthy mucous membranes ordinarily do not eatch the grip.

It appears that on Thursday Mrs. Lambert got wind of the doctor's in-tention to take unto him to wife Miss Florence Richards, of this city, and she so vigorously interposed her pro-tests that the parties to the marriage betook themselves to Ogden, where the ceremony was quietly performed. Mrs. Lambert made her appearance at the county elerk's office and asked if she could not have the license to the doctor and his intended withheld, and upon being informed she could not, called at the county attorney's office and wanted to bring suit. Attorney Lyon informed her he could do noth-ing for her, and that her only redress would be in a suit for breach of prom-ist, and away she went to look up her attorney.

Mr. Farnum's support includes Mr. Farnum's support includes Frank Campeau, whose delineation of Trampas, the villalnous cattle thief, is so masterful as to enlist one's full admiration despite the despicable character he must unfold. It is doubt-ful if there is another actor living who could altogether so ably play this role. Benett Musson as uncer-tain and misguided Steve, Frank Vall as the irrepressible 'Honey' Wiggins, and Mabel Wright as Molly Wood, the Vermont school teacher, are artists, every one of them, and entitled to no small mead of praise for the as-sistance they render in making "The Virginian" one of the best stage pro-ductions of this decade.

I Specialization in the manufacture of goods, as in a professsion or any branch of trade means higher perfection.

I McDonald had this thought in mind when he reached decision to make his house an exclusive Chocolate Manufactory.

I One of the first achievements which attained popularity at a jump, is his newest bonbon success.

DUTCH GHOCOLATES.

It is to the Dutch that chocolate owes its earliest prominence. The best Dutch recipe has been utilized and improved in the McDonald way, till it is clearly a most delicious bonbon, with the added beauty that it is popular priced-30 cents and 60 cent boxes.

The center is of high grade whipped cream, with fruit flavors or nuts.

The outside is a fine, pure and soluble chocolate. It is destined to become the leading popular-priced chocolate bonbon.

I McDonald makes the highest grade, highest priced chocolate bonbon in the world, including other fine varieties. Instead of supplying old lines of candies in their natural state, McDonald now coats them with high grade chocolate which adds much to the quality of the goods-a clever way of improving established lines-and ingenius method of creating increased demand for his product.
