BALFOUR'S BILL

For Land Purchase in Ireland and the Improvement of Land,

Fee Land Furchase in Ireland and the Improvement of Land.
LoxDox, March 24.—Reliour introduced a bill for the purchase of land in the land and for the improvement in reland and for the improvement in reland and for the improvement in reland and protributed distributed in the provides for the catalities of provides for the catalities formation of a land department. Bullour selffind in proposing the formation of a land department the complex mining of the question presented itself.
There were now no fower than five bodies for the valuation and sale of land. The bill proposed an amalgamation of these into one body. Regaeding the question, "Ought the land purchase bill to be compulsary?" the government answered no. Compulsion should be used most squaringly (ironless Irish cheers), but when pushfield by neceasing it should be applied. Compulsion could not be one-sided. If they compalled landlords to self, they young force benauts to boy. A most cogent reason against compulsion was that they could not make the bill compolery without applying it to the whole of Irishand. The of the voters, hat was festitious, precompelled innifords to sell, they must force tenunits to buy. A most cogent reason against computeion was that they could not make the bill compolery without applying it to the whole of Ireland. The government saw no possibility of capital that can be aggregated in such an enormous transaction as

Sherman opposed it as not in har-mony with the bill, as projecting a tax which could not originate in the Senate, and as not having been considered by the committee. He also appead Rengaria amendment. Stewart said the bill was incon-testable.

Sherman replic. and the Standard Oil Company has been originally organized with a modest capital of $200,000, but there were forty or fifty companies in other States combined with it. He had been in favor of a general law declaring certain contracts and modified his preportion to meet the views of others, who thought he was going too far, and now his objection to the bill was its weakness, but it was a weakness drawn into the bill by objections made in the Senate.

THE MAJORITY REPORT.

Arisona; to authorize Ogden, Utah, to assume increased indebetiques.

The Senate bill coding public, and to California and other State, in aid of irrigation of dry and aridiand, was reported tack from the Commissioner on Public Lands adversely, and indefinitely postponed.

Several petitions against the rational series of the senate committee on privileges and relections upon the motion and that he would some more raise the question as to their presentation in open assession. After deep but the point of order was withdrawn for the time being.

Sherman's anti-true bill was taken up, and Turpes discussed the constitutional points.

George opposed the amendment offered by Heagan, being and selection that the work of the bill, sithough he was not sanguine of its accomplishing its purpose. Unless the Sinkes took for the bill, sithough he was not sanguine of its accomplishing its purpose. Unless the Sinkes took for the bill, sithough he was not capital that can be significant of capital that can be significantly supported by the price of farm products, a thing which he regarded as most desirable and as alsestately essential to the property of the country. He was a transmitted by Senate Presented the mandator of the majority portugation.

The majority report of the majority presented and the value of the majority presented and the majority report of the majority and Majority and Majority and the majority distribution was presented to the result in any corporation, the trouble would apply to the National Farmers' Alliance and the National respects, and claimed that it felicit to affect any adequate reminery.

Sherman said that if the duty on cetton or weelen cloths was too low be peaked the manufactures of Massachusetts, not a month or a day would be allowed to pass before Hoar would demand a remedy in the way of mising the duty. Here was a remedy for a greater wrong than any that resulted from law tariff. The farmers' associations throughout the country could not remove the source of the evil, but they demand and to be foard. The power of Congress was the only power that could deal with these corporations, whether the Standard Oil Company was not a corporation under the law of Ohio, and whether the legislature of that State could not annul it chatter.

Sherman replies and the Standard Oil Company had been originally organized with a modest capital of $200,000, but there were first ye fifty companies in other States combined with it. He had been in favor of a general law declaring certain.

Justice Miller concurred with some heestalation in the judgment of the court. He was of the opinion that the legislature, or the commissioner appointed by it, had a right to establish rates, but where unjust rakes were fixed the parties aggreed had a right to appeal to the courts. The railreads should have a right to be heard, and, as the superme court of Minnesota refused this, the case, in his opinion, should be reversed on the ground that this is denial of due process of law.
