Blaine's Reply.

INDIANAPOLIS, 20.—In the Blaine libel suit in the District Court this afternoon, Blaine's attorney filed the following answer to the interrogatories pronounced by the Sentinel's attorneys on September 15th:

"I, James G. Blaine, of Augusta, Maine, on oath, depose and say in answer to the foregoing interrogatories:—

First.—Barrie B. Shawwood.

Second.—In Georgetown, Kentucky, in the Spring of 1874.

Third.—I lived in Kentucky as an assistant professor, or tutor, in the West-

Fourth—The lady I married lived in Kentucky from the Spring of 1848 to the Spring of 1850, engaged as a teacher in Col. T. F. Johnson's Female Seminary—the first and second years at Georgetown, the last year at Millersburg.

thence directly to Augusta, Maine, where I reached on February 9, 1852, and was next employed as principal teacher in the Pennsylvania Institution for the instruction of the blind in Philadelphia.

Six months later I left Kentucky in March 1851, accompanied by myself as far as Pittsburg, Pa., thence traveled alone to New York, where she was met by her brother, Jacob Stanwood, and under his protection proceeded to her mother's residence in Augusta, Me., where I next joined her February 9th, 1852.

From the month of eighth and ninth, I was

Of June, 1850, in the presence of Sarah C. Stanwood and S. L. Blaine. The marriage was secret. Having doubts as to the validity of the marriage under the laws of Kentucky which then stringently required a license from the clerk of the county court, I had the marriage solemnized a second time in Pittsburg, Pa., the 29th of March, 1851, in the presence of J. V. Lamoyne and David Bell.

Tenth and Eleventh—Jacob Stanwood was the oldest brother of my wife. I had no acquaintance with him directly or indirectly, before my marriage. I met him for the first time in February, 1852. I had two letters from him after my marriage and there were no more. I was becoming more and more a member of the family, and the other inquiring if he could promote my business by a loan of money. I had no money, and he was not a business man. I had personally met him in February, 1852. My wife had two other brothers, neither of whom I had ever met when I came to New England in 1851. I had no other relatives and no male relatives of my wife before my arrival in New England in 1852.

Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth.—My first visit to the house of my father's grandfather on the 15th day of June, 1851. His name was

Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth.—My first visit to the house of my father's grandfather on the 15th day of June, 1851. His name was

Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth—A monument was placed by my direction over his grave the year after his death, thus inscribed: "Stanwood Blaine, son of James G. and Harriet S. Blaine, born June 18, 1851, died July 31, 1884."

Eighteenth—I have not myself seen the stone since the first week in June, but have reason to believe that since that date many letters and figures entirely removed. I have no means of ascertaining by whom this was done, but have reason to believe, and do believe that a photograph was taken of the defaced stone by the procurement of one of the publishers of the New Age, a Democratic paper published in this city, and that copies of said photograph were sent to divers and sundry persons, including the publishers of the Indianapolis Sentinel, the defendant in this suit.

Twenty-second and Twenty-third—I know the book referred to as the "Life of James G. Blaine." I did not revise the volume nor become in any degree responsible for any statement made in it, though I saw parts of it before publication, but I did not and have not to there was no doubtless derived by the author, Rofeli H. Connell, from conversations with me, but not from any special authorization by me to make.

(Signed) JAMES G. BLAINE,
United States of America, District of Maine, S. S.

Before me, Winfield S. Choate, Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the United States in and for said district, personally appeared James G. Blaine and subscribed and made oath to the truth of the foregoing answer.

Witness my hand and official seal at Augusta in the said district, the 17th

Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four.

[Signed] WINFIELD S. CHOATE,
Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the United States in and for the District of Maine.

The following are the first seven interrogatories propounded to Blaine by the Sentin 1.

First—What was the maiden name of your wife?

Second—When and where did you make her acquaintance?

Third—State whether you ever lived in the State of Kentucky; if so, in what employment you were engaged

Fourth—State whether the person whom you afterwards married lived in Kentucky at that time. In what county, place she was engaged and at what place she was engaged.

Fifth—State when you finally left Kentucky, if at any time you resided there, where you went therefrom, where you were next employed, and in what business or calling.

Sixth—If you answer that the maiden name of your wife was Harriet Kenwood, state when she finally left Kentucky, where she went, with whom and when, and where you next met her.

The following is the 32nd interrogatory: Did you communicate to the author of said book, for his use in such work, the time and place of your marriage as aforesaid?

New York, 20.—Blaine received great ovation at the headquarters of the National committee, to-night. Fifth Avenue from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-ninth streets was crowded with 15,000 people. Long before 9 o'clock the hour appointed for Blaine's intro-

Although carbolic acid is so efficacious, there are some who object to its use. It smells rather strongly, and many persons are thereby prevented from using it. It is a pity on this account to be robbed of its advantages; and such persons would do well to try and educate themselves to the smell. However, it is better to breathe an unpleasant and pure atmosphere than a pleasant but unhealthy and dangerous one. The smell of pure carbolic is much more easily borne than that of crude carbolic; and we would recommend the use of the purest carbolic procurable, diluted with eight or ninety per cent of water, or mixed with the same pure vegetable glycerine. It is difficult for the chemist, trained and accustomed to use offensive and unwholesome materials in the laboratory, to understand how any person can retain a strong dislike to the comparatively sweet smell of carbolic acid. — *Am. who want glossy, luxuriant and wavy tresses of abundant, beautiful Hair must use LYON'S KATHALIRON. This elegant, cheap article always makes the Hair grow freely and fast, keeps it from falling out, arrests and cures grayness, removes dandruff and itching, makes the Hair strong, giving it a curling tendency and keeping it in any desired position. Beautiful, healthy Hair is the sure result of using Kathaliron.
