

SOCIETY

SOCIAL NIGHT

THE usual holiday dearth of social affairs has been in evidence this week, preparations for Christmas absorbing chief attention and effort. Few home affairs have been given, nearly all of them small functions in the way of luncheons, dinners, etc., a few teas, bridge and otherwise, being scattered among them. From now until after New Year's day, events promise to be few, but the usual reaction then will make up for their absence. The cheer and festivity attending the Christmas makes sufficient entertainment for the hosts and the formal affairs naturally are relegated to the more empty days. Between Christmas and New Year a few items are scheduled to take place, but these are mostly of an informal nature.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker entertained about a dozen guests at dinner on Wednesday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse, the table being decorated in American Beauty roses and the same flowers being all about the house. The guests to meet Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse were Mrs. Walter G. Eiler, Mrs. J. Frank Judge, Miss Katherine Geddes, J. A. Pollock, C. W. Whitley and Mr. Townsend.

Mrs. Seth Warner Morrison has issued invitations for a reception, to be given Thursday afternoon, Dec. 20, at the University club, in honor of Miss Iona Morrison and Mrs. George Keyser.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lamb will entertain at dinner on Christmas night.

The Misses Daly gave a theater party on Wednesday at "The Sign of the Cross" their guests being Mrs. John C. Daly, Miss Louise Sullivan, Miss Stella McIntyre, Miss Mildred McMillan, Miss Elizabeth McMillan and Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. L. L. Savage gave a matinee party at the Orpheum this afternoon.

Miss Jennie But God's entertained her sewing club yesterday.

Mr. J. A. Pollock gave an elaborate supper at the Alta club on Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Peabody entertained at an informal musicale on Wednesday night.

Mrs. Leonard M. Bailey has issued invitations for two parties to be given next week, a musicale Tuesday afternoon and a vaudeville affair on Thursday.

This week witnessed the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jensen of this city and the occasion was celebrated in two enjoyable social affairs at their home, where a large number were entertained. Addresses of congratulation were made, Mr. Joseph L. Morris acting as toastmaster, and the responses given by President Joseph F. Smith, Counselor Lund, Joseph L. Riggall, Chairman, Joseph E. Taylor, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells and others. Complimentary remarks were made in regard to Mr. Jensen's labors as Church historian, and letters of congratulation were read from absent friends who could not be present in person. A sumptuous dinner was served, nearly 20 guests sitting at the board. Among the guests were members of the first presidency and other officials of the Seventeenth ward, with Mrs. Hathseba Smith and other prominent women. The affair was most pleasurable to all present.

Last night the senior class at the U. of U. gave their annual dance, the affair taking place in the Museum building and the event being, as usual, most enjoyable.

Mrs. H. C. Brownlee was hostess at a bridge tea on Wednesday, the affair being the first of a series. The others will take place in the week following Christmas.

On Wednesday night a club of young people who are studying Mexican history with Mrs. Susan Y. Gates met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spencer and besides the usual Mexican entertainment by a number of Mexican songs by Miss Emma Lucy Gates. Refreshments were served afterward.

A number of Salt Lake people went up to Centerville last night to attend the Rich-Strong wedding, among them Miss Jean Spencer, Miss Hazel Hansen, Miss Lea Farr, Russell Rosseter and Jacob Emery.

Miss Hazel Hansen entertained her club on Thursday night.

Mrs. B. F. Bauer was hostess at a card party on Tuesday given in honor of her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Beck of St. Louis, the rooms being decorated with American Beauty roses and pink and white carnations with smiles and ferns, and about 30 guests being entertained. Mrs. George Morrow and Mrs. J. E. Barnes were prize winners.

Miss Ina Rudy entertained her Sewing club on Monday.

Miss Rosemond Ritchie entertained a few of her girl friends informally this afternoon.

Mrs. A. H. Mayne entertained delightfully this afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Mabry.

Mrs. George Keyser entertained at an informal tea yesterday, her room being effectively decorated and a number of intimate friends assisting in entertaining.

Mrs. W. W. Armstrong entertained the "500" club on Monday, the prizes in the contest going to Mrs. A. Fred Wey and Mrs. L. L. Downing.

Mrs. R. D. Gennill entertained her green, carnations and ferns and green candles being used with pretty effect. The guests were Mrs. Mary S. Horne, Mrs. T. Whitney, Mrs. A. S. Horne, Mrs. W. P. Pyper, Misses Daisy Raymond, Hattie Whitney, Hetta Pyper, Lorilla Horne and Genevieve Pyper.

On Monday night Mrs. A. C. Pyper gave a box party at the Salt Lake Theater in honor of Mr. H. J. Woolcott and Miss Margaret Woolcott, her other guests being Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Horne and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Woolley.

An event in both social as well as musical circles of the week was the symphony orchestra concert at the Salt Lake Theater yesterday, society being out in force to enjoy the delightful affair. From present evidences, these concerts promise to become the popular affairs they should be and each one is greeted with greater interest than the last. Yesterday a score of parties were given and in many instances dinners and teas followed the concert.

The bachelor officers at the Fort will give a hop there on New Year's night.

About 25 guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. King on Thursday night in celebration of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. King, a dinner being followed by cards and music, and a general good time. Addresses of congratulation were made by James Hogle, Mrs. Sydney King and J. Hartenstein.

June of next year. The requests for such collections of pictures so far exceed the resources of the committee that new exhibits are to be made, the co-operation of artists in the work being one of the most encouraging features of the efforts of the committee. The outlook committee, Alice G. Fletcher, chairman, urges upon the clubwomen of the country the protection of bird life and asks them to pledge themselves not to wear wings or albatrosses.

Miss Arvilla Clark is expected to arrive from Europe shortly in company with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Grant, in time to spend the holidays with relatives. Mr. Willard Andelin also returns with them.

Mrs. Mary S. Horne and Mrs. A. C. Pyper left on Wednesday for Los Angeles where the latter joins her husband, who is already there. Mrs. Horne will remain with her daughter till after the holidays, and Mr. and Mrs. Pyper will make their home there.

With Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Meeklenburg and Miss Katherine Wall of this city.
