SIX ITALIANS DIE FROM POISON.

Gang of Laborers Working Near Twin Falls Find a Dead Horse That Had Been Poisoned for Coyotes and They Ate the Meat With Fatal Consequences—Doings at Pocatello This Week

Special Correspondence.
POCATELLO, Ida., Oct. 12.—From Twin Falls comes the story of the poisoning of several of the sons of Italy. It appears that a horse owned by some of the graders on the railroad was found dead. The horse was found by some of the graders on the railroad and was found to be dead. The horse was found by some of the graders on the railroad and was found to be dead. to their proofs, and have had time to secure leaves of absence, or resume settlement.

In each of the above cases affidavits of physicians were presented to the board, proving that illness preceded the wives from living upon the land with their husbands, but the board ruled that while entrymen could establish a legal residence without his wife, he could not make that point without also actually residing upon the land with him. The board has approved all other applications for final proof, up to Oct. 1.

EAGLES IN NEW QUARTERS.

The local series of Eagles took formal possession of their new hall, in the St. Marie building, here, last Thursday, and all kinds of eagles, including Sunday Fowls, the great "Bald" eagle from Salt Lake, were in attendance. In flocks and droves they came from Blackfoot, Idaho Falls, Montpelier and other neighboring towns, until the screaming and fluttering was worse than the prattle of the anxious young mothers of a baby show. Fifty-five young birds were induced, during the day, to leave their happy homes, and take up their abode in the local eyrie, where they soon developed into first-class birds, although their talons were treated somewhat roughly during the operation. The new hall is 75x45 feet, and every available foot of the floor space was covered by the large tables, around which the dainties and delicacies of the day were laid out. During the evening the "birds" fluttered over the floor of McNicholls & Wright's hall, until 12 o'clock midnight, after which they returned to their homes and fed themselves fat upon the bounties of the land.

Some of the younger birds were unaccustomed to the use of the "spring water" provided, but with the exception of a slight wobble when they attempted to "swim" behaved perfectly.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

The county commissioners are here in session this week. Their principal business is the discussion of roads and bridges. The first order of business was the discussion of the road from Chesterfield to the river near Soda Springs. The commissioners will probably be in session all week or there is considerable work to be done.

THE FAMILIAR KIDNAPPER PUT CROVE.

The famous kidnapper Put Crove, passed through here yesterday morning, and was in the custody of four detectives and other officers. He is now being held in the county jail. He is now being held in the county jail. He is now being held in the county jail.

ALL IS NOW HUSTLE AT BLACKFOOT THIS WEEK.

Special Correspondence.
BLACKFOOT, Ida., Oct. 12.—The sugar factory started off on the campaign of the second season last week. Everything moved as smoothly as could be wished, and by the time the big concern is running at full capacity. Beets at the rate of 2 or 3 car loads a day are poured in from all directions, and everything is busy. Among the stations already furnishing shipments are: Pith, Idaho, Nampa, on the north; Collins, Idaho, Meridian, Lost River, Darlington, Leslie and Houston on the Mackay branch, the places on the branch having just commenced to do business. McCammon, Teton and Arimo have also started shipping.

The amount of beets now on hand is about 6,000 tons. The factory is promised to be kept busy for several months. During the summer all necessary repairs and improvements were attended to and there is now a full force of men at work in running the plant. No time is being lost in the stacks until the season from this time on. A new arrival which will save a great deal of time is a sack-sewing device which does the bags after they are filled.

A pretty wedding was celebrated last Sunday when Ethel Conger and Hamer H. Haly. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Miss Conger is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Conger, who have resided here for the past five years. Mr. Wright

NEWS FROM WOOD RIVER VALLEY, IDA.

Special Correspondence.
CAREY, Ida., Oct. 12.—The little town of Carey sent a good representation of its residents to the conference at Salt Lake. Twenty-two persons left here Wednesday and Thursday, taking advantage of the conference rates.

The railroad company has not given the people at this distant point a fair deal in allowing them just one day to get to the conference, and only a day and a half time in which to visit the great Utah fair, as they only commenced to sell conference tickets on the 10th and parties going on this branch cannot start until 5 p. m.

Mr. A. Albertson has taken his 14-year-old boy to Salt Lake to consult a specialist as to having an affection in the boy's eyes. Miss Ethel Dix was taken down to have her eyes treated, as they have become too weak to allow of studying in the school.

John D. Baird and Nora Philpott will visit to the temple and return to Carey on the 15th. Ernest Philpott, son of J. Hyrum Philpott, will start tomorrow for Oakley to attend the Cassa State assembly there this winter. Maxell, the 2-year-old baby boy of Cyndie A. Stanford and wife, met with a serious accident a few days ago. His sister had just put some hot water in a tub on the floor, preparing for washing, when the little fellow took a run across the room and stumbling, fell head first into the tub, scalding his arms, shoulder, breast and part of his face. Healing ointments and bandages were immediately applied, and the little fellow is doing as well as can be, but there will no doubt be some scars left after the burns heal up.

M. M. Bush, who had charge of the district school here last winter, left for Utah Thursday, with the object of teaching school there this winter.

Parties of Boise and Soldier, of Camas Prairie, have purchased the fine roller mills erected at Soldier and later taken to pieces and boxed up for shipment. The nearest mill to Carey now is at Oakley, 100 miles away.

Heavy winds have prevailed here for three days and the weather has turned cold and wintry.

Most of the farmers have their potatoes yet to gather in. Cattle are being rounded up and brought in from the hills and put in the pastures. Nearly all the surplus hay in this valley is bought up for feeding purposes. Prices range from $2.00 to $4 per ton.

IDAHO FRUITGROWING INDUSTRY

Excellence of Her Apples and Prunes Attested by Buyers in Chicago, New York And the Famous Covent Garden Market of London, England-- Short Line is Shipping Carload Lots.

TYPICAL IDAHO ORCHARD.

As each fall comes around, Idaho demonstrates more and more that when it comes to raising fruit, she can hold her own with any state in the northwest. The excellence of apples and prunes especially grown in the Gem state bespeaks for Idaho fruits top prices on the eastern markets. This year the Oregon Short Line is handling the products by the car load and shipping them back to Chicago. Some have been sent on to New York, while one consignment sent across the water brought splendid prices in the famous Covent Garden market of London, England.

Along the fertile Payette, Blue Lakes and Boise valleys ranchers make a business of growing fruit for the market. They have adopted the latest ideas in this branch of horticulture and the orchards are models that will bear a careful study. The accompanying picture shows a typical Idaho orchard, well cultivated and free from weeds and grass.

IDAHO FALLS GATES DYNAMITED.

One Hundred Feet of Big Timbers Splintered and Blown Away by the Explosion and the $6,000 Gate Otherwise Badly Injured--Second Outrage Directed Against the Company Within the Last Thirty Days--Tool House and Equipment Burned by Incendiaries--Sugar is Being Shipped.

Special Correspondence.
IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 12.—The officers of the Great Western Canal company here are offering a reward for the apprehension of the party or parties who recently dynamited the headgate to their canal. The damage resulted in making an opening in the headgate something like 100 feet, great timbers, 12x12 in size, being splintered and in instances blown to pieces.

The extent of the damage, at least to the main work is not known, as the directors have caused temporary repairs to be made to the headgate with the idea of permanently repairing the same later on. The headgate originally cost upwards of $6,000, and is one of the greatest of its kind in this part of the state.

On the 9th of last month the company sustained the loss of its tool house, which was located near the headgate, the fire being of an incendiary nature and set in broad daylight. All tools, cables and other equipment were burned. Their watermaster, William Moore, also had burned at the same time three head of horses, wagon and harness, the horses being tied on the outside near the building burned. Two of the animals were badly injured that it had to be killed to relieve it of its misery.

IRRIGATION FOR NEELEY DISTRICT.

Special Correspondence.
NEELEY, Ida., Oct. 12.—The American Falls Irrigation company expects to have all of its 75,000 acres of land irrigated by the time to put in crops next year. Two new ditch machines are expected to arrive soon, each of which will be worked with 40 horses.

Fruit is high; prunes have been selling at three, and in some cases, at four cents a pound. Apples are selling at three or four cents a bushel.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson have been attending conference in Salt Lake, and returned home Tuesday morning.

Work on the new meetinghouse has begun, as a man is now here who is making the brick.

Bishop Bennion, his wife and daughter Erma, returned Monday evening from Salt Lake, where they attended the fair and conference.

Miss Nelson has received notice from Mr. R. N. Hill, the county superintendent of Oneida county, that he will hold a teachers' institute at Rockland, Oct. 21.

Part of the school books that were ordered through the county superintendent have already arrived. As the school board voted against free school books, the parents will have to pay for the new books.

LUDWIG SUHRKE.

Whose Death Recently Occurred at his Home in Soda Springs, Ida.

Soda Springs, Ida.—Ludwig Suhrke was born May 19, 1857, in Germany, and came to America and crossed the plains to Salt Lake City in 1885. He worked on the new Tabernacle and other Church buildings as a carpenter, and resided to Soda Springs in 1879, where he came to his death. He was agent for the Church works and for the Deseret Evening News over 20 years. He was taken sick on Sept. 20, 1905, with pneumonia, and died on the morning of the 23rd. His remains were taken to the "Mormon" meetinghouse on the 24th, where a large concourse of Saints and friends met; and after consulting and appropriate remarks by Elders William H. Anderson and Daniel Lee were made, the body was taken to the Cedar cemetery and laid in the silent tomb. He died, as he had lived, a true Latter-day Saint. He left a wife, two daughters and one son to mourn his death. He was aged 48 years, four months and 12 days.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR NAMPA, IDA.

Special Correspondence.
NAMPA, Ida., Oct. 12.—Material for the improvements in the telephone system at this place is on the ground, and work will be started this week. The telephone office is to be moved to the large room on the ground floor in the Dewey palace, and a new switchboard with practically an entire new apparatus is to be installed.

Mr. W. Voltz from Palouse, Wash., has been in Nampa this week looking for a flooring mill location. Mr. Voltz is very much pleased with Nampa, and believes that this will be the center of industry in Idaho in a very short time.

Mr. E. H. Dewey and Frederic Irwin, manager of the Trade Dollar Mining company, spent a couple of days in Boise this week preparing the contract for bringing electric power from Swan Falls to Nampa. It is understood this power will be used in operating the sugar factory soon to be erected on the site just north of town.

It is stated that Nelson Morris, the millionaire Chicago packer, recently said, "The feeding of sugar beets to hogs greatly improves the quality of the meat. The best fed hog produces meat superior in flavor, and quality to that of the old standard corn fed porker." From this it can be seen that southern Idaho will have opened another great industry, and the farmers here will not be long in recognizing a good thing.

IDAHO CAPTURES MEDALS GALORE.

Out of 68 Entries at the Portland Fair, the Gem State Captured 67 Awards, Which is Really a Remarkable Record--Boise Merchant Makes a Startling Discovery of Woman's Outfit In the Chamberlain Basin Country.

Special Correspondence.
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—Word was received here this week from Portland and which will bring joy to the hearts of all loyal Idahoans. The awards made for the agricultural exhibits, including grains, grasses, weeds and other products of the farm and range, at the 12th and 13th exhibitions, were announced this week, and Idaho stands top of column when the proportion of the awards to the entries at the fair is taken into consideration.

Out of 68 entries, this state secured 67 awards—35 gold medals, 14 silver medals and one honorable mention. Oregon took a higher total of awards, with Colorado a close second, but the remarkable record made by Idaho, that the number of her entries is taken into consideration, is unequalled. Much of the credit for such a record, of course, due to the farmer in which the display was made, and for this credit must be given M. J. Wessels, the Idaho agricultural commissioner, and Mrs. Wessels, who designed and superintended the construction of Idaho's beautiful agricultural section. The excellence of the products themselves, of course, also had much to do with the findings of the jury, and the awards made point conclusively to the excellence of Idaho as an agricultural state.

Gold medals were awarded the state of Idaho on its general collection, and to the Idaho agricultural experiment station on its collection of grains and grasses in the wheat. For these two the state officials claim particular attention. Canyon county also received a gold medal on oats, wheat and rye in the wheat; Camas Prairie on a collection of grains and grasses, not otherwise entered; the city of Howell on a collection of grains and grasses, not otherwise entered; Nez Perce county on grasses, and Latah county on grains and grasses not otherwise entered.

GOLD MEDALS.

Gold medals were distributed among private exhibitors as follows:
M. J. Wessels, grains and grains.
O. A. Johnson, oats.
M. J. Wessels, beans.
J. H. Shields, grass.
Elmer Jolly, oats.
Frank Attender, oats.
E. C. Olson, barley.
V. M. Thompson, oats.
Volmer Clearwater company, Blue stem, Big Club, Canadian Hybrid, and Polish wheat, white beans, flax seeds.
Clyde Stenham, corn fodder.
John Loring, barley.
V. M. Thompson, baked timothy hay.
Theodore Harting, barley.
E. O. Stoddard, rye.
Isaac Lehner, Bluestem and White Russian wheat.
John Loring, Red Kushan wheat.
James C. Hanson, baked timothy hay.
Frank Cleverly, barley.
H. M. Rudbeck, oats.
Z. Brumbeck, clover seed.
Don C. Layton, Idaho oats.
Bluestem wheat, threshed and in sheaf.
Edward Atkinson, flaxseed, excellence in size of grain.
M. J. Wessels, flax.
J. Scolling, wheat.
Thomas Driscoll, barley; excellence in quality.

SILVER MEDALS.

Silver medals were awarded as follows:
Frank Steeper, field corn.
P. B. Dean, oats.
A. C. Kitten, collection of grains and grasses.
John Kearns, wheat.
J. P. O'Brien, wheat, oats and rye in sheaf.
J. P. Jenkins, corn.
William C. Fox, wheat.
F. R. Gooding, wheat.
F. R. Gooding, wheat.

HUNTER MTN. MYSTERY.

C. Ellsworth, a well known Boise merchant, has returned from a hunt in the Chamberlain basin country north of the Hunter mountain. He brings an interesting story of finding a woman's outfit on the wooded side of a mountain facing the basin. He was climbing toward the crest when he came across a waist. A little farther on was a handkerchief, 30 yards farther was a large pile of brown leather, near by was a folded canvas with folded blankets in it and a plush soft pillow on the blankets. Thirty feet away was a woman's skirt, torn to tatters, also a pair of shoes. He cut the valise open and found it filled with woman's clothing and various toilet articles. From appearance it seemed as though the woman had been exposed there five days. He went to town. The handkerchief was marked with a V, but Mr. Ellsworth could find nothing to indicate to whom the outfit belonged. It was eight miles from the nearest trail and 40 miles from the nearest habitation. In the midst of a perfect wilderness.

DELEGATES TO CONGRESS.

Gov. Gooding has announced the following list of appointments as delegates to the American Mining congress at El Paso, Tex., Nov. 14. J. W. Althoff, I. N. Sullivan, J. J. Denning, Charles S. Hiltrod, A. B. Cruse, T. J. Jones, August Paulsen, E. H. Moffatt, F. Steadman, Al Page, R. W. McBride, W. O. Page, Lyttleton Price, E. R. Dewey.

REBUILDING STARTS UP AT MONTPELIER.

Special Correspondence.
MONTPELIER, Ida., Oct. 12.—The debris caused by the fire which occurred in this city on the morning of the 2nd inst. is rapidly being cleared away and while it is very doubtful that some of the business houses will be built, it is certain that other and more substantial buildings than those destroyed by the fire will be erected.

Wedel and Hughtart, the proprietors of the Exchange saloon, and Riley Burkhardt, one of the city's leading brewers, whose lots just had, decided to erect a double two-story brick building and have the excavation for the same under way. Weather permitting, they contemplate completing the block this fall.

It is estimated that the loss sustained by the fire not covered by insurance will amount to about $2,000. William Hughes being the heaviest loser, his being about $1,000. There is much speculation as to the origin of the fire, but it is most generally conceded that it was caused through gross carelessness, and while no one likes to see the property of another destroyed, it is public opinion that the fire, though destructive, will be very beneficial to the town.

The city council and mayor have called a special election to be held Oct. 20 for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors and taxpayers of the city the question of bonding the city for the purpose of constructing, acquiring and maintaining a system of water works, a proposition which has been agitated for several years past, but the city has not found it expedient to undertake the same. The city council and the farmers do not feel to relinquish their rights to them for the purpose of maintaining a system of water works, as there is not enough water for the farmers and water works. It may be possible a bitter fight will ensue.

Both private and public buildings are being pushed with vigor and many new residences and business blocks have been commenced and are nearing completion.

The work on the Pacific canal is progressing rather slowly, but the directors are in hopes of securing more teams during the fall and winter, and thus prosecute the labor with greater vigor, and hope to have water in it some time during the coming season.

The health of the people is good, save a few colds which are not serious, and all in all the people have enjoyed a most prosperous season.

RICKS ACADEMY AT REXBURG, IDA.

Special Correspondence.
REXBURG, Idaho, Oct. 12.—School opened at the academy Monday, Sept. 25. Appropriate services were held in the auditorium at 10 o'clock, the rest of the day being spent in registration. At the opening exercises remarks were made by the state presidency, Principal Christian, and members of the faculty. A vocal solo by Miss May Anderson was enjoyed by all present.

Prospects for a successful season's work are very bright. A record-breaking attendance is expected, and additions to the teaching corps, and to the general supplies of the school will aid in advancing the efficiency of the institution.

The Academy Sunday school was organized Thursday, Oct. 5. The first session was held on Sunday, Oct. 8. The school's work will consist of a course of lectures during the fall and winter, and thus prosecute the labor with greater vigor, and hope to have water in it some time during the coming season.

GREAT ACTIVITY AT SUGAR CITY.

Special Correspondence.
SUGAR CITY, Oct. 12.—The sugar factory here is now running at its full capacity of 800 tons per day, and the likelihood is that that will be exceeded, as the beets are coming in, in stupendous fashion. It will not be too much to say that next winter here and at the sub station at Parker will receive 50,000 tons during the month of October. Word has been received here that Mr. Hageneyer of New York, general manager of the Sugar Trust, will be here on Sunday or Monday to inspect the plant. They could not have chosen a better time, for everything is running in better shape order.

DON'T USE POOR OIL.

For use on sewing machines, bicycles and all purposes requiring a fine lubricant the best is cheaply to be had. Genuine Singer oil can only be obtained at Singer stores. Look for the red S, 43 South Main St., Salt Lake City, Utah.
